ST. PAT'S DAY AT M. S. M.

History tells us that St. Patrick lived in the fifth century, A. D., and that he did much toward converting Ireland, then a Pagan land, to christianity. He was a hard worker, and no mean diplomat. That he was successful is shown by the fact that he received the co-operation of the numerous petty kings of the country, and that he built several churches and shrines on the island.

Popular tradition has it that St. Patrick drove all the snakes out of Ireland, but biological science could possibly prove that such credit is not due him. Engineering tradition has it that he was actually the designer and builder of the churches erected in Ireland in his day, and it is also entirely possible that a close examination of records would disprove this belief. But at this time we are not concerned with the demerits of these beliefs. They have been sufficient to place St. Patrick and the Emerald Green of Ireland as one of the most popular of the Saints. These traditions are accepted over the world, and the Shamrock is worn on March 17th in honor of him. He is accepted as the Patron Saint of Engineers.

How long the engineers have actually held a celebration in his honor is hard to ascertain, but we do know that within the past few years the various engineering schools of the United States have organized what is now known after passing thru the inevitable vicissitudes, as "The Association of Collegiate Engineers." The schools in this organization observe St. Patrick's Day after some appropriate fashion, and all dub their Seniors "Knights of the Order of St. Patrick."

As to St. Pat's Day at M. S. M. we have the actual facts to present:

Early in March, 1908, the Engineers of Missouri University sent an invitation to the Engineers at M. S. M. to send a delegate to Columbia to take part in the St. Patrick's Day celebration. After a heated discussion at an unofficial meeting held down town the following Saturday, J. H. Bowles, '08, was elected as the delegate. The crowd, however, was not content to let

JUST JONES.

Just Jones, the latest production of the M. S. M. Players, was critically reviewed by a representative Rolla audience on last Monday night at its initial presentation, and pronounced a success in every respect.

One could not want more action in a play than was manifested in this one, to say nothing of the clever lines recited.

Immediately after the performance the Junior Class proved its appreciation of the good work of the Players and of their help toward the class by inducing the cast and its assistants to a free-for-all banquet at the Students Cafe. Too, it is reported that it was also in honor of Prof. Armsby's birthday.

Prof. Armsby opened the talks of the banquet with one of his moss-covered jokes, as follows: "This is the best birthday I've had this year," whereupon he sat down in a chair of water, consequently wetting his trousers, notwithstanding.

Ires. Jankosky then arose and informed the whole world that the same play would be again executed on Friday afternoon, March 16th, at 2:30 o'clock, and that after that performance the Missouri Miner would tell every one how cozy Miss Campbell was, how clever Miss Marion was, and how wonderful Mr. Pem Gordon was, etc.

After thousands of club sandwiches had been devoured the party broke up when some one hollered "Better Gravy in Bigger Bowls."

OH! THAT BOWERY DANCE.

Two weeks after the splendor of St. Pat's is over, and sober ideas are again in vogue, the Miner wishes to start the Studes on their road from convalescence with one of the peppiest and snappiest dances of the year. And why not? The Bowery Orchestra, from the best old Bowery in the world, with all of the "fluttle" notes and wierd runs possible, will be there with jazz from head to foot. And with them will be Stuffy, Hard Boiled, Dip, Larry the Cat, and others, so why not come out and meet the gang in true old Bowery style.

And here's a tip: Why not, when she is wrapped up in St. Pat's charms, etc., just whisper in that beautiful ear the prosperous idea to come back

ST. PAT ON WAY TO ROLLA.

Again we find history repeating itself. St. Pat will be here in person Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The Frisco notified the Junior Class that the Grand Palace car had been swept out for the annual visit of the Patron Saint of Engineers, and all is in readiness for His Majesty St. Patrick. The venerable gentleman has had one of his special agents in Rolla for some time endeavoring to locate the lost Blarney Stone, which has been missing since the last celebration in Rolla. Nothing has been heard of the lost "osculation donix," and it seems that unless a stroke of genius reveals the vagrant stone's hiding place, the Seniors must go unknighthed.

The floats this year bid fair to be the best yet seen at the Missouri School of Mines. The Frosh and Sophs have been working hard to get their ideas into concrete evidence of genius, and the prizes to be offered the best floats have stimulated the efforts of the best engineers of the school. The Frosh, with but a few exceptions, went out for the traditional shillelah Sunday, and brought in many prize specimens.

The program for the events which take place during the celebration will follow this order:

Thursday.

House parties open with dance.

Friday.

- 9:45 Start Parade.
- 10:00 Arrival of St. Patrick, via the Frisco.
- 10:45 Knighting of the Seniors.
- 2:30 Play, "Just Jones," Parker Hall.
- 9:00 Ba Masque, Jackling Gymnasium.

Saturday.

- 9:00 P. M. Junior Class Dance, Jackling Gymnasium.

again on March 30th for another such good time.

Try a wonderful dance, typical of the Bowery itself, and so marvelous that you can't afford to miss it. Tickets will be on sale in the near future. Get your date now, while she's with you.

Fred (Hop) Lane has the honor of being connected with one of the best departments in the school. The Chem. department is noted for giving the student a square deal, and always has its grades posted before the other departments—only two weeks late. Then, too, they never do anything to you for smoking in the Chem. Labs, unless you are caught. Well, Fred has nothing to do with putting out grades, or any other of the above things; he is in charge of the stock room, but he does not charge anything; he takes it out of your contingent fee. If we did not have to wait an hour at the stock room for some red end points of blue methol orange, we would not appreciate the good points of the Chem. department.

Fred has the sweetest disposition, until he gets mad. He gets mad so easily, too. There was no reason for his using all the curses, maledictions and anathomas he poured out on a freshman merely because the freshman handed him a hot test tube.

We have nothing against Iky Kahlbaum, and must admit he watches the finances of the school with great care, but if Fred Lane were the business manager, the school would not only be on a paying basis, but the stock would be $100 above par.

John Hancock Said:—

(IN 1774)

I HAVE ever considered it as the indispensable duty of every member of society to promote, as far as in him lies, the prosperity of every individual, but more especially of the community in which he belongs."

Life insurance is inseparably bound up with the prosperity of every individual, family and community. It is a secure and prosperous business and satisfactory to the salesman in every way.

The JOHN HANCOCK would like to interest a few ambitious men who graduate this year to make JOHN HANCOCK selling their life work.

Statistics on college graduates who have entered life insurance place it at the very top as a source of income. Before making a decision as to your career it would be well to make inquiries of the "Agency Department."

With reference to your editorial of March 5th, entitled "The Glee Club," permit me to take a few exceptions.

In the first place, we learn that the M. S. M. Glee Club has accomplished nothing whatever since its existence but take a name for itself. This organization—though dormant through the past semester, it is admitted, owing to unforeseen conditions arising—boasts of no great accomplishments whatever, but we do maintain that last year, through the efforts of Doctor Turner, a substantial nucleus for the M. S. M. Glee Club was formed, and this small nucleus—we have been informed on several occasions—then presented a reasonably creditable showing.

Secondly, we are informed that "During this semester an organization of the town undertook to back the glee club financially only." When and where, may we ask, did this "organization of the town" approach the M. S. M. Glee Club with any such proposition, unless the posting of false M. S. M. Glee Club notices is to be construed as an interpretation of the above undertaking? Backers—surely we want backers, and plenty of them, but let's go about it the right way when we do the backing. If you have any ideas or suggestions to make, we'll be tickled to death to get hold of them, so come up to the next Glee Club meeting and tell them to the bunch—don't advertise them by yourself beforehand.

Lastly, we hear that the Glee Club "appears to be without a director who is suitable to all concerned." We wish to announce that we have a director, and we have a good one, and that the above statement as it stands remains a very unnecessary and untrue personal reflection on the merits of Professor Rankin, who has been sincere enough to promise us his very best efforts.

Now, let's cut out wrangling. Come on out and help us all work together. Lastly, don't forget the forthcoming V. F. W. Big Minstrel Show.

ONE OF THE GLEE CLUB.

Editor's Note: The editorial as written did not in any way reflect upon the merits of Professor Rankin. It only intended to present a common consensus of opinion, and we cannot be responsible for the misconstruing of our statements. The policy of the Miner is to present unbiased opinions, and will continue to be the same.

ASSETS OR LIABILITIES?

Has the Vocational Student been an asset or a liability to the City of Rolla and the Missouri School of Mines?

There may be a few people in Rolla that do not know just what a Vocational Student is. To enlighten them we wish to state that a Vocational Student is a disabled ex-service man who is being trained under Government supervision. By this training the Government trusts that it may be able to rehabilitate these men into gainful occupations, and make them self-supporting. By so doing they will make assets and not liabilities out of them.

We have heard the remark passed that they were a nuisance, and that the people would be glad when they had left the town. It is true that some of them may make themselves obnoxious, but as a whole we are of the opinion that they will make very good and useful citizens, and the training they are receiving will make them better able to care for themselves and families.

We doubt very much if the party that passed the above remark was even in service, or put out any more money than they had to to help win the war, for if they had been in the thick of things, and carried away the disabilities that some of these men have, they would be letting forth a howl that could be heard around the world.

In conclusion, let us give just a few facts and figures, to see whether they are an asset or a liability.

There are 188 men in training in Rolla, either at the School of Mines or in the city. They receive in round numbers $300,000.00 per year, every dime of which is spent, in one form or other with the people of Rolla. The School of Mines receives $55,000 for tuition, which in turn is paid to the instructors, and they having to live, also spend their money in Rolla. Outside of this there is spent about $7,500 per year for books and other supplies, making a grand total of $362,500.00 put into the town every year.

Now, please answer me this: Are the Vocational students an asset or a liability?

Dull—What do you like about her?"

Droll—"My arms."

—Green Gander.

"Just one more kiss, hon!"

"No!" She pushed him away. "The street car goes by our house at twelve o'clock, and its eleven already."

—Malteaser.

LEGION DANCE A SUCCESS.

The American Legion dance at K. of P. hall last Friday night was a complete success. Rain and various conflicting events failed to prevent a hundred couples from attending and thoroughly enjoying the first entertainment of its kind given by Martin F. Bowles Post No. 76.

Red hot music by the Varsity Orchestra proved equally effective for the modern dances and for the old-fashioned square dances, of which there were several. Other distinctive novelties in the evening's program were: A violin solo, Liebesfreund, by Kreisler, by Linzer, of the Varsity Orchestra; a few old-time favorite "Moonlight Melodies," sung by the light of a crescent moon, by the Legion quartette (W. O. Keeling, Crutcher, Sanderson and Guy, and several spot-light waltzes, with confetti and trimmings, especially the trimmings. All these features were well received. The lighting effects added much to the occasion, and were deservedly popular.

The dancers all enjoyed a lunch served by the Pythian Sisters. Check room service was efficiently rendered by the same organization. Floor space proved amply sufficient, and the baby checking accommodations equally satisfactory.

Although the dancers reluctantly departed, with the orchestra, at 2 A. M., it was quite five o'clock before those in charge felt that the hall had sufficiently cooled to be safely locked up and left.

VOCATES.

Rex Morris, Earl Parker and W. A. Coffman had a very exciting trip to St. James, by way of Cuba, last Sunday. Any one desiring information as to the route, see Rex.

For the correct definitions of the following expressions: Monkeywrench tall timber, cypress brakes and dense forests see "Monk" Bratcher.

We regret to state that we intended to run a cut this week of a well known Cave-man in action, but as the cut is not finished at present it will be run next week.

"Kippo" Vaughn and Emmet Mitchell were called to St. Louis last week by the Federal Board for physical examination.

The "Cat's Paw" Club is making ready for their first trip to Jerome this year. The boys are looking forward to a fine trip, and are expecting to eat considerable fresh fish before they return. Applications for club membership may be obtained from any of the following members: Lancaster, McKeown, Nelson, Schremp, Berry, Elliott and Morris. Gordon Williams, "Red" Williams and Alfred Chatillon were automatically expelled when they became married men, and the club is expecting to lose Berry at an early date. Any "Vocate" desiring to become a member will find that initiation fee is small, the club house is good, but the initiation is worse.

While checking the train in last Wednesday Lee Elliott almost suffered heart failure when he saw a woman descend the steps of the car, but recovered a little later to find it was just another case of mistaken identity.

Harry Osborn has been found in the vicinity of the High School several times lately. We wonder who the attraction is?

A meeting of the Vocational Class as a whole was called last Tuesday night, and a very interesting talk was made by Coordinator Lum, in which he brought forth some very good points in regard to placement training. In addition he gave the men who will finish this spring some excellent advice. Following his speech President Schneeberger took charge of the meeting, and Dave Kimble was elected manager of the baseball team, which will enter the Ozark League series. There was only one thing lacking to make it a perfect evening, and that was that the long expected wedding cigars from Alfred Chatillon were promised, but not delivered.

We understand that Dewey Fox was the victim of a foul conspiracy last week. He had a date with a young lady, but was left at the post in a cruel manner. While standing on a corner a few minutes later he saw the young lady roll by in a borrowed new car, driven by another.

R. O. Brown is expecting to be transferred to another vocation—because of an increase in his disability.

C. W. Thatcher was in St. Louis one day last week in consultation with some of the representatives of the Federal Board.

William D. Will, of the Thirty-fifth Division has been added to the Highway Cass.

Laurence A. Cassil has accepted a position with the State Highway Commission of Missouri as an assistant engineer.

W. C. Davis has been offered a transfer but has not yet decided to accept.

Several of the boys who spent the week end in St. Louis report a pleasant trip.

Our ball players are working out every day, and are expecting to cop the prize this year. We wish them the best of luck.

"TRUTH" is a wonderful thing, seldom used by some, and never used by others.

Pet White reports that the rat that has caused him so much worry and loss of sleep has at last been killed.

C. J. Bailen and the fair sex, have both returned from St. Louis.—Looks suspicious "Jimmie."

ACCENTUATED.

Harold: "That soprano had a large repertoire."

Maggie: "Ain't it the truth, now, and now since you speak of it, her dress only made it look worse."

—WhoDoo.

Young hopeful, aged sixteen, called up Georgette, a college widow of long standing, age twenty-four, and asked for a date. "Indeed not," she said. "I can't go out with a baby!"

"Please pardon me," he replied. "I didn't know—"

—Widow.

Senior: I saw a Cow on the Campus.

Freshman: What was she doing?

Senior: Looking for her cow-boy.

Freshman: That sounds like Bull to me.

HOUSE PARTIES.

True to the precedent established in former years all of the Fraternities and Clubs are giving house parties to make the St. Pat's celebration a bigger and better festival. Not only do these house parties furnish centralized gayety for the members of the respective organizations, but also, by their open house program on one afternoon, do they offer the guests a pleasant means of becoming acquainted with each other, and with the men of the other fraternities and clubs. The guests at the different houses follow:

Bonanza Club.

PROF. NUTTING SPEAKS.

N. C. Nutting, Professor of Zoology at Iowa State University, addressed the student body at Mass Meeting last Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Having recently returned from a scientific expedition to the South Seas, he spoke at length of the people who inhabited these islands. His clever wit added a great deal to the talk, and as a whole it was extremely interesting. To most of us it presented a different idea as to the life of the much-talked of South Sea islanders. In these islands Professor Nutting stated the theory of communism was clearly in vogue, and was working at a fair advantage.

E. G. INTER-FRATERNITY
FUDGE PARTY.

The Behner sisters were receiving last Sunday night, but apparently they knew nothing about it.

It all happened in this manner: A pleasantly musical, feminine voice on one end of the phone system caused connections to be made with several of the fraternity houses for the purpose of extending an invitation to a
"fudge party" to a couple of members of the respective houses. Said "fudge party" to be held at the home of the popular Behner sisters. Well, everybody who was invited proceeded to get all sicked up for the occasion, and everybody seemed to be rather enviously evasive when approached as to

Sweet Papa

the occasion for said "slicing-up."
They came in pairs from every direction, and lo and behold, the house was in darkness—not a soul was to be heard nor seen.

After some deliberation on the part of the would-be guests it was unanimously decided that there had been some mistake, so they journeyed wearily toward, and after due time they made use of the telephone, and were greeted with news which proved to them, without doubt, that the affair had been a "frame-up."

It has been said by several of the "selected ones" that it was their unbiased and collective opinion that the
"frame-up" was the work of "hard

BULLARD-GRISWOLD.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Campbell takes great pleasure in announcing the marriage of Miss Naomi Bullard daughter of Mrs. M. W. Bullard, to Edw. H. Griswold, on Feb. 15, at Steelville, Mo., by the Reverend C. L. Martin.

FRED L. MATLACK.

POSITION OPEN.

This office is in need of a draftsman and two designers.

It is necessary for the draftsman to be a neat letterer and have a knowledge of reading and plotting notes. The designer will be required to have some knowledge of laying grade lines, balancing and computing quantities, and any other work necessary toward getting up a set of road plans.

I would greatly appreciate it if you would recommend some men who finished this year, or who are finishing their Junior year that might be interested in this class of work, who you think will be able to handle this job.

Kindly give me their names, experience, and at what time they can report, together with what salary they will expect.

"What is your idea of the tightest man in college?"

"The guy who won't take a shower because they soak you too much."

—Yale Record.

"Was Jack heartbroken when you jilted him?"

"I should say not. He was perfectly horrid."

"What did he do?"

"When I gave back the ring he took a little file out of his pocket and made a notch on the inside."

"What was horrid about that?"

"There were five notches in it already."

—Lampoon.

Oswald: I know my big brother is stronger than yours.

Percy: He ain't; my big brother can lift a hundred pounds.

Oswald: Shucks, that ain't nothin'. I heard my big brother say that he brought a little mule home from college on his hip.

MINER WRESTLERS DEFEAT WASHINGTON U.

Meeker Only Washington Man to Win a Match.

The Miners administered their second defeat to the Washington University grapplers last Friday night, the entire team outclassing their opponents in fine style.

"Spoof" Walker, of the 115-lb. class, opened with an easy win over Levy, of Washington, with two falls. The first came after 5 minutes, 28 seconds, with a half Nelson and an arm lock, while the second fall came in two seconds' less time with a similar hold. "Spoof" had little difficulty with his man, whose only wrestling talent seemed to be clinging to the mat face down.

The second match seemed to be the most challenged one of the entire six. In the 125-lb. class Martin won from Brewer, of Washington, after three hotly contested rounds, calling for another three-minute period to decide the winner. Brewer was given the decision of the first round, but Martin came back sufficiently to call a draw on the second. The third and the extra period were clearly Martin's sessions, after which he was awarded the popular decision. Neither man gained a fall.

Lotta, of Washington, in the 135-lb. class, showed more talent at dancing about the ring than at wrestling, and lost to Richardson by two falls. "Mutchie" succeeded in chasing Lotta down after several minutes of fast moving, and threw him easily with a wrist and head lock, after 5 minutes, 6 seconds. In the second round Lotta succeeded in getting a scissor on Richardson, which he held for fully two minutes, after which "Mutchie" shook himself loose and pinned Lotta to the mat with the same hold and a half Nelson, after 5 minutes and 51 seconds.

Captain Meeker, of the Washington squad, took the 145-lb. class match from Schramm, after a decision and a fall. Meeker was easily the star of his squad, and showed as much wrestling knowledge and ability as has any previous visitor. Schramm put up a game fight, and on several occasions held Meeker with dangerous holds. Meeker's fall came in the second round, after 2 minutes and 3 seconds, with a double arm lock.

Garr, of the Miners, made a farce out of the 175-lb. class by pommeling Schlettler about the mat at will, winning two straight falls with an arm lock and body scissors. The first fall came after 3 minutes 33 seconds, and the second after 3 minutes 47 seconds. Garr showed considerable improvement in form since the Oklahoma meet and is a valuable man on the squad.

In the final match, that of the 153-lb. class, Captain Bishop of the Miners demonstrated some real wrestling work by defeating Yawitz by two straight falls, each coming in 1 minute 34 seconds, with a half hammer and an arm lock. Bishop deserves credit for winning of the entire meet, as in addition to winning his own matches has ably coached the remainder of the squad to victory.

Commack, heavyweight of the Miners, was idle during this meet, because of Washington's inability to produce an opponent for him.

THE M. S. M. PLAYERS ELECT OFFICERS.

At a recent meeting of the M. S. M. Players the following officers were elected to serve for the year 1923-24: President, Frank Jankosky; vice-president, Miss Marion Fulton; director, J. P. Bryan; advisor director, H. H. Armsby; business manager, J. H. Reid; property manager, C. B. Kentnor; stage manager, G. A. Dooey.

The following were taken into the organization, each having taken an active part in two plays: Miss Emily Harris, E. T. Campbell, F. Jankosky, L. Thomy, H. V. White, D. R. Baker, G. G. Harris, C. B. Kentnor, M. A. Ledford and J. V. Terrill.

ST. PAT IS COMING.

When the March wind starts to soften,
And the birds start singing sweet,
And the summer days start coming
Down the lane on dancing feet;
And when the boys get restless,
And they shirk the steady grind,
Its pretty safe to gamble,
That St. Pat's is on their mind.

Now, St. Pat, he was a rounder,
And they say a jolly cuss,
How he chased the snakes from Ireland

Is old stuff to most of us.
Course I've never heard it rumored
That St. Pat was much on corn,
But all those snakes and varmints
Of hootch must have been born.

There's Irish here in Rollie,
And there's also beaucoup mule
(Methinks that he who drinks it
Is a downright plain damn fool).
But since that Act of Congress
In the year of 5 B. P. (before prohibition)

We can't get Johnny Walker
And who here cares for tea.

Oh, well, St. Pat is coming,
And we know him jolly well,
We don't expect the varmints.
But then, who here can tell.
There'll be music, song and women,
The whole town will be hot,
I hope he brings his snakifier,
And uses it. Eh, not?

A DATE.

Put on a new record, kid!
This classical stuff
Gets my goat.
Say!
Aint Valentino
Wonderful?—
I Wonder if
Wally Reid
Peally did die of dope.
Say!

May is a perfectly
Terrible liar, she
Said Jim was hot—
Id as soon kiss
An oyster!
Didja ever
Try this step?
Look—Aw,
I wish we had a repeater
On our Vic.—
Now bend way back—
Say!
How d'ya get that way?
This is a dance, and
Can't you see my
Ma
Sitting in the next room?—
Anyway
It's a hot step,
Ain't it.

the situation go at that. A committee, consisting of G. A. Easley, '09, Clay Gregory, '10, and D. L. Forrester, '11, was appointed to arrange for a celebration here. Considerable difficulty was experienced, because many of the students were skeptical, and the faculty was opposed to the idea. March 17th was declared a holiday by the students, and on that morning St. Patrick, in the person of George Menefee, was met at the Grand Central Station by a crowd armed with shillalabs and wearing green sashes. St. Pat arrived in his private car, and was escorted to his chariot, in which he rode to Norwood Hall at the head of the hastily arranged parade.

After lecturing the seniors and interpreting the marks on the Blarney Stone, he dubbed the class of '08 and Dr. L. E. Young "Knights of the Order of St. Patrick." A band concert, hilarity, and a general resolve to continue the celebration in future years ended the day.

The following year, 1909, saw March 17th scheduled as a regular school holiday. It also marked the beginning of the features, such as the parade, which characterize the present celebration. W. M. ("Windy") Holmes, who justly deserved his title, impersonated the Patron Saint this year. The morning program was not altered, but the afternoon program had athletic sports regularly scheduled. The unscheduled hilarity which emanated from Eighth Street, however, did much to vary the program and add pep to the crowd. It is reported by old timers that, altho the Sainted Snake Chaser himself was in Rolla, multi-colored snakes with violent contortionistic powers, appeared at intervals.

In 1910 Shillalah Day was instituted by sending the Freshmen into the woods to cut the necessary arms for the occasion. "Red" Forrester acted as St. Patrick. He rode on a water wagon drawn by six big mules at the head of the parade, and used his customary transit to locate the Blarney Stone, after considerable anxiety had been manifested as to its whereabouts. No afternoon program had been arranged.

In 1911 the celebration took the form of those of preceding years. W. A. Hackwood impersonated St. Pat and had the honor of knighting Miss Eva Endurance Hirdler, the only woman mining engineer to graduate from M. S. M.

1912 was the first year in which the evening of the great day was used.

The program for the day, with Harry H. Nolan as St. Patrick, was much the same as in former years. In the evening the Athletic Association gave an entertainment in Mechanical Hall. This new feature was noteworthy, for it was the germ of what is now the most elaborate part of the celebration.

In 1913 A. F. Truex took the part of the Patron Saint. The campus that day took on the appearance of a carnival ground, and the afternoon was most enjoyably spent. In the evening the first St. Patrick's Day Masque Ball was held in Mechanical Hall. Another move had been made toward a greater St. Pat's.

Frank L. Johnson officiated at the knighting ceremonies in 1914. The day was marred by a heavy downpour of rain, but by this time the spirit of the celebration had such firm root that the ceremonies were carried out as usual.

The year 1915 is remembered for two reasons. First, J. J. Doyle, a true son of Erin, took the part of St. Pat in a way that has never before or since been equaled; and second, because this year the first Queen of St. Patrick was crowned at the grand ball. This signal honor went to Miss Helen Baysinger, of Rolla. She was not only the first queen here, but, as far as can be ascertained, was the first queen of any St. Patrick's Day celebration of its kind.

In 1916 St. Pat was impersonated by J. G. ("Pat") Reilly. One of the Quo Vads, J. J. Allen, had the temerity to "bum" in on the Saint's private car. In the afternoon "The Follies of 1915," a humorous dramatization of life at M. S. M., by Lucien Erskine, were presented. The new Gymnasium furnished an ideal place for the Mask Ball. Miss Mary McCrae was crowned Queen.

H. Smith Clark had a cold blustery day for his impersonation of St. Pat in 1917. The morning program had to be postponed until the afternoon, and so every one was rushed. The ball in the evening, however, ranks as one of the most brilliant ever given. Miss Olive Scott was Queen.

On the whole, the celebration of 1918 was the most successful of any hitherto given. Meryl McCarthy ruled as St. Pat. The parade and the afternoon minstrel show were both very good, and the evening was made noteworthy by the fact that Mrs. Frederick D. Gardner, then the first lady of the State, reigned as Queen.

In 1919 the weather was ideal, and E. K. ("Toots") Schuman had many spectators to see him dub the seniors Knights of St. Patrick. At the ball that year the Queen's pin was introduced, and the newly crowned Queen, Miss Edna Kiel, of St. Louis, as well as her predecessors, was presented with the emblem at the end of an impressive ceremony.

Adverse weather again interfered in 1920, but the followers and admirers of St. Pat were out in large numbers to see and hear "Squeek" Needham as St. Patrick. The parade this year was marked by the introduction of several floats tending toward the artistic. Heretofore the ridiculous had reigned supreme. In other years the Blarney Stone had been brought forth by the Civil Engineer with his transit, and by the Mining Engineer with explosives. This year an Indian Magician produced it out of nothingness. Miss Nancy Love reigned as Queen of Grace and Beauty.

In 1921 J. E. Jewell took the part of St. Patrick. The celebration was elaborate in every detail. The Blarney Stone was found by a famous Irish Geologist, Mr. O'Hallahan. The ball in the evening left nothing to be desired, and was ably yet gently presided over by Miss Hazel Dent, the Queen.

The Class of '23, who were in charge of the 1922 celebration of the Saint's day, introduced one noteworthy feature. The "Follies," first introduced in 1916, had been on the decline, both as to quality and drawing power, for several years. Accordingly, in '22 the M. S. M. Players had the stage for the presentation of some of their amateur dramatic art. This was very well received by both the students and their guests, and the substitution will be repeated this year. The parade was exceptionally good, due to the superabundance of pep by the Vocates. The Gymnasium had been decorated by professionals and presented a very pleasing background for the Masque Ball. Miss Margaret Selby was crowned Queen by David F. Walsh as St. Pat.

From an humble beginning St. Pat's has grown to be not only the most elaborate and most noteworthy occasion at M. S. M. but also to be a festive occasion in many of the Engineering Schools in the United States. Each year the obligations and demands become greater and more exacting in order to meet the magnitude of the occasion. This is both logical and necessary. It is logical, because St. Pat's should continue to grow and become better each year. It is necessary in order to maintain the prestige of the school with the alumni, and with other colleges.
