PROF. C. V. MANN TO TALK ON CITY PLANNING.

The Next General Lecture to Be Held on Thursday, Feb. 18, 7:30 p. m.

In the last one hundred years the growth of American cities has been like the spread of huge prairie fires. This type of growth has resulted in chaos and undue congestion of streets and residence districts. Confronted with the vast difficulties arising from these conditions, modern cities are turning to the skilled city planners, as a sick man turns to a skilled physician.

The city plan takes into account major problems of street planning, transportation, public buildings, parks, civic art, housing, zoning, and all the engineering works such as water supply and sewerage that affect the health, safety and welfare of the inhabitants. It considers also the necessary governmental agencies and financial plans for making the city plan effective.

There will be much of interest for students and townspeople in this lecture, which will be fully illustrated with lantern slides and motion picture films. Some of the finest pictures of city planning are to be shown, including a number of colored views of our Federal City—Washington.

Remember the date and plan to be there.

TAU BETA PI ANNOUNCES PLEDGES AND AWARDS

At the mass meeting Friday, Dave Walsh, representing the local chapter of Tau Beta Pi, gave a short talk on the purpose of the organization and its methods of selecting members. Following this, these men were pledged to the organization: R. M. Rankin, H. Blickensderfer, F. Clearman, R. E. Hilpert, E. C. Hunze, P. K. Hoover, C. T. Jones, and J. M. Wilson, Jr. Also at this meeting the Tau Beta Pi scholarship cup, given each semester to the organization having the highest scholarship average for the previous semester, was awarded to the Grubstakers Club.

SPECIAL JUNIOR NOTICE.

Has your check for a book of Merchandise Raffle tickets been cashed yet? See that this is cared for by Thursday, February 18. Also be on hand at the class meeting Thursday evening in order to account for your show tickets. All raffle ticket stubs must be turned in at this time if they are to count at the drawing.

Large Audience Enthusiastic Over
Numbers Given by Wall and Mac Leod.

The musical recital given by Mr. Herbert Wall, barytone, and Mr. Ellsworth Mac Leod, pianist, as one of the numbers of the regular General Lecture Course amply repaid those who faced the storm of Saturday evening to attend. This was a treat which is indeed rare and one which the people of Rolla and the students do not fail to appreciate, judging from the attendance.

The program consisted of piano and vocal numbers, the latter being featured by a number of negro folk songs, and all were well received.

BASKETEERS TRAVEL TO SPRINGFIELD.

The Miners' basketball contingentabetted by the return of two lettermen, Murphy and Arra, will meet Drury College and Springfield Teachers at Springfield on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Drury has had a season of a number of reverses, but the Panthers always consider the Miners as their piece de resistance, and they will cut-themselves. The Springfield Bears defeated the Miners twice last year. The Bears consistently turn out strong net teams, and Coach Dennie's dribblers undoubtedly have a battle on their hands Tuesday night.

Saturday the Central Wesleyan quintet will take the floor at Jackling Gym opposite the Miners. Last year a 26-25 victory went to the Miners when they invaded the home pastures of the Wesleyanites.

M. U. WRESTLERS DEFEAT MINERS, 14 TO 11.

Cammack, Ledford, and Sam Craig Win From Opponents.

The Miners versus Missouri University wrestling match Friday night at Jackling Gym saw two well matched teams take the mat. The Tigers won the match in the last bout by gaining a decision in the bantamweight division that broke an 11 to 11 tie existing from the results in the previous bouts.

Cammack, Miners, started the evening's bouts by gaining a decision from Gibson, Tiger captain, in the heavyweight class. Three punishing headlocks administered by Cammack exhausted the Missouri U. entry at the start of the bout.

Lee, Miners, put up a fast battle in light-heavyweight class against Ferguson of the Tigers, but the latter gained the decision on time advantage. The Ledford-Boyer match furnished plenty of rough and tumble work, with Ledford, Miner candidate, doing the rough work, and Bay-el, M. U., on the receiving end of the tumbling. Ledford gained the decision in this battle of middleweights.

Schettler, M. U. welterweight, gained a fall by a half-nelson bar held with D. Craig, Miners, as the victim, but S. Craig secured a brotherly revenge in the lightweight bout. Sammy Craig made short work of Cardwell, M. U., and secured a fall in the quick time of two minutes and twelve seconds.

Sonnenschein, M. U., knotted the total point score by winning the decision from Cook of the Miners. Godwin, M. U., and Moulder, Miners, took the squared circle for the bantam battle with the winning points for the entire match at stake.

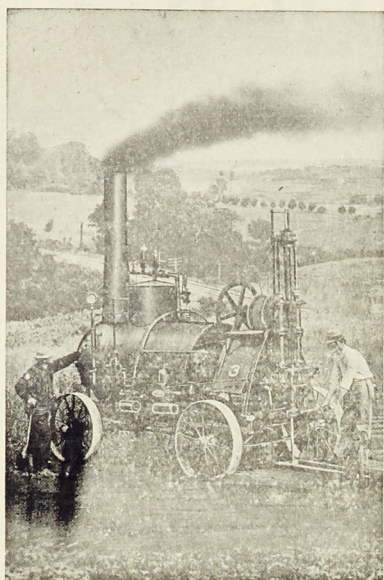

Godwin proved the better of the two men, but was unable to throw the Miner entry, and was content with a decision, which won the match for the Tigers.

Summary:

Heavyweight—Cammack (Miners) decision over Gibson (c) (M. U.). Time advantage 4 min. 43 sec.

Light-heavyweight—Ferguson (M.

NEW ENGINEER ARRIVES.

Another engineer has come to grace our midst. Dan B. Jett, famous instructor of Freshmen in the depths of trig and analyt, is the proud and happy father of a fine baby boy. The last report was to the effect that both mother and son were doing nicely.

Congratulations.

PLAYERS REHEARSING

FOR ST. PATS PLAY.

The success of a St. Pats play is traditional at M. S. M. Forming one of the most enjoyable parts of the St. Pats program, it should, and does, receive more careful rehearsing and consideration than is usually allotted to other M. S. M. Players productions throughout the year.

After careful consideration, "Thirty Days" was selected as being the most likely to meet popular approval. You will agree that the choice was fortunate when you see the play.

WRESTLERS TO MEET

WASHINGTON BEARS NEXT WEEK.

On next Monday night Coach McCannless' denizens of the mat will invade the halls of Francis Gym, Washington University, St. Louis, with the object of subduing the Coach Higgins clan.

The last encounter between the Miners and the Bears occurred in Jackline Gym. and the invaders scored a victory by a narrow margin. The meet, according to the present schedule, will be the last dual meet for the headlock artists before the Missouri Valley championship at Stillwater.

The Miner matmen have still to score a victory in a dual meet, and the Washington U. lads are distinctly suitable victims for such a victory.

McAULIFFE, YOUNG, AND GARCIA TO VISIT M. S. M.

Will Speak Under Auspices of Mining and Met. Assn., Thursday, February 25.

Mr. Eugene McAuliffe, President of the Union Pacific Coal Co., of Omaha, Nebraska, will be the speaker at the mass meeting on Friday, Feb. 26. The subject of his address will be "The Practical Application of Engineering Training."

When Mr. McAuliffe comes he will be accompanied by Dr. L. E. Young, former Director of the Missouri School of Mines, and by Mr. John A. Garcia, of the firm of Allan and Garcia, Consulting Engineers of Chicago.

These gentlemen will arrive on the noon train Thursday, February 25, and will spend the afternoon visiting on the campus. At 8:15, Thursday evening, there will be a smoker in the Metallurgy Building, at which time there will probably be informal addresses given by Mr. McAuliffe, Dr. Young, and Mr. Garcia, after which refreshments will be served.

OLD-TIMERS BACK.

P. D. Kern, an old Miner in '15, '16, and '17, member of the old Mucker's Club and Charter member of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, thinks a degree worthwhile. At least he left a real position at Bisbee, Ariz., where he had been connected with one of the large copper mining companies for the sake of thirty-four credit hours lacking on his sheepskin. Who said these Miners don't crave education?

Palmer Cain, ex-'27, after a year and a half of absence in which time he acquired experience in rodding, directing carpenter work, baling hay, and working in his father's printing shop, decided that a little more schooling was an asset. Palmer intends to graduate in something eventually.

MERCIER CLUB GIVES FIRST DANCE OF SEASON.

Bill's gang was red-hot at the Mercier Club Valentine Dance last Thursday night. The house was decorated in keeping with the occasion, and the dance was thoroughly enjoyed. Chaperons were: Dr. J. W. Barley, Prof. and Mrs. E. W. Carlton, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Johns. The out-of-town guests present were Miss Lois Marie Burnett, of St. Clair, Mo., and Miss Ola V. Powell, of St. James.

LET'S COOPERATE.

Have you ever considered the latent meaning of the term "hearty co-operation?" Like numerous other phrases, threatened with extinction because of laxity in their proper use, it has arrived on a par with "yours of the 20th received and contents carefully noted" of the obsolete model of a nineteenth century business letter.

Man is a gregarious animal, and save in case of a genius seldom if ever, attains to a high stage in social development without assistance, encouragement, and love from his fellows. Since the twilight period of history, when he formed tribes and clans as means of protection against wild beasts and unwelcome fellow creatures, the spirit of cooperation, combination, and unity of purpose has grown, making possible the innumerable ramifications of modern business.

We can readily see the futility of attempting to stage St. Pats without the aid and backing of Rolla's prominent business men and the enthusiastic support of the students and professors of the School of Mines.

An attention-attractor ranks as an advertisement, and there is little doubt as to how St. Pats scores in this regard. But like a manager, who unintentionally takes credit due his subordinates, St. Pats often overshadows his less glamorous, slow-plodding co-workers. The Missouri Miner, as the official organ of the M. S. M. Alumni Association, has an extensive circulation, both foreign and domestic. Its discontinuance would deprive many of the old grads of their only source of information on M. S. M. Though not generally known, this large subscription list, of itself, does not provide sufficient assets to make The Miner a financial success. Advertising is expected to make up the deficit. That's where this idea of co-operation breaks in again; to keep The Miner on the safe side of the ledger enough advertising must be contributed each week by the business men of town partly to compensate for the cost of publication. The Miner ranks with a winning football team in publicity for M. S. M., and its high purpose must be perpetuated.

JUNIOR CLASS TO PRESENT

"THE CRACKER JACK."

Presto, chango, sesame! Like the old magicians of the Arabian Nights, Johnny Hines causes a ramshackle, unkempt, unbusinesslike factory to change into a snappy, progressive and hustling institution. His indomitable energy and the ingenuity of his sales-sense permeates his uncle's old pickle factory, and it literally gets up on its hind legs and kicks out for all its worth—and it's worth a lot after Johnny, in the role of Tommy Perkins decides to put Perkin's stuffed pickles on the map. How he does it, and the number of laughs he manages to put into the picture makes "The Cracker Jack," the outstanding effort of his career.

This picture will be presented by the Junior Class in connection with the big Merchandise Raffle, Friday night, February 19. See any Junior for tickets and don't miss this picture. The Varsity Orchestra will perform, which makes all the more reason for your attending Friday night.

Man expends just enough energy to supply the demands of the situation in which he is placed.

DUTCHMEN THROW
SAUERKRAUT SPLURGE.

The faculty Dutchmen's Club went on a tear last Friday night and feasted at the country estate of Dutch Henning, with a noble spread sufficient to make any true Heinie homesick for der Vaterland. As would be expected, the feature of the evening consisted of an intensely concentrated attack on the provender, and enormous quantities of it were absorbed in record time. The bill of fare consisted of sauerkraut, Limburger cheese, hamburger, noodles, frankfurters, pretzels, liverwurst, pickled pigs' feet, and zweiback, drenched with innumerable steins of heimgemacht, prepared by the Chem. department under the direction of Kraut Kershner and Fritzie Schrenk.

After the food had received proper accommodations, the agonizing round of toasts and speeches began. Dutch Henning, toastmaster of the affair, usurped the floor for three and one-half hours in a lengthy oration in which he proposed that the practice of manufacturing sausages from daschunds be stopped. He also emphasized the crying need for more education in the German Language. At the conclusion of this short talk, the floor and the air were given to Hans von Peter Cambiaire, who performed splendidly as an anaesthetic, but what he spoke on is not known, since everyone present slept through his talk.

The next event of importance was the election of undergraduate members to the club. The following were so honored: Limburger Lindenau, Morris Finchelstein Mandel, Wein-Tung Hu, Juan de la Pena, Nick Kozlinsky, and "Irish" (William Karl Henry George) Schweickhardt, although there was some doubt as to whether the latter's name would pass requirements.

The fireworks, however, began later. As the party began to warm up, thanks to the contributions of the Chem. department, Kraut Kershner arose, and in a loud voice proclaimed, "Hoch der Kaiser!" Hans von Peter Cambiaire lustily replied, "Deutschland uber Alles!" and Fritzie Schrenk added, "So iss dein vater!" (meaning: so's your papa!) "Gout" Hinsch, alias Van Buren, objected on the grounds that such hilarity disturbed his gouty leg, and called for another stein of beer and a hunk of limburger, but Hamburger Heimberger effectively squelched him by smearing a bowlful of sauerkraut in his face. This made "Gout" Hinsch happy, and he broke loose leading the chorus of "Der Wacht am Rhein!"

Then came the crowning situation. Dutch Henning and Gout Hinsch insisted on performing the Charleston on the table, whereupon assault and battery occurred, since Fritzie Schrenk, Kraut Kershner, Hans von Peter Cambiaire, and "Hamburger" Heimberger disapproved of such boisterous proceedings. For a few minutes the air was full of plates, sauerkraut, fumes, and odors!—the roar of combat waxed loudly!—the din of crashing plates and roaring combatants resounded heavily—and then!!—someone whispered that "Doc" Armsby was outside with his little notebook!

The party ended abruptly.

HEARD IN ROLLA.

It is claimed that the cross-word craze will improve our vocabularies. Mebbe so, mebbe so. At least, the following conversation between two addicts was heard just off the campus last week:

Mrs. Horizontal: "By the way, didn't I hear that your little Junior met with an accident?"

Mrs. Vertical: "Yes. The oaf fell from an apse and fractured his artus."

Mrs. H.: "Egad!"

Mrs. V: "And to make matters worse, Dr. Bloop botched it so we had to trek into St. Louis for a specialist."

Mrs. H: "The zany!"

Mrs. V: "Joe's ire was so aroused that he told Dr. Bloop right to his visage that he was a dolt and an ort."

Came the night of the great wrestling match. Thousands of spectators crowded the pavillion and waited impatiently for the start of the contest between Big Munn and Thomas Drinker, the Swedish hope.

The match started. For one hour the two wrestlers engaged in terrific combat. Finally Munn secured a combination headlock and toe squeeze on the Swedish hope and threw him on his broad brawny shoulders.

"One, two, three," the referee counted slowly. And still the champion of the western plains held the huge Swede to the mat.

"Drinker down," bellowed the referee.

"Hurrah," shouted a callous college youth in the front row as he pulled a flask from his pocket and emptied the contents into his capacious mouth, "Drinker down."

And thus originated the expression, "drinker down."

Do you want a real representation of the events of this school year? Do you want an account of all the incidents that made this year memorable, so that in later years you can turn thru the pages and live over this year? Of course you do, and the 1926 Rollamo Board is working hard for such a presentation.

Among the features of the issue are clever cartoons of real campus stuff, real action pictures of that great old football team, and then there will be some real St. Pat's pictures. In short, everything of interest will be presented.

Yet do you know that there are almost a hundred fellows in school who have not paid for their book? We must have every one's support, and that includes the faculty and co-eds too.

So if you have not "kicked in" that $3.50 do so at once as there will be no extra books ordered and you surely don't want to pass up this issue. We Guarantee That You Will Be More Than Pleased With The Book.

Still in Service after 250 Years

A HUNDRED years before Napoleon was born, before his wars scourged Europe, before the French Revolution raged, this Cast Iron Pipe was laid, in the reign of Louis XIV, to supply water to the fountains of Versailles.

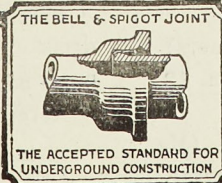

A report from the Director of the Water Service says: "From their actual state of preservation, which is excellent, excepting the assembly iron bolts, these conduits seem to be able to furnish service for a very considerable time longer."

The high resistance of this Cast Iron Pipe to corrosion may be judged from the clearness of the fine "parting line" produced by the old horizontal method of casting.

LIBRARIAN GIVES LECTURES TO FRESHMAN ENGLISH CLASSES.

"Variety is the spice of life," the old saying goes, and the freshman English classes have been spicy during the past week. The Freshmen were recipients of two lectures given by Miss Edith C. Jones, Librarian, in which the classification system of the library was discussed in detail.

In the first lecture given to each section, Miss Jones fully explained the Dewey Decimal System of Classification in which all subjects are classified by numbers. "All reading matter in the library is divided into ten classes which may be subdivided indefinitely," she said. In addition she gave instructions in the use of the card catalog and the "Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature."

The class members were assigned to work up a bibliography on one of the six following subjects:

1. Life and Art of Joseph Conrad.
2. Life and Art of Mark Twain.
3. Travel in Mexico.
4. Permanent Court of International Justice.
5. Mining as a Profession.
6. Chemistry and Industry.

As we go to press we are in receipt of information relative to another German party, similar to the one held at Dutch Henning's. The new Methodist parsonage was the scene of a big cheese-fest Sunday evening, at which the pillars participated. The lager was missing, of course, but we have heard that rye bread and limburger go very well with coffee.
