CENTRAL OPPOSES

MINERS FRIDAY.

The Central Eagles will invade Jackling Field next Friday to battle the Silver and Gold eleven. The game will be the first conference encounter for the Miners and it gives promise of being a hard fought game. Last year Central defeated the Miners 20 to 7 and Gray's end runs and cut-backs through tackle will never be forgotten by those who witnessed that game.

Central is reputed to have another strong team this year. Oct. 6th they overwhelmed Ozark Wesleyan by a large score; October 13th they defeated William Jewell and on October 20th they downed Drury 7 to 0. Early season "dope" points to Central as Westminster's chief contender for the conference championship.

MINER "B" TEAM

PLAYS SATURDAY.

The Silver and Gold Reserves will swing into action Saturday afternoon when they meet the Jefferson City Junior College. The game will be played on Jackling Field and promises to be full of action. The Junior College eleven is reported to be a fast aggregation and is figuring strongly on annexing a victory from the Miners. On the other hand the "B" team has numbered among its ranks many good men who lack just a shade of varsity calibre. The team has been well drilled by Coach Brown and has a variety of plays which will

CERAMIC ORGANIZATIONS TO MEET IN ROLLA NOVEMBER 3.

A joint meeting of the St. Louis Section of the American Ceramic Society and the Missouri Refractories Association, with the Ceramic Engineering Department of the School of Mines, will be held on Nov. 3rd. An attendance of about sixty is expected, which will include some of the most prominent men of the ceramic industry in the state.

Mr. Ross Purdy, General Secretary of the American Ceramic Society will deliver the principal address which will be "The Tour of the American Ceramic Society in Europe Last Summer." He will describe the various ceramic industries of Europe and will show pictures which were taken on this tour. Other prominent speakers will be Dr. Fulton, Director of the School of Mines, and Dr. Buehler, who is at the head of the Missouri Geological Survey.

Visitors will arrive about 9 a. m., at which time the Technical Session will start. At 1:00 p. m. lunch will be served at the Terminal. The balance of the afternoon will be devoted to trips to Meramec Springs, and Prof. Forbes' diaspore pit, and then an inspection of the Ceramic laboratories.

All students in Ceramic Engineering, including freshmen, and all other students and members of the faculty are invited to attend this meeting.

VOTE BY ABSENTEE

BALLOT NOV. 6TH.

Students who are over twenty-one and who live in Missouri should go to one of the polling places and ask for an absentee ballot to be sent to the place of their residence. The judges of election will inform such students at that time as to how they should proceed. The fact that a student is self-supporting does not entitle him to vote in Rolla. The law is that a student neither loses nor gains residence by reason of attending a college. In other words the

ST. LOUIS U 12-MINERS 7.

Simonton Star of Game.

The St. Louis University football team mauled, clawed and slugged their way to a 12 to 7 victory over the Miner eleven at Sportsman's Park in St. Louis Saturday. The Billiken team was typical of St. Louis University teams and they could count on a five yard penalty against the Miners whenever they needed it. The Blue and White scored early in the game and again at the close of the first half; failing both times to make the extra point after the touchdown. The Miners scored early in the second quarter when Steiner skirted left end for a touchdown and Carlson kicked goal for the extra point. During the entire second half neither team came close enough to threaten seriously.

Simonton, flashy right halfback for the Miners, was the outstanding star of the game, playing hard and using excellent headwork throughout. He carried the ball about ninety per cent of the time for the Miners and he proved to be a hard man to stop. "Simmy's" work on the defense was also noteworthy; he backed up the entire line in a most creditable manner.

Ray Runder was the outstanding linesman for the Miners. He starred in defensive work, breaking thru the line time after time to throw St. Louis for a loss. The "eternal triangle." Tomlison, Capt. Lacy and Bolon played a good game and all three men are to be commended for keeping the team's morale up to the fighting pitch throughout the game. Hassler, although he was only in the game for two short intervals, played excellent football both on the defense and offense. The Miners as a team were weak on offense, and the secondary defense was noticeably weak at times.

"Tex" Sheffield, flashy Miner back was on the sideline nursing an injured knee. Tex will probably be back in the line up for the Central game next Friday.

St. Louis kicked off to the Miners 10 yard line and Carlson's punt was partially blocked, St. Louis recovering on the Miners 32 yard line. St. Louis successfully drove down the remainder of the field aided by two five yard penalties against the Miners. Dirnberger carried the ball over the goal line and Parilla failed to kick goal.

St. Louis kicked to Lacy, who returned to his 32 yard line. Simonton carried the ball through center three times to make it first in ten. The Miners failed to gain and Carlson's punt was blocked but he recovered on the 38 yard line. The Silver and Gold was unable to gain and Carlson punted to St. Louis on their 30 yard line. St. Louis made it first in ten and then failed to gain. Lamb blocked the Billiken's punt but they recovered on the 17 yard line. The Billikens punted out of bounds on their 34 yard line. Simonton went through right tackle for 4 yards and the quarter ended.

Simonton went through right guard for 4 yards and a pass Simonton to Hartle placed the ball 16 yards from the goal. The Miner offensive was temporarily stopped when St. Louis intercepted a pass, but on the next play St. Louis fumbled and Bolon recovered on the 11 yard line. Simonton hit right guard for two yards and Steiner skirted left end for a touchdown. Carlson's placement kick was good. Score: St. Louis 6, Miners 7.

Tomilson kicked off, and after an exchange of punts the Billikens began a drive which resulted in their second touchdown. Off tackle plays and delayed plunges through guard and tackle worked the ball down the field and a pass put the ball on the three yard line. Lintzenich plunged thru center for a touchdown and instantaneously the half was over. St. Louis failed in an attempted pass for the extra point. Score: St. Louis 12, Miners 7.

Neither team came within 35 yards of scoring in the third quarter. The Billikens made the longest drive from their own 15-yard line to midfield late in the period, but they were held on downs and forced to punt. As the fourth quarter began the Blue and White had the ball on the 50-yard line.

They gained 18 yards on two runs and a forward pass, but they were stopped here, and punted over the Miner's goal line. The Miners' attack also was helpless and Carlson punted to midfield, Parilla returning 10 yards. Early in the final period Daubner, St. Louis end, was injured.

After St. Louis had returned a kick to the 40-yard line Lintzenich gain was sent into the game. A 5-yard penalty against the Miners and some line smashing carried the ball to the 20-yard line, but it was lost on downs there.

Just before the end of the game the Billikens recovered a blocked kick by Carlson on the Miners 28-yard line, but the ensuing drive by the Bills was stopped when Carlson intercepted a pass on his 10 yard line and punted to safety.

CROSS HAIRS.

It has been brought to my attention that the students, as a rule, do not know how to act or what to say at certain critical moments, when correct gestures and speech are imperative to their achievements and betterments. This has led to the formation of a code of etiquette and a set of rules to govern the actions and talk demanded by certain occasions. Our principles are based upon the teachings and writings of many most celebrated men, and are here presented under the title of "What To Do."

Upon Being Quizzed in Class By a Prof.

1. Be calm. 2. Look to the west; if in the morning look to the east and perchance you may find or see the light. 3. Refrain from shuffling the feet or clearing the throat (a common mistake prevalent among the undergraduates) for many times such action, uncouth as it may be, draws out a perfectly applicable answer generally coming from the north or windy side of the room. 4. Stall for time. 5. If all these fail stand erect and plead in a very demure and childish voice, "Teacher, I do not know." This rates at least five and it is better not to have answered absurdly and become classed as a "flunk" by your professor.

Upon Failing To Understand a Column in the Miner.

1. Remain composed, even though the article is incomprehensible, for the columnist may not be the one to blame—consider this. 2. Re-read, skipping every other word and overlooking the rest. 3. Above all, never criticize, for as a result a curse may be cast upon one of your children and he may become a columnist. 4. Remember in many cases it is better to have read and not understood than to have understood.

Upon Finding Your Name Under Some Other Fellows Picture in the Rollamo.

1. Be reserved. Remember he and not you paid $2.50 plus or minus for the picture and it is better to have your name beneath a picture than to have no name there at all.

Upon Being Pledged to Phi Kappa Phi.

1. Observe imperturbableness. Although little information is available on this subject (Profs please excuse the tentativeness) still we all know it is better to have been asked and to have refused than to have asked and Upon Being Approached By a Junior.

1. Express serenity. 2. Register as a humble, poverty stricken, hungry, cold and empty-pocketed chap. 3. Shed tears upon hearing his tale of woe and the inalienable duty we owe St. Pat and the money the Juniors owe everyone. 5. Surprise the Juniors by producing the necessary funds for a raffle ticket and saying, "More power to you brother, I hope this will pay for the celebration."

We suggest that some one organize a club to instill pep in the Dynamiters. We were told that the purpose of the Dynamiters was to instill pep in the school and they functioned splendidly before the Washington U. game. After that they took a vacation and there was not even a mass meeting before the McKendree game. Last week they did manage to have a pep meeting which lasted 12 minutes, in preparation for the St. Louis U. game.

You cannot blame the team for drawing the conclusion that the school deserted them after the first game. This week Central visits M. S. M. and we wonder if the school is still hibernating. Not that we care but the football team is not getting an even break.

Why any football squad should practice every night and fight in a game the way the "big team" did Saturday when the school is too lazy to care, is more than we can understand. But the fact remains that the squad is loyal to their coach and their school and there is still time to show them that we are backing them, win or lose.

"WISECRACKS" ON

AUTOMOBILES.

From St. Louis Globe-Democrat:

Judge W. McKay Skillman of Detroit does not believe that an automobile body is the proper place for "wisecracks". He is entirely out of sympathy with the strange impulses that cause more or less flaming youths to decorate secondhand flivvers with all kinds of odd ejaculations and hieroglyphics. Apparently he does not object to wisecracking between the occupants of a car, but he strongly disapproves of gaudily painted wisecracks on the car itself.

The Judge, in fact is going to go to the bottom of this queer practice and find out, once and for all, what is the underlying cause of the elaborate ornamentation of old flivvers, what is responsible for these abstruse signs and symbols that are so meaningless or so nonsensical to well-ordered minds, like his own. A young man of 19 was brought into his court, charged with speeding in a car thus embellished. Asked why he decorated the car in such an outlandish fashion, the culprit replied that he guessed it was "just to be crazy." "In that case," declared the judge, "I refer you to a sanity commission which will report one week from today."

* * * *

Being owners of a somewhat gaudy and verbose car we rise to our feet in indignation at the attacks of Judge W. McKay Skillman of Detroit on a fellow owner of a "wise crack" flivver. His honor, in censuring a youth of an original turn of mind, has made an attempt to destroy an institution—perhaps more prevalent within the circle of higher learning—that was founded by our forefathers, who arrived on the Nina, Pinta, and Santa Maria. Their vehicles were lettered too, but they lacked originality. Where they used common and simple names, today we use expressions, phrases, and diagrams to express the wit and humor that has been gathered in more than four centuries since their memorable voyage. Many of the voyages we take today will become history in the future and can we not call ourselves benefactors by making future history books more enjoyable for our children's children in that the names of our vehicles will not be trite monosyllables, but individualistic expressions.

Therefore, Judge Skillman, we ask that you cease the plundering of America's individualism and realize that when every car in America carries, not a common trade name, but a witty, enjoyable, phrase; then, not until then, will every American smile as he goes to his daily task.

PI K A PLEDGE DANCE.

A general consensus of opinion from those who attended the Pi K. A. Pledge Dance last Friday indicates that the affair was a glamorous success. The dates were quite enthusiastic about the party. Miss Leone Davis, Drury College, Springfield and Misses Ruth Williamson and Martha McDuelkin of East St. Louis, Ill., were out of town guests. Bill Knight '26, motored down from St. Louis.

MINING & MET. ASSOCIATION.

"There is no more profitable way for a man to invest a little of his time than to attend the meetings of his chosen field."

The first fall meeting of the Missouri Mining & Metallurgy Association was held Wednesday morning in the Met. Bldg., under the direction of D. F. Walsh, the organization's faulty advisor of last year. Mr. Walsh explained for the benefit of the new men the aims of the organization, together with the professional connection with the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers. To all junior and senior Miners and Mets having 75 hours to their credit, membership in the local association is open.

The election of officers for the school year '28-'29 resulted as follows: James Reger, president; Prof. C. L. Dake, vice-president; John H.

Hahn, secretary; Lee W. Couch, treasurer. With this list of officers in command it is evident that the Missouri Mining and Met. Association will experience a most progressive and successful year.

CERAMIC STUDENTS ORGANIZE THE ORTON SOCIETY.

Sometime during the month of September the students and professors in Ceramic Engineering held an informal meeting with the purpose of discussing the organization of a student branch of the American society at M. S. M. Everything proved favorable, and the group was organized as the Orton Society. George A. Page and H. L. Harrod were unanimously elected president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

The Orton Society was chosen for the name of the organization in honor of Prof. Orton of Ohio State University. Prof. Orton has worked out several important problems relating to ceramics and is the originator of the Orton Pyrometric Core. It is hoped that he will address the Society in the near future.

At the last meeting interesting talks were given by James Spalding and W. R. Powell. Spalding talked on the manufacture of cement, while Powell told of his experiences in a face brick plant this summer. Sandwiches, coffee and cake were served after the meeting was adjourned, and everyone reported an enjoyable evening.

All students are invited to attend these meetings and especially those taking ceramics. This is a good place for the freshman who is contemplating taking the ceramic course to get some advanced information, which will without a doubt help him later on in his course of study.

TAILINGS

Speaking of the M. S. M. Glee Club's rehearsing of a new song, we note that it is "suggestive of the wild, lonely prairies." Knowing that William Allen White is back in U. S., we wonder if we can lay this sarcasm at his doorstep.

Since rush season is over a drug store in town has offered to trade a copy of College Humor or a month's subscription to Life for old copies of Byrd's Manual.—Probably figuring a Byrd in hand is worth two in a frat.

We had a joke about a freshman who believed that he was becoming fraternized with the "best bunch of fellows on the campus"—but he starved to death waiting for the elevator in Parker Hall and ruined our joke.

We note that Prof. T. V. Smith of the University of Chicago is radio-casting his lectures on philosophy to the members of his eight o'clock class. As the class is scheduled for 8 o'clock in the morning and as the days are growing shorter and the mornings colder, the arrangement will be satisfying to the student. How would that do as a suggestion to some of the eight o'clock profs at M. S. M.? If you desire to cut class just turn off the radio and go back to sleep.

The M. S. M. rooters at the McKendree game did fine,—both of them.

Now that the class elections are over we wonder how many complaints will be turned in about stuffing ballot boxes, the "machine politics" and "ballot by bullet" principles. Well, as a bunch of "thugs" we ought to be able to hold our own with Chicago, at least.

Thoughts of a senior (trying to grow a mustache): Came the down.

PARENTS ASSOCIATION
MEETS IN COLUMBIA.

The Parents Association of the University of Missouri met in Columbia, Mo., Oct. 19 and 20. The organization includes the parents and alumni of the University of Missouri, the School of Mines, and all the state teachers colleges, and it was chiefly concerned with the organization of a concerted effort to secure more adequate support for state educational institutions from the next legislature. Dr. Fulton and Mr. Hubbard attended the meetings on the 20th.

President Brooks of the University of Missouri, who is a very ardent worker in the organization, outlined in his address, the recent rapid growth of the educational institutions. He showed that state schools must have a more adequate financial foundation or they will be forced backward instead of forward.

Cornelius Roach, a banker of Kansas City, who was elected president of the organization, suggested in his address a state bond issue of 25 million dollars to give the educational and other state institutions adequate buildings. He further advocated the establishment of a definite fund in the form of a mill tax to be set aside each year for the support of state schools. In this way the schools would not be dependent on the fluctuations in the good will of the legislature.

A definite program is to be worked out and presented to the next legislature.

Chesterfield!"*

It is considered the height of bad form, they say, to carry your own sandwiches to a tea—or to pack your own blanket for the week-end—but luckily, no such outlandish conventions surround the smoking of your own cigarette.

"I'd rather have a Chesterfield," fortunately, is a phrase which not only remains "good cricket" in polite circles—but at the same time brands the smoker as a person of rare discernment and excellent discrimination.

And small wonder, considering all the remark implies. Good taste, top quality, the rare sparkle of tobacco goodness—all these combine to justify the choice of that man who thus shows his keen judgment.

"I'd rather have a Chesterfield"—a neat line, that—the mark of a real connoisseur and the password of six million smokers.

The present chess champion of the world took two hours and ten minutes to make one move in a recent match. Naturally there is a certain amount of jealousy in bricklaying circles.

Freshman statistics recorded in Doc Armsby's office show that:

91.5 percent can't pronounce metallurgy (neither can we so that proves nothing.)

23.1 percent have never owned a

Ford or have been arrested for any other short coming.

0.5 percent enjoying wearing their caps and suspenders.

100 percent know that we're going to beat Central!
