Plans For Stunts Rapidly Nearing Completion Here

Several Organizations Have Selected Program

SEVERAL ORGANIZATIONS HAVE COMPLETED PLANS FOR STUNT NIGHT

Night of December 17th Promises Considerable Entertainment.

With stunt night programs selected and approved by the General Lectures Committee, several organizations are already busy rehearsing. A surprising amount of talent has been uncovered and the programs selected are not only cosmopolitan but are representative of all history. We find the Independent B's preparing a sketch from classical Roman history; the Pi K. A.'s a Klondike bar room scene; the Merciers an interpretation.

M.S.M. Coeds Organize And Petition Council For Recognition Here

OFFICERS ELECTED

Several weeks ago the co-eds of the Missouri School of Mines met for the purpose of organizing and electing officers in order that the young ladies of the campus might become officially recognized as active participants in campus activities.

At the present time the functions of the organization will be to promote harmony among the co-ed students of the school. It is the intention of the co-eds to be recognized as a distinct organization, with the hopes of some day organizing a Greek letter sorority. To become an official campus organization a petition must be submitted and passed on by the Senior Council and Faculty. Without a doubt such a petition will meet with little opposition. The ever increasing number of co-eds at the School of Mines makes such an organization possible.

At the meeting the following officers were elected for the year: Ellen Woodman, president; Mary Lee Johnson, vice-president; Melba Coffman, secretary; Margaret Matlock, treasurer.

Read on page two of this paper what an unprejudiced observer of the Miner-St. Louis U. game thought of the contest.

Thanksgiving Dance

The St. Pats Board extends, to all of those who will be in Rolla Thanksgiving Day, an invitation to join them in celebrating the Turkey Day at a peppy dance to be given at Jackling Gym at 9:30 Thursday night. However, this invitation alone does not admit one to the dance. One dollar will assure a pleasurable evening for a couple. The many purses which were apparently empty last Saturday should have reinforcements by this time. Babe Clemmons and his Varsity Band will furnish the music.

FROSH-SOPH CONTEST PROMISES PLENTY OF FIGHT DECEMBER 6TH

ANNUAL INTER-CLASS CON- TEST WILL OFFER CHANCE FOR FROSH TO DISCARD GREEN CAPS.

The annual Frosh-Soph gridiron tilt will be played on the second Saturday after Thanksgiving, Dec. 5. This annual contest is one of the traditions of the school and it determines whether or not the frosh will wear their green caps until Christmas or whether they will discard them immediately.

In last year's game, which was fought on a damp field and in rather misty weather, the present sophs held the team representing the class of '33 to a 0-0 tie. Remarkable defense by the class of '34's team saved the day for them, as the class of '33 had a very powerful and shifty team. McDonald, a center, Hendrickson, a half and Logan, an end, three men who are experienced from last year's tilt will, no doubt, be the mainstays of this year's soph team. Neal, a quarter and Hower-ton, a half, will probably start for the frosh as they have been showing up well in recent frosh practices. Koch is coaching the sophs and Tomilson is the guiding light for the frosh. The game will be of regulation length and Tomilson, D. Thornton and Malik will officiate.

M. S. M. CAGE ARTISTS SHOW GOOD FORM IN EARLY SEASON PLAY

35 PLAYERS INCLUDING 8 LETTER MEN HAVE AN- SWERED COACH RAPP'S CALL FOR CANDIDATES.

With the season still in the distance, over thirty-five men have answered the call of Coach Rapp for candidates. Around the eight letter men returning, Coach Rapp will be able to build one of the Miner's best teams in years. The return of 'Red' Kenward, a regular of three seasons back, to the Miner lineup is just one more reason for a successful season. Although regular practice is not yet under way, numerous scrimmages have been held and the early teamwork and smoothness of play displayed indicate a clicking team for this year.

Twelve games have been scheduled so far for the first half of the season, and Coach Rapp intends to schedule three additional games to be played sometime before Christmas.

STEPHENS LECTURED ON TRANSPORTATION AT M. S. M. THURSDAY

NO GENERAL LECTURE PROGRAM WILL BE HELD THIS WEEK.

On last Thursday evening Dean G. W. Stephens delivered an interesting lecture on "The Future of Transportation." Dean Stephens' usual wit and speaking ability was very entertaining to the large assembly on students and town-folks.

He opened his lecture by citing some problems of modern transportation. He stated that the busses are carrying about twenty-five percent of passengers in this country. Automobiles carry a good percentage of passengers, and some baggage. Trucking also carries a good percentage of the freight. Pipe lines carry oil from the wells to refinery and distributor. Airplanes are coming into prominence in passenger traffic, and somewhat in freight carrying also.

All these modes of transportation are taking business away from the railroads. They are also taking

MINERS MEET N. S. T. C. OF OKLAHOMA HERE THANKSGIVING DAY

PLENTY OF ACTION ASSURED AS EIGHT MINERS PLAY THEIR FINAL GAME FOR M. S. M.

On Thanksgiving Day the Miners will engage the Oklahoma North-eastern State Teachers. This being the final game of the season, it would be altogether fitting and proper that we close it with a victory.

The Oklahoma College has a very good team, although they have won only two games this season. They have not been beaten badly this year. The team is characterized by its strong defensive play, but is somewhat lacking offensively. They have running backs, and good tacklers. Dukes, the quarter-back, is a triple-threat man of no mean ability. Munn, another back, is also a credible football player.

Those who saw the Miner-N. S. T. C. game two years ago at Muskogee, will be more than anxious to see the two teams meet again. The Miners were victorious in the initial contest, but reports indicate plenty of action for the home team Thursday.

We Thank You, Mr. Gould

Immediately after the Miner-St. Louis U. game this year the St. Louis Star blossomed forth with bold headlines announcing to its readers that the Miners were a tough lot of football players who had no scruples regarding the use of "bar room tactics" and unnecessary roughness against their opponents on the gridiron.

To the 1400 or 1500 backers who journeyed to St. Louis with the Miners, this announcement came as an unpleasant surprise. A great number of people in and around Rolla have followed the team in their various trips for the past several years, and in the opinion of the group the Miner-Billiken game was above reproach as regards unnecessary roughness on the part of either team.

As a result of the article in the Star a number of letters were sent out to various observers of the game, including the three officials of the game, to obtain their opinion of the contest. Mr. Gould expressed precisely the general consensus of opinion in his column in the Post-Dispatch, November 16. We quote Mr. Gould:

A WORD FOR ROLLA

There has been some discussion as to the alleged "roughness" of the Rolla—beg pardon—the Missouri School of Mines team in their contest with the St. Louis U. Billikens, a game won, after a hard fight by the Billikens, 6-0. As a close observer of that game, I am compelled to take up the cudgels for Rolla. To my view, there wasn't even a shade of unnecessary roughness in the game. It was a tough tussle—Rolla generally affords that—but it was as clean as a whistle. This Dick Thornton, Rolla's big back, is an ungentle football personage. He hits hard when he hits, which is often. He fails to apologize to opposing linemen for getting through them and, when he blocks out an end, doesn't wait to explain matters to him. He's a football player.

It is probable that Rolla will not be on the schedule of either St. Louis or Washington next year, but in justice to the Miners, it must be said that this alleged but non-present "roughness" has nothing to do with it. There are many, including myself, who, for their "color" and drawing-power, would like to see the Miners play both Bears and Billikens in 1932.

MSM

We are just beginning to appreciate people who are big enough not to have to pick on the smaller fellow, since the Miner-St. Louis U. game which has caused much comment at least in this city. It is nice to back local institutions but there are many ways of doing so without picking on some comparatively small opponents. We can appreciate such individuals as Mr. J. K. Walsh, an alumnus of the Missouri School of Mines and of St. Louis U. and Mr. James Gould, columnist for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, who, it seems are able to remain unprejudiced observers in any event.

We are inclined to believe that a co-ed organization will be a great help to this campus. At any rate the young ladies are much interested in their club and they are doped to be successful.

Thanksgiving Day will be here in a short time and we still have plenty to be thankful for even in times of depression. Suppose you had failed to pass that Thermo quiz last week? Suppose the St. Pats Board wasn't giving a dance Thursday night, then where would you go? Nevertheless, Col. Woods is our idea of an optimist. He says he's glad he isn't a millionaire because now he can sleep well every night, or if he isn't sleeping he is at least safe on the streets; that is he is safe if he printed no slighting remarks in the Herald last week.

MSMA. S. C. E. ENTERTAINED BY MOVING PICTURES OF HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

The student chapter of A. S. C. E. was entertained at their last meeting by moving pictures of highway construction in Panama and Trinidad.

The nine reels of films depicted the various steps in the building of highways in these countries, including the surveying, grading and laying of surfacing material. Some very interesting scenic pictures were also shown.

About 85 members of the student chapter and of the faculty turned out to see the show. The big physics lecture room was filled early and the late arrivals were forced to take "standing room."

The A. S. C. E. have been having some interesting meetings, and they are all being well attended by the student chapter. About seventy-five members attended the banquet given last week in honor of Dean Anson Marston of Iowa State College, and listened to his talk on engineering problems in Panama and Nicaragua. This recent meeting supplemented and illustrated some of the points brought out in Dean Marston's talk.

In the opinion of many of the "civils" the meeting was one of the most interesting ones that they have had.

Criminal Organizations

"Black Hand" was the name of a society of anarchists in Spain. The Black Hand gang was suppressed in 1883. The name is also applied to the mafia, an organization which terrorized Italy for generations until it was suppressed by the Fascists. In this country the words "black hand" are applied to groups of men who secretly organized for vengeance or blackmail.

Little Tommy had just started to school. When he got home his uncle was there, and Tommy told him he had received 100 in arithmetic. His uncle said to him in a teasing voice, "How much would seven roses, three roses, and two roses make?" Whereupon Tommy hesitatingly replied, "A bouquet."

Plant That Floats

The water hyacinth (Eichhornia crassipes) is a type of water plant that floats on the surface and sends out roots which contain air sacs, thus enabling the plant to float and not depend on an anchor. The flowers are blue or lavender and resemble the flowers of the hyacinth—hence the name.

Training Hunting Dogs

Breaking a dog to gunfire is usually accomplished when it is quite young and is done by gradually accustoming the dog to the noise of the fire. A small arm is used at first and is fired at some distance from the dog, gradually working up to closer distances and larger arms.

Love and Hate

Love penetrates to the very depths of human feelings, being in its very nature akin to eternal and all-seeing wisdom. Hate, on the other hand, is clever and sharp-eyed, and treads near to things like a short-sighted man, and sees only details.—Otto Braun.

"Sanatorium" and "Sanitarium"

A sanatorium is a locality conducive to restoration or preservation of health, especially when used as a resort of invalids. Sanitarium is the same except that it is restricted to a place where conditions are prophylactic instead of using therapeutic agencies.

Scribblers

Only seventy books a year were published in the reign of Louis XIV in France. Today 11,000 come off the press annually. The only difference is, the seventy are still read. Have we merely traded quality for quantity?

Ancient Weather-vane

The oldest of English weather-vanes is the beautiful Fourteenth century one in wrought copper pierced with the arms of Sir William Ethingham which still surmounts the tower of Ethingham church, in Sussex.

County of Rivers

Randolph county, West Virginia, claims that more rivers have their origin in that county or nearby than in any known place in the world. From this high land streams flow in practically all directions.

By Axe: The Grand Ole Man of Touch-football

We were called upon to officiate in the capacity of headlinesman and arbitrator of fair play in the great touch-football classic played at the Hospital Bowl last week between the Pi Kats and Apples stars and the Mercy boys, but we had to refuse the indignity on account we didn't have on our linen knickers. But Squint, the ole scab, consented to play second fiddle for a consideration of a box of Copenhagen and a slightly used but in good condition bottle capper.

We got quite a panning about the duck who gave us the birdie on our trip last week, when we gave out the salve that we thought it was a tame beast and were reluctant to buy the animal from some indignant farmer. But Squint goes out (it was his turn to use his gun) and brings home one wild Jersey cow, three wild chickens, two automobile tires, and one wild plow horse, to say nothing of several farm house windows which he was unable to crowd into his overloaded game bag.

Since everybody is starting a revival of one sort or other of ancient pastimes such as prohibition agencies, nudist culture, and yo-yo twirling, we have decided to go in for that old English sport of hunting with falcons. What a saving on ammunition and physicians bills this would be. We have sent out a call for several gentle falcons who know their business but as falcons seem to be rather scarce at present the only offers we have had to date are six buzzards (lilac scented), one pelican, and a sailors parrot. Send in your offers, dear readers, and we will see that they receive space in our already over-worked waste basket.

Depression Day was quite a flop last Friday since no one was able to distinguish the victims of the depression from the rest of the students. Imagine our embarrassment to have some wiseheimer tell us that our outfit is the best ever and us in our best collitch cut clothes which we have been wearing every day since September.

We are looking forward to the annual grid classic between the Frosh and Sophs with much expectancy. Both teams are having secret practice sessions each night on the golf links and Ollie and Ollie are posted to prevent scouting by either faction. It is reported that Oscar Zilch of Barber's College, '01, has accepted the invitation to referee the fracas. The local chapters of the W. C. T. U. and Izaak Walton League have been appointed as the receiving committee and their principal duty will be that of keeping the great Zilch from becoming plastered before the game as Oscar was also one of the Barbers' mainstays on the tank team.

And for those who persist in studying, we'd like to quote from scripture:

"If your nose is close to the grindstone rough, and you hold it down there long enough, in time you'll say there's no such thing as brooks that babble and birds that sing. These three will all your world compose—just you, the stone, and the damned old nose."

Amen!

MINERS AND METS

HOLD MEETING

Last Friday evening a large group of Miners and Mets assembled for another one of their interesting sessions. The speaker of the evening, Prof. Thornberry, was introduced by president J. K. Richardson.

Prof. Thornberry opened his talk by giving the history of metallurgy and ore dressing, starting with the time when metallurgists were referred to as blacksmiths, the extraction of metals from their ores was treated to the present day methods, which Prof. Thornberry referred to as being highly scientific. Prof. Thornberry is a strong advocate of the flotation process for ore concentration and valuable information was given on this subject. Many experiences and problems arising in practice were related with added interest to the listeners.

WALTER WINCHELL, RADIO'S "BLESSED EVENT"

Mrs. Winchell's bad little boy, Walter—known as "Gossip's Greatest American"—ETAOINTAOINNT ah, is now "telling all" over the radio, having recently "middle-aided" it with the sponsors of the Lucky Strike Dance Hour—promising to be very, very bad throughout all of the programs, for a limited period of four weeks.

Walter introduces the various famous dance bands that are heard on these thrice weekly programs—a different band each period, playing from wherever it's getting its mail at the moment—to say nothing of slipping the dear radio public the very latest "insides" on personalities of the "daze". And is the microphone's face red?

For those who want waltzes with their Winchell, there's Wayne King and his Orchestra, floating in from Chicago—or if it's the movie star's favorite rhythms that are desired after "little boy peep" has stopped for breath, Gus Arnheim and his Orchestra are playing once a week from Los Angeles. And, of course, there's the quickened tempos of Andy Sannella's Orchestra playing from New York for those who want their music like their gossip—"low down."

In fact there's never been anything like it on the radio and already telegrams and letters from enthusiastic listeners may be found on the desks of the sponsors, piled way up to here.

Joe Stevens seemed insulted when everybody tried to borrow his clothes to wear that day. Darby Hale should be nominated for the most depressed individual on the campus. business away from themselves. In this way, they are all carrying on a fight among themselves, and thus no one of them is doing the proper amount of business that would be beneficial to any degree. Dean Stephens suggested a solution for the future. He believes that the railroads should absorb these other means of transportation, and regulate each division according to the demand and usefulness of it. He also prophesied that railroads would have two different lines; one for fast transportation, and one for slow transportation. In this way the competition now in effect would be avoided, and each division would work for the benefit of the others.

We hope that Dean Stephens will make another visit to M. S. M. soon to give those who did not get a chance to hear him this time, will be given another opportunity.

BEWARE! FOOTBALL PLAYERS

South Bend, Ind.—(I P)—This is a story which shows how a stitch in time might have won a ball game, and is entitled "Those Torn Old Canvass Pants That Miller Wore." It is a saga calling for soft music, for it was a tragic thing. Here are the facts:

Harry Miller was playing left half for Notre Dame against Marquette in 1909. It was Miller's last game—and Marquette was strong.

About six weeks before this game the Notre Dame boys had attended a charity bazaar, and a gypsy fortune teller had told Miller: "Six weeks from today you will come into land." As the game progressed Miller realized that this must have meant quite the reverse. The land was coming into him by the mouthful. The field was sandy and Marquette hit hard. Miller's nose long since had lost all its skin, and his forehead had been rubbed raw against the sandy soil.

What the heck—this was a football game, and it was almost over and the score was 0-0. Miller's signal was called—he got the ball—he banged around one end—his interference mowed down the opposition—and, save for the Marquette quarterback, Miller was free.

But Marquette's quarter, a chap named Ellson, gave a mighty leap through space and slammed into Miller's legs. But Miller was no slouch of a ball player. He gave Ellson the stiff arm—he wriggled and twisted and lifted his knees high—and suddenly there was a great ripping sound.

Miller was free, but the rear of his trousers was flapping behind him like a—well, they were flapping behind him. His face was crimson—he was only 21—and he thought: "Oh, why didn't I have that little tear sewed up before the game." His first thought was to sit down then and there, but his second thought was: "Even though it ruin me socially, I'll have to keep running for Notre Dame."

He tried to grab the flapping canvass with one hand, and had succeeded in taking a couple of faltering steps, when—sowie—Marmay play on varsity football teams. And the moral of this should be patent to all football players.

"Where," said the News, "is the good old 'devil-may-care' spirit which does not stoop to petty things, which plays football for the fun of playing the game, and not for the hope that she (Yale) may prove herself a superior institution by defeating her adversary in Athletics?"

Yale played St. John's, while Harvard took on Dartmouth and Holy Cross before the Harvard-Yale game.

A Prolongation

Salt Lake City—(I P)—Co-eds at the University of Utah have turned a cold shoulder to the demands of a new 50-50 Club of the men students here, the purpose of which was to demand that the co-eds pay half the cost of all campus dates. The women students said they had no particular objection to the plan of a 50-50 date proposition, but they disliked the way in which the 50-50 Club went about obtaining its purpose.

The thrill of Harvard students gained by a report that unchaperoned women would be allowed to visit Elliott House, a student dormitory, vanished as university officials denied the report.

ATTENTION CERAMISTS

Chicago—(I P)—The mud pies that children often make could be eaten with enjoyment by many adults in various parts of the world, according to facts revealed in "Geophagy", a book published recently by Dr. Berthold Laufer, curator of anthropology at the Field Museum of Natural History.

Dr. Laufer has made extensive research in geophagy, which is the practice of eating clay, loam and other types of soil, which has published the results of his studies throughout many countries in both ancient and modern times. His investigations began with records of earth eating in China.

Traces of the custom have been found in Indo-China, Malayasia, Polynesia, Melanesia, Australia, India, Burma, Siam, Central Asia, Siberia, Persia, Arabia, Africa, Europe, North America, Mexico, Central America and South America.

As a rule not every kind of earth is eaten, according to Dr. Laufer, but only those kinds which recommend themselves thru certain qualities of color, odor, flavor, softness and plasticity.

Geophagy occurs among the most civilized nations as well as among primitive tribes. It bears no relation to climate, race, creed or culture. It is a habit that occurs among individuals and not among any particular tribal or social group.

The women of Spain, says Dr.

Laufer, once believed the eating of earth was an aid to a delicate complexion and the ladies of the Spanish aristocracy in the 17th Century had such a passion for geophagy that the ecclesiastic and secular authorities took steps to combat the evil.

Milder because they're fresh CAMELS are never parched or toasted!

FOLKS who smoke really fresh cigarettes made from choice sun-ripened tobaccos never have to give a thought to their throats.

That's because such fresh cigarettes retain natural moisture—and are gratefully smooth, cool, throat-friendly, mild.

Camels are the fresh cigarette—everyone knows that now—they're blended from the finest Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos that money and skill can buy.

We would never dream of parching or toasting these choice sun-ripened tobaccos—that would only drive off or destroy the natural moisture that makes Camels fresh in nature's own mild way.

The Camel Humidor Pack protects a fine cigarette fresh with natural moisture—it could do little or nothing to freshen a cigarette that is dried-out or factory-stale.

If you smoke for pleasure, see for yourself what freshness means in mildness and flavor—switch to Camels for just one day—then leave them, if you can!

FIVE STAR FINAL

The fact that the life of a newspaper man is not at all easy is shown in Five Star Final. An editor allows his paper to print a murder mystery that had been solved after a lapse of 20 years. The murderess had gained fame as a society woman until her identity was revealed. A double tragedy followed the revelation. The cast includes E. G. Robinson, H. B. Warner and Marian Marsh.

PENROD AND SAM

Booth Tarkington's masterpiece, Penrod and Sam is excellently produced on the screen with Leon Janney and Junior Coghlan playing the parts of Penrod and Sam, respectively. The story unfolds in much the same manner on the screen as in the much read book. The trials in the life of youngsters are humorously brought forth.

THE MAGNIFICENT LIE

Ruth Chatterton one of the screen's foremost emotional actors, combines her efforts with those of Stuart Erwin in producing a really good play. On a bet Ruth fools a handsome young man who has temporary spells of blindness, but she falls into her own trap. Ralph Bellamy, one of the screen's latest finds, plays opposite Miss Chatterton.

LOVER COME BACK

Again a man fails to choose wisely. Jack Mulhall deserts his real sweetheart, Constance Cummings to marry a flirt, Betty Bronson, who soon shows her true colors. Jack obtains definite proof that his wife is untrue and its Reno and his real love for Jack. The picture is well cast and well directed.

BORN TO LOVE

Constance Bennett plays another of her inimitable roles in "Born to Love." Discouragement forces her to give up her true love and take the easiest route. She finds that the easiest way is not always the best and her lover, Joel McCrae, returns to rescue her.

Water Polo Squad Fast Developing Into Excellent Team

opinion about the water polo team, it is not a separate thing but an integral part of the M. S. M. swimming team. Coach Gow is the coach of the swimmers and Stevenson, captain of Chicago's water polo team when he was a student there, coaches the poloists but is assisted along this line by Coach Gow. There are 30 men on the swimming team and 15 to 20 of these are aspirants for a place on the water polo team also. The game of water polo is not played separately, but as the last event on a regular swimming meet.

The water polo game consists of two teams of seven men each and has 7 minute halves. It is played in a regulation pool and with a ball quite similar to a volley ball. The game is across between ice hockey and basketball except for the place where it is played. The goals are similar to the goals in hockey. They are 10 feet wide, three feet high and 1 foot in depth. A goal is made by passing or throwing the ball into the goal, passed a goal keeper and the ball must touch the back of the net or pool to count. The rules used by the M. S. M. team are the International rules, not the collegiate rules which hold sway on the East coast.

A team of seven men, three of which are forwards, three are guards and one as goal keeper. Teams are distinguished in the water by their different colored caps. One team wearing white and the other wearing blue caps. The rules are quite strict, a few of them are as follows: It is a foul to touch the ball with both hands unless you are goal keeper, not allowed to push off of sides, bottom, goals, or opponent except for starting or restarting, not allowed out of water while in game and can't stand on the bottom during a play in which you are participating. Foul if you hold or impede any opponent unless he has ball in his possession and he cannot carry the ball underneath the water when tackled. For a player to maintain a position inside his opponents two yard line or to change position in the water after the referee's whistle has blown, to deliberately splash on an opponent or to hit the ball with a clenched fist is considered a foul.

The penalty for a foul is a free throw consisting of a free pass to any team-mate without opposition until the ball is thrown unless the referee decides the foul was willful. If this is the case the penalty is the banishment of the player committing the foul from the game until a goal is made. This gives the team upon whom the foul was committed an advantage in strength in the pool.

Coach Cow has made plans for a swimming meet and polo game either between two chosen teams from the present squad or make it a championship meet and have each man swim in his best division and have a polo game between two picked teams.

WHAT A MAN

New York—(IP)—A "beating up" has been promised Reed Harris, editor of the Columbia Spectator, by members of the Columbia University football team, if he persists in writing editorials to the effect that the alumni of the university are secretly passing out sums of money to the members of the grid squad.

Whoever is assigned to do the "beating up" will have a tough time of it, however, for Harris weighs no less than 215 pounds and once played football himself. And that the scrap is likely to occur is evidenced by the fact that Harris has announced, to the faces of the protesting gridders, that he'll say whatever he pleases about the football team in the Spectator.

LONG RANGE DEBATING

New York—(IP)—Tentative plans of the National Broadcasting Co. call for an international debate by radio between Harvard and Oxford Universities some time in the first week of December.

The argument, between the two famous schools 3,000 miles apart and separated by the Atlantic Ocean, will be rebroadcast in this country to the national hookup of the NBC, and it is probable that the British Broadcasting Co. will do the same in England.

The event, the first of its kind ever to be held, will also be the first debate between Harvard and Oxford since 1925.

Prehistoric Indian Skulls

Skulls dug up at Tampa, Fla., about four years ago are in the possession of the Smithsonian institution. These skulls were in very poor condition when received, and may be said to have no extraordinary value other than anthropological remains from any other locality. They are examples of the Indian population of Florida during the late prehistoric and early historic times and antedate the present aboriginal people of Florida, the Seminoles.

Moses With "Horns"

Horns on the head of Moses, in some of the early pictures, are accounted for by a blunder in the translation of the Book of Exodus 34:29-30. In some of the early translations of the Hebrew phrase stating that the face of Moses shone or sent forth beams were erroneously translated "sent forth horns." Michelangelo, one of the greatest of painters, used the erroneous translations in his depiction of Moses.
