FORTY-FIVE GIRLS WILL TAKE PART IN GENERAL LECTURES CONCERT HERE

The general Lecture followers will be permitted a real treat here Thursday evening when the forty-five members of the Girls Glee Club from the Springfield Teachers College give an assuredly interesting and entertaining concert at Parker Hall.

REINECKE DELIVERS ADDRESS AT PARKER HALL LAST THURSDAY

PROMINENT ENGINEER SPEAKS OF RIVER AND LAKE WORK

The opening number of the second half of the General Lecture Program was presented by Major P. S. Reinecke, who is assistant to General Jackson in charge of the flood control work along the entire Mississippi River. We are indebted to Dr. Bardsley of our faculty for bringing to us this man of authority in his field to speak on the subject, "Some Aspects of the Mississippi River Flood Control."

Maj. Reinecke opened his address with a brief resume of flood control from the time when the Indian was the only American, up to the time that the present national program was begun. He explained that they are using three methods of control in the attempt to stem the ravages of the river, namely, "the keep in method, the take out method, and the keep out method."

The body of the lecture was given over to a discussion of the problems confronting them and the means in use to accomplish their end. The latter part of the time was used to show some interesting pictures which illustrated the methods used in the construction of levees, and in the construction and placement of revetments which serve to "nail the river down" into its channels and prevent its wandering all over the valley. In conclusion Maj. Reinecke stated

ENTIRE SPRINGFIELD GIRLS GLEE CLUB TO STAY OVER FOR DANCE

45 Beautiful Ladies Will Be Guests of St. Pats Board Here Thursday

PROBABLY THE BIGGEST AND BEST DANCE OF THE YEAR WILL BE GIVEN THURSDAY IMMEDIATELY AFTER CONCERT.

A call to Springfield by a member of the staff of The Miner verified the fact that the group of 45 girls who sing in the glee club of the Springfield Teachers College will remain for the dance which will be given in their honor by the St. Pats Board immediately after the concert Thursday.

Without doubt the dance should be one of the liveliest and most successful of any of the entertainments yet sponsored by the Board. The old question of not enough girls to dance with will be settled for one night at least. The date is near the first of the month and everyone will have the full amount of capital necessary to finance a glorious evening of exciting dancing.

Rumors report that the ability as musicians of the Springfield ladies is excelled only by their charm and beauty. The girls have made many successful trips already this year and they are now at the peak of their season.

Everyone out, Miners. Joins us in the exceedingly pleasant pastime of entertaining beautiful damsels to the enchanting strains of dreamy waltzes and snappy fox trots. Babe Clemmons and his varsity band will play for the occasion.

TWO CONFERENCE TESTS ESTABLISH MINERS IN UPPER HALF OF M. C. U. QUINTETS

A traveling Miner quintet broke even on last weeks games by winning from William Jewel 21 to 19 and losing to Central 28 to 15.

The Miner-Central game which was played at Fayette, was very close until the last eight minutes of play, at which time Central got a one point lead and started to stall, holding the ball back in their territory until a good hole was made in the Miners defense. Upon the opening of a good hole, Central would break fast and come up in back of the Miner defense and score from under the basket.

McIntyre, the captain of the Central squad was high point man of not only his team but of the game as well with a total of 11 points. Jenkins scored four points for the Miners and was high point man for them. This game was officiated with Simpson as referee

ONE CONFERENCE CAGE TILT ON MINER LIST FOR THIS WEEK HERE

DRURY WILL BE ENGAGED IN RETURN MATCH FRIDAY

After having lost but one conference cage contest so far this season, the Golden Wave will have an excellent chance to retain their conference standing when the quintet from Drury battles here Friday night.

Central took the toll of the M. S. M. five at Fayette last week and the Miners are provided opportunity for quick revenge. The results of the contests this week will determine to a great extent the respective powers of the various teams in the M. C. U.

Rapp has his men well in hand and a good contest is assured for each night.

The starting lineup has not as yet been named but it will probably include Capt. Tittle and Kirchoff at guards, Jenkins at center and Bubas and Gross at forwards.

COURTESY

At times in a school composed of practically all boys, there is a tendency toward laxity in the courtesy which is due others, no matter what their mission.

A decidedly bad impression is made on anyone when discourteous remarks are directed at him or his work. Such matters mean nothing to the discourteous one but often leave a lasting imprint on the mind of the one at whom the remarks are directed. Actions speak louder than words and discourteous actions are intolerable.

It is common knowledge that Miners can get tough if necessary, but it is even more common knowledge that those same Miners are courteous, respectful and the possessors of all other good qualities that go into the making of a perfect gentleman.

Possibly one of the best times to be over courteous is when student organizations from other colleges are giving a program for the entertainment of the Miners. Such a time will arrive when the Springfield Teachers Girls Glee Club gives a recital here Thursday evening. This type of entertainment is thoroughly enjoyed by everyone and more such programs will probably be arranged in the future.

Let's all cooperate and show the Springfield girls a really nice time.

Hell Week

Is a Freshman worth pledging for an organization, worth retaining as a member?

Certainly an organization must so consider the Frosh or it would not have pledged him. Yet, through the functions and duties of "Hell Week" and initiation, which generally take place at the beginning of a semester, when the student should be getting a thorough understanding of the fundamentals of a new subject, he is, in many cases, prevented from giving the necessary time to accomplish this. As a result he is handicapped all through that course. Indeed, through his lack of preparation and understanding, the student often gives to the instructor a poor first impression of himself and in many cases this lack of thorough knowledge of fundamentals results in failure, even though the student had the natural ability to pass the subject if not interfered with in his preparation. Certainly an instructor cannot be expected to accept as an excuse for not preparing the assignment, the lack of time, from such a cause.

Why not reverse the order? I believe some organizations do. Make as a requirement of "Hell Week" and similar periods, that the student first prepare his given class assignments and then regulate the "horse play" to the remaining available time. This remaining time can be regulated somewhat by assisting those less brilliant students in their preparations.

I believe the functions and purposes of initiation could be just as well fulfilled under the above process and the results be much improved from the standpoint of the student, the organization and the school.

"PLATINUM BLONDE"

When two such lovely ladies as Loretta Young and Jean Harlow work together something enjoyable is bound to result. These two popular stars, with the assistance of Robert Williams, produce a really entertaining picture with the proper amount of humor. See what happens when a brazen reporter marries a clammy society blonde. The work of Robert Williams, is very credible. The direction, action and the gags help a great deal to make the picture.

TULANE VS SO. CALIFORNIA

A complete play-by-play record of last January 1st is to be shown. This picture should be of extreme interest to sports fans. Many slow motion plays are shown to allow complete understanding of the ground gaining plays as they are used by the worlds best football teams. The great but losing fight staged by the Tulane eleven is clearly shown in this picture of much action.

"SUICIDE FLEET"

Another big drama was produced, starring Bill Boyd. Bill has the very able assistance of the wise-cracking comedy pair, Robert Armstrong and James Gleason. Ginger Rogers comes in for her share of praise. She easily carries the feminine roles without assistance. The tautness of the nerves of men on the dead watch is brought out. Some very dramatic scenes broken by comedy create interest in the picture.

"A DANGEROUS AFFAIR"

That powerful, masterful actor, Jack Holt has produced another dramatic hit filled with plenty of breath taking action. He is ably assisted by Ralph Graves, Sally Blane, and Susan Fleming. Many tense moments develop when a joke becomes "a dangerous affair." Some clever detective's work is featured in the picture.

Our idea of a good racket would be to "fix" dates with the Springfield Teacher Girls Glee Club, but Ye Ed has under bid us since he says he knows one. Nevertheless this column will sponsor dates for a consideration. If you see a name that looks nice, take a chance but don't sign anything or send any photographs.

We have been catching all of the infernal discomfort promised in the old testament to all engineers and columnists. Ye Ed wants the dirt and after we corner the market on said article, he turns around and gives us that old ong and dance "You can't get away with that in my tabloid." But somehow, the slime will leak out and he parties that happen to be on the fry trot out the blood hounds and raise the hue and cry for our thinning scalp. We tried using Herpicide, but found that even that wouldn't protect us from the wrath of the indignant.

We must be losing out grip for well do we recall the dear, dead days etc., when we were young Magnolia, when men were men and the plumbing was atrocious. We could slap our grandma or even push little babies off the bridge with a single qualm. Now we are involved in the toils of human sentiment but after we have passed beyond the veil (hey, hey), emember, if you will, that we can't all be politicians and that some of us must make an honest living. (Please omit flowers).

We are reminded of the story, with apoplexy to the narrator, of the editor who was criticised for his exaggeration and carelessness of the truth. A a result he mended his ways and in writing of the wedding ceremony of one of the village belles, he stuck to his guns and described her as a very commonplace gal and stated that she was in all other ways no bargain. His address is now somewhere east of Suez, and his occupation s raising a thirst.

We believe that more mazuma would have been forth coming into the coffers of the local charity box, had the committee of ways and means seen fit to stage a bathing beauty contest of living models from the Follies, Scandals, or some other band of charmers, instead of sponsoring a carnival of male all-stars at the pool last Friday night. Needless to say the party was all wet. Eagle stamps were given at the Thrift and many prizes went to the highest bidders. Charity, what crimes are committed in thy fair name.

In the Miner-William Jewel game

those who were present saw two evenly matched teams vie for honors in a game that was fast and furious from beginning to end. This game which was marked by numerous fouls saw Jenkins of M. S. M. and Hunter of William Jewel removed from the play by personals. With the taking out of Jenkins, three other Miners were given an opportunity to show their worth at the position of center. First Joslin, then Kennard, and third Pfeiffer. This game saw the captain of the Miner team, Tittle, as high point man for them, while Green and Albright shared scoring honors for William Jewel with six points each.

The Miners led all the way with the exception of the first five minutes of play. After that they caught on to things and while William Jewel was constantly threatening, they succeeded in playing their type of game. The game was refereed by Mason, and the starting lineup follows:
