FIGHTING MINERS

Powell A. Dennie . . . was recently appointed a Naval Aviation Cadet and was transferred to the Naval Air Training Center, Pensacola, Florida, for intermediate flight training.

Prior to entering the Naval Service, Cadet Dennie received his B. S. degree from Missouri School of Mines.

Early in January, he was sent to the Naval Air Station in Olathe, Kan., where he successfully completed the elimination training course May 20.

Upon completion of the intensive course at the "Annapolis of the Air," Dennie will receive his Navy "Wings of Gold" with the designation of Naval Aviator, and will be commissioned an Ensign in the Naval Reserve or a Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve. Powell is the son of Prof. "Spike" Dennie of the mathematics department.

Velma Huskey . . . has recently been transferred to the Big Spring Bombardier School at Big Spring, Texas, and will be assigned to some phase of the service here which will relieve a soldier for combat duty.

Miss Huskey, graduated from the Sumnersville High School in 1934, and later attended Missouri School of Mines.

Miss Huskey, a former rural school teacher worked as a telephone operator for the Ingalls Shipbuilding Corp. in Pascagoula, Miss., before her enlistment in the WAAC's back in January of this year.

The Big Spring Bombardier School, one of the world's largest bombing colleges, graduates a new class of highly trained bombardiers every three weeks. The bombardier is the important member upon whose ability, accuracy and precision rests the success of each bombing mission. His performance in the many theatres of war has already earned for him the name of that "hell from heaven" man.

Louie Ernest Bartels . . . won his Navy "Wings of Gold" and was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve this week following completion of the prescribed flight training center, Pensacola, Fla.

Prior to entering the Naval Service, Lieutenant Bartels attended Missouri School of Mines for two years and was a member of the varsity basketball team.

Having been designated a Naval Aviator, Lieutenant Bartels will go on active duty at one of the Navy's air operational training centers before being assigned to a combat zone.

As a MINER Sees it

This week we bid adieu to another good boy. Gale Fulghum. Tough luck, he joined the reserve between semesters and was called unexpectedly. The Tech club has just heard from Jim McGovern. He and Miller and White send their love.

Have you seen the mighty mite, Sampson Simons traveling around behind the most glorious beard ever? It is really a set of whiskers that makes less fortunate ones start using hair tonic. When your reporter asked for a statement this is what he got: "tell the freshmen that the Meks make the world go round and they better know the answer when asked." Although off-hand, the seniors don't seem to be getting the proper respect from the lower classes. I speak of the infamous pantsing of Roger Heidenreich. Seems that there were four to one, and Roger wasn't feeling so good that day. At any rate there is sure hell to pay.

The hazing of the freshmen is proceeding in fine fashion. That snake dance last week was something to be proud of. It is requested however, that the rough stuff be cut out on the main drag, the good guy don't appreciate our efforts. The most amazing thing was the upperclassmen who were dishing out the suspenders, there were about a dozen of them cowering about fifty frosh.

The golf course is really in fine shape this summer. We were afraid that it might be neglected under stress of the war effort but it is as good as ever. Wonder if anything can be done to open the school showers in the evenings. It couldn't be even hoped that the pool would be open, but it would be a joy to the soul to have the showers open for a quick refresh after a hot evening's work. This is especially desirable to the Independents who seldom have shower facilities, living as they do in private residences.

J. J. makes the headlines again! It was the first upset that he has encountered since he and A. D. began their spring woffing. Seems that he whips up to his late date's house about 1:30 all set for a time. Imagine his chagrin when he found her sitting on the front porch with her early date. We still wonder what he said as he bid them hello.

The spring bug has tackled two more. Boot's Clayton's son and that most delightful of good fellows, a truly lovely guy, Raymond Asten, who was wildly cheered by the Miners as he left.

Last week a Miner and his date were discussing astronomy and economics on the upper field when they noticed flashlights to the left of them. After the flashlight bearers left, our friends approached the spot where they had been seen and found to their surprise a pair of gunny sack dresses with pledge pins attached. They took the whole works and retired to a safe distance to watch. After giving the pledges a worrisome half-hour, the garments were returned quietly and our friends evaporated. How long after that it was before the pledges found their property is not known. Moral: Never give a pledge an even break.

Gostin really does OK in that snazzy roadster, and believe it or not guys, it has tires on it. That

Alpha Pi Omega To Hold Smoker For Pledges

At a meeting last Tuesday night A. P. O. decided to give a smoker for prospective pledges, Wednesday night June 30 at 7 p.m. in the Club Room of the Met building.

An outline of Alpha Pi Omega will be given by several speakers. It is hoped that all men interested in joining this organization will attend. Refreshments will be served.

Also at this meeting various projects were planned to be completed later in the semester, such as; keep off the grass signs, scouting activities and various other projects.

The book exchange will be closed. The book exchange will be closed. The exact date on which owners may get their books will be posted on the bulletin board.

Brothers Waltenspiel, Wolfarth, and Walker are on the refreshment committee for the smoker.

Mikhailovitch's Brother III

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UP)—Harry Mikhailovitch, 48, brother of Gen. Draja Mikhailovitch, the Serbian patriot who is holding out against the Germans in the mountains of Serbia, has been critically ill here recently in the General hospital. Several From Here in Navy's V-12 Program

AMES, Ia. (Special) — The Navy's V-12 program, designed to train officers for the nation's fleet, will begin at Iowa State College July 1, according to word received here. More than 800 men will be assigned to the local Men from Rolla include —

Eric Morton Casey, Gilbert Carafiol, Anton Leone and James Wilbur Ranes.

The Navy will hold the men here for instruction in 16-week terms with the number of terms varying according to the training requirements. Aviation cadets will receive two terms of training; engineers for general duty will receive six terms and engineer specialists eight terms of training. The students will be in class from 52 to 58 hours per week.

While in attendance at Iowa State College the Navy men, who will be given the rating of apprentice seamen and will be in uniform, will carry on every activity of college life which will not interfere with their training. Navy authorities have announced. They will participate in the social, extra-curricular and athletic activities carried on by the regularly enrolled students where time permits.

The enrollment of V-12 men brings to the total of Navy men on the Iowa State campus to more than 2,300. This figure includes men from the diesel, electrical, cooks and bakers, and aviation cadet schools.

200-Year-Old Bible Is Gift to Colgate

HAMILTON, N. Y. (UP) — A copy of the first edition of the Christopher Saur Bible, published 200 years ago in Germantown, Pa., and regarded by some historians as the most important project of the entire colonial press, has been presented to Colgate university's German department.

The book, a gift of Mrs. H. M. Rowe, widow of a former Hamilton attorney and now a teacher at the Rome State School, is highly valued because it represents the first serious attempt at bible publishing in America. The volume will form the nucleus for a found of German books in the German seminar room, Dr. C. Elwood Gates, chairman of the German department, announced.

History of the Bible, in quarto format, bound in beveled boards and covered with strong leather, is obscure. Mrs. Rowe secured it in a Pennsylvania bookstore.

New Testing Machine Speeds Fuse Springs

CLEVELAND (UP) — Another "bottleneck" in the way of all-out production for victory has been broken—thanks to the brainwork of engineers and technicians of the American Steel and Wire company.

Heretofore, testing of fuse springs for various types of projectiles within extremely close tolerances was a tedious process performed entirely by hand. Failure of improper functioning of a fuse spring results in a mis-explosion, an imminent explosion or a complete "dud".

Trained specialists of the American Steel and Wire company got their heads together to solve the delaying bottleneck and came up with an intricate device which not only gives the springs a much more rigid examination than ever before but also sorts and classifies them.

Officials say the testing machine has "almost human" qualities.

Farmer Calls on Yankee Ingenuity

ROCKPORT, Mass. (UP)—Yankee ingenuity has solved the farm problem for Farmer Roy H. Lane. Lane, owner of a 60-acre farm, was afraid the cost of planting might be too much for him this year. Finally, he hit upon a novel solution. He sold the not-yet planted 1943 crop to non-farming neighbors, arranging a 50 per cent payment in advance and the rest on delivery.

The medal, when it arrives, will be given to Colonel Mijer by Col. Paul L. Singer, commander of American forces in Dutch Guiana and French Guiana.

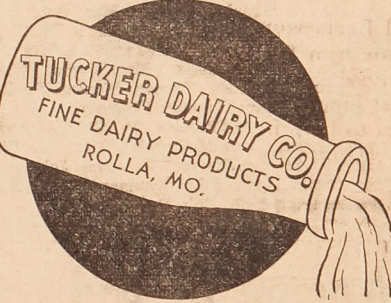

Dutch Colonel Wins U. S. Order of Merit

PARAMARIBO, Dutch Guiana (UP)—Col. Johannes K. Mijer, territorial commander of the Dutch Army here, has received citation from the United States government for the Order of Merit medal, for excellent co-operation received by U. S. troops stationed here.

The medal, when it arrives, will be given to Colonel Mijer by Col. Paul L. Singer, commander of American forces in Dutch Guiana and French Guiana.

LENINGRAD UNDER ATTACK.

MOSCOW, June 29.—(UP)—Front dispatches today reported heavy aerial fighting over the approaches to Leningrad with German bomber squadrons attacking around-the-clock in an attempt to exhaust Soviet fighter units. Nearly 24 hours of daylight prevail at Leningrad at this season, and the Germans were reported taking full advantage of the light to send wave after wave of strongly-escorted bombers against the city.

F.B.I. ALREADY ON STRIKES.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(UP)—Federal agents were believed today to be investigating the continuing coal strikes and the two new walkouts which have occurred since the federal anti-strike law was enacted. A justice department official said investigations would be started whenever strikes occur. It could not be determined definitely that inquiries were under way in connection with the coal strikes and stoppages at a Detroit Chrysler plant and the Best Foods Corp., Bayonne, N. J., plant, but justice department policy forbids discussion of investigations that are under way.

Troops Return To Fort Wood After Flood Work

More than 2,000 Fort Leonard Wood soldiers returned to camp last week end after battling Missouri river flood waters for eight days.

The trip back to camp was started after high waters had reached their crest and had passed the areas guarded by the troops. Most of the work consisted of reinforcing the crumbling levees with sandbags. At times the pace of the work reached a peak where shifts worked as long as 30 hours at a stretch.

The soldiers were from the 177th, 949th, 943rd and 182nd F. A. battalions. Three of the battalions left for the flood areas June 15 and the others left two days later.

The troops slept in their pup tents and were assigned the task of reinforcing breaking levees from Orrick to Hartzberg.

'A Mere Pin-Prick' Scoffs Al Falfa, Giving His Blood

By AL FALFA

Giving a pint of blood to help save a soldier's life was just about the easiest thing we've ever experienced.

Why, there's nothing to it—a mere pin-prick—and it's all over. Your favorite correspondent, who happened to be one of the first of the 500 to go through the Red Cross Blood Bank laboratory is pleased to report that a pleasant experience is ahead for those who have not yet given their blood.

The Red Cross takes no chances, however. With a complete and efficient staff of doctors and registered nurses, they "process" each donor thoroughly. Our temperature, blood pressure, pulse, etc., were taken and a questionnaire filled out. Then a drink of fruit juice (served by the accommodating Newburg Canteen Corps ladies) and we were asked to recline on a cot.

Dr. Albert A. Kuhn, a lieutenant in the U. S. Army assigned to the Red Cross Blood Bank, painlessly inserted a needle in our right arm and said, "Open and close your hand slowly, drawing the fist tight each time."

"How many times have you said that?" we asked the doctor. "Oh, about 40,000 times," he answered.

Five minutes later Nurse Selma Kelm came by the cot and said, "That's all." In surprise we asked, "You mean we're all through?"

"Yes, that's all. Your pint of blood will soon be ready for shipment to the battle fronts."

The Newburg ladies then served us sandwiches and a hot cup of coffee. One of the Rolla corps workers gave us a button to wear with the inscription: "Pro Patria, American Red Cross Blood Donor." We're proud of it. And for some reason, we walked rather jauntily away from East Elementary school, smiling with reassurance to the line of folks walking to the school.

20 Stands Set up for Carnival

Twenty stands have been set up, devising ways and means to entertain the fun-seekers at the Lions carnival, opening here tomorrow.

Besides the 20 amusement stands, there will be the always-popular ferris wheel and merry-go-round rides for young and old, according to M. C. Smith, general chairman.

Fortunate to Get Rides

"We were fortunate in obtaining our rides," Chairman Smith said, "because in some other communities where carnivals are being held it has been impossible to get the rides because of help and material shortages."

For a detailed description of the "stands" and "rackets," designed for the amusement of the carnival patrons, see page three of this issue of the NEW ERA.

True to the Fourth of July tradition, a fireworks display will be shown Friday evening. On the first two nights—Wednesday and Thursday—attendance prizes will be awarded. The grand awards—totaling $1,000 in U. S. War Bonds—will be made Saturday evening during the grand finale.

Good Weather Assured!!

With good weather in prospect (the Lions carnival always commands ideal weather) and with thousands always on hand to enjoy the event (for the benefit of worthy local projects) there is every indication of a successful and fun-filled four days ahead.

An illustration and question to guess—if he doesn't know the answer, and the correct answer is given the following week. The series has become a "game" with some, and quite a source of U. S. historical facts.

Escapes Injury When Gasoline Truck Overturns

Paul Kittle narrowly escaped injury last Friday when a truck containing 4,000 gallons of army aviation gasoline, which he was driving turned over beside a creek near Edwardsville, Ill. Kittle suffered only minor scratches and all of the gasoline was salvaged.

Kittle is a brother-in-law of Kenneth Asher and his wife is living here.

The accident occurred when a car stopped in the middle of the road on a bridge and to avoid a collision Kittle swung the truck to the left and in so doing turned the truck over. One door of the cab was against a tree and the other door was in the bank, pinning Kittle in the cab for about a half hour. He was practically unconscious when removed from gasoline fumes, which had soaked his clothing from his own gasoline tank. None of the aviation gasoline was lost and it was pumped into another truck following the accident.

A picture of the accident appeared in city papers this week end, showing the salvaging of the gasoline.

Air Assaults on Ruhr, Italian Mainland Continue

LONDON, June 29.—(UP)—British bombers in great strength sent the record-shattering Anglo-American air offensive through its tenth straight night with crushing block-buster assaults on Cologne, Germany's third largest city, and a subsidiary raid on Hamburg, its biggest port, last night.

Twenty-five bombers were lost in the two-pronged attack, which followed by only a few hours American daylight raids on the big German U-boat base of St. Nazaire, on the Atlantic coast, and an important Nazi fighter base at Beaumont le Roger, 70 miles northwest of Paris.

RAF fighters and Albacores of the fleet air arm joined in last night's offensive with an attack on an enemy convoy trying to slip through Dover Strait with supplies or reinforcements for German garrison forces on the French coast. At least one of the three merchant ships in the convoy and two of the escorting motor torpedo boats were damaged, the Air Ministry said. Altogether the RAF has sunk or damaged nearly a million tons of enemy shipping in attacks from British bases since June, 1941, including 250,000 tons in the past year alone.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 29.—(UP)—One hundred American Flying Fortresses loosed a nine-minute thunderbolt raid on the Italian port of Leghorn, 200 miles north of Rome, yesterday, damaging a light cruiser and four supply ships and firing oil refineries, it was announced today.

The round-trip raid of at least 1,800 miles climaxed a night and day of heavy attacks by the Northwest African Air Forces on Sicily and Sardinia, during which 12 intercepting enemy aircraft were shot down. Only two Allied planes were lost in all operations.

Flying Fortresses first bombed Leghorn, on the Ligurian sea 50 miles southeast of Spezia, on May 28, when four ships were hit, a large oil refinery set afire, and railway tracks and rolling stock blasted.

British Wellington bombers launched the latest series of attacks by Allied planes against Premier Mussolini's battered domain with an assault Sunday night on the railway yards at San Giovanni, one of the mainland termini of the important ferry line to Sicily.

American medium bombers took over in daylight, concentrating on Sardinian airfield. Mitchells, with an escort of Lightnings, bombed the barracks, administrative buildings, hangars and dispersal areas at the Olbia-Vena Fiorita and Alghero-Fertilia airfields.

Marauders, also escorted by Lightnings and Warhawks, raided the airfields at Milis and Decimomannu.

New Food Czar Takes Up Work

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(UP)—Marvin Jones, the third war food administrator in three months, today begins another administration attempt to bolster a faltering food program under what President Roosevelt calls "coordinated controls" policy.

That policy—divided authority on production, rationing and price fixing of food—forced Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard to yell "uncle" last March. He turned over the food administration's portfolio to Chester C. Davis, a pioneer New Dealer of the 1930's, whose resignation was accepted yesterday.

Disagrees With President

Informed sources said that Davis' sharp disagreement with the president stemmed from irreconcilable differences between the former food chief and the new stabilization director, Fred M. Vinson, who is supposed to referee disputes between the food and price administrators.

Those sources said Davis and Vinson have clashed frequently since the latter was appointed to replace Davis' old post early this month. One dispute, it was said, involved the handling of the current corn shortage. Davis advocated all possible steps to force corn onto the market; Vinson was permitted to feed their crops to hogs in order to obtain a higher return on their produce.
