New Mining Head Arrives at MSM

Dr. J. D. Forrester, newly-appointed chairman of the Mining Engineering Dept. of M. S. M., has arrived in Rolla to take up his duties. Dr. Forrester is replacing Dr. Stanley A. Trengove as head of the Dept.

Dr. Forrester has had very wide and varied experience in mining, metallurgy and geology. He received his B. S. from the University of Utah; his M. S. and Ph. D. were conferred at Cornell University. Dr. Forrester has held the positions of Instructor in Metallurgy at the University of Utah and Instructor of Engineering Geology and Economic Geology at Cornell University. He recently resigned after five years service as chairman of the Dept. of Geology, School of Mines, University of Idaho.

Dr. Forrester's commercial activities have covered a wide area. He has fulfilled several consulting commissions in the states of Montana, Utah, Idaho, New Mexico, and Nevada. A large part of his work was done in mining; evaluation and appraisal in both open cut operations and underground workings. He also spent eight years in the mining geology department of the Anaconda Copper Mining Co., at Butte, Montana.

Dr. Forrester is a member of Phi Kappa Alpha social fraternity, Theta Tau professional engineering fraternity, the Society of Economic Geology, the Geological Society of America, and the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

Dr. Forrester stated that a Schor Trip may be offered in the middle of August. The trip will include a tour of the operations in the Tri-State lead and zinc district.

FIGHTING MINERS

Word has been received from his sister and his mother that another miner has been in the thick of the fighting in Europe. Lt. Paul Chapman, navigator on a B-17, has been reported missing over Belgium since June 12. Paul graduated from M. S. M. in 1940 in Petroleum Engineering. He took C. A. A. training here and was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Intramural Sports "Faltering Badly"

It was a dull week in regards to intramural sports, with a few tennis and golf matches being played, and with interest in the intramural football race fast waning.

On Wednesday, the Triangle-Kappa Sig football team met and defeated the champions Sigma Pi K A's by a 11-10 score. Last night, Theta Kap-Lambda Chi won over the Triangle-Kappa Sig team, 9-6, thereby moving into a three-way tie for second place with a "five and five" record. The second-place team will be decided when Theta Kap-Lambda Chi meets Engineers' Club this week.

Sigma Nu, giving up the ghost, forfeited two games last week and now have insured for themselves undisputed possession of last place. In golf, Engineers' Club won an easy victory over Lambda Chi. Sigma Nu followed suit by winning easily from the Triangle team. In the third and last game of the week, Kappa Sig lost at the hands of Sigma Pi.

There was only one tennis match played last week, a singles match between Kappa Sig and Sigma Pi, with Sigma Pi coming out on the better end of the score.

All the intramural games of late have been marked by an utter lack of interest on the part of the participants. Granting that the enrollment is small, it is still hard to swallow the fact that the Miners are losing their competitive spirit for which they have been famous in past years. Intramurals are just about the last visible sign of sports at MSM. If we let these die out we might just as well be going to a business school. There

As a MINER Sees it

Hell Week has rolled around again, and even though the war has curtailed operations to some extent, the spirit is still there (a little feeble after that second bottle, but it's there). Our Mexican amigo wasn't looking his usual debonair self for a few days... The Kappa Sig made like Pancho Villa for his benefit. The Triangles ran into a little difficulty also, but Maddox explained it all to the pros. What a fine confidence man he would have made, if he hadn't come to M. S. M. Anyway, the latest report from the battlefield is, "You're twenty years behind the times" (unquote). Guess who made that epic statement.

Not much doing last weekend, even though Sanders did find a fifth of Seagrams. Saturday night was kind of confusing, to say the least, and it would up with Triangle and Theta Kap congregating at the Snake House. Tappmeyer floated in and pulled his buddy Weinel out the wagon. They really work fine together—must hold each other's head. Vogt crawled all the way from Triangle and "rested" at Sigma Nu. He was so bored he went to sleep. One of the boys tried out the Sigma Nu front porch, also. They used a green shutter with yellow stripes to cart away the body next morning.

Maddox almost wore out the Snake's phone trying to locate some of his good buddies. Milz, our man-about-town, made the grade with "Sexy", who pulled the brightest remark of the year to our bouquet of Four Roses. She just can't understand why those soldiers whistle at her.

How about that FREE SHOW, Student Council? I don't think that's asking too much to arrange a little matter like this. The boys want one, and you're our representative....

Scheinman is fascinated by the evacuation in front of Parker: It even affected his appetite. To get rid of that tired feeling, try weightlifting. Look (You'll never see it again) what it did to "Muscles".

A few of the boys who were pulled out last semester have drifted back to see us (and those unforgettable Rolla belles). Most of them are in better shape than usual, after basic at Great Lakes and Fort Wood. However, underneath the uniforms they're still the same. Hope to see the boys come back again someday soon to rebuild the M. S. M. of old.

The slide rules are still pouring out. Even the transfers and G. P. hounds look like engineers now. Thanks, John.

I would like to quote Keller's ideas on the fair sex, as any Miner could make great use of them. However, they are a trifle unprintable in mixed company. He did recommend a monastery (the one at Cassino). The poor disillusioned fellow is liable to throw himself off the Edwin Long any day now.

Sorry, Rutledge, but as far as I can see you've been a model character this week. That fireman's life must have straightened you out.

Post-War College Curricula Must Continue Pre-War

(CREDIT TO G. E. NEWS) BUREAU

To supply the number of engineers necessary to rebuild for peace, colleges must continue in the post-war period their pre-war curricula, rather than "retrofit" overnight with completely new courses, Dr. A. R. Stevenson, Jr., of Schenectady, told members of the Society for Promotion of Engineering Education in an address at their convention in Cincinnati on June 23.

"During the war effort, industry has expanded rapidly and taken on many new, complicated and difficult tasks," said Dr. Stevenson, who is staff assistant to the vice president of the General Electric Company and administrator of the company's engineering education program.

"As a result, young engineers recently graduated from college have been given tremendous responsibilities which in the past would have been assigned only to much older men. They have carried these responsibilities superbly. This is a splendid tribute both to the young men and to the engineering colleges from which they were graduated. When an educational system has been turning out graduates who have met these present emergencies so splendidly, we hesitate to suggest changes."

Commenting on the return to college of the "handbook engineers" resulting from the A-12 and V-12 programs of the army and navy, he said:

"Since they will have obtained their previous education in accelerated courses where much of the information had to be pumped into them from handbooks without sufficient time to absorb the fundamental principles, we hope that the colleges will try to make up for this lack by putting more emphasis than ever on a real understanding of the fundamental principles of engineering. Most of the detailed handbook data originates in industry where it is used, and the colleges should concentrate on the fundamentals and leave to industry the use of handbook information."

There should be more opportunity for capable men to rise above the average, according to Dr. Stevenson.

"Pre-war engineering education has been criticized for paying too much attention to the average and backward and for failing to inspire and challenge the more brilliant students," he said. Special consideration should be given to the education of brilliant students in the post-war period, Dr. Stevenson pointed out, because such men "make the real contributions which benefit the masses."

Rolla Baseball Team Again Defeats St. James, 8-2

By BOB HARDEBECK

The local baseball team defeated St. James Sunday for the second time this year. St. James has a good team, but they just couldn't get by the pitching of that old maestro, Barney Ogle.

Just a word about Barney here: He is one of the few oldtimers still playing ball, and is well-known for his character as well as his playing ability. Let's hope Barney may continue to play for many seasons to come.

The line-up for Rolla in yesterday's game was changed in the sixth inning when Elliot relieved Ogle on the mound, and Vandiver took over from Hudgens behind the plate.

Next Sunday afternoon, the Rolla nine journeys to Crocker to play the boys there. Tuesday evening at 8:30, Rolla's softball team will play MSM on the Miner's diamond. (This game is subject to postponement.)

The box score on Sunday's game:

Reds Storm Approaches Of Warsaw

BULLETIN!

MOSCOW — The government newspaper Izvestia reported today that the Germans apparently were setting fire to Warsaw preparatory to abandoning the city, which was clouded by a pall of smoke.

MOSCOW, Aug. 1. —(UP)—Russian tanks, self-propelled guns and mechanized infantry stormed through the northeastern, eastern and southeastern suburbs of Warsaw today behind a mighty air and ground bombardment that pulverized Nazi strong points.

Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's 1st White Russian Army was pouring across the immediate approaches to the Polish capital on a 38-mile arc after cutting virtually all its communications lying on the east bank of the Vistula River.

(London sources estimated that Rokossovsky had thrown 1,000,000 men against Warsaw, while Berlin reported that the industrial area of Praga, directly across the Vistula from Warsaw proper, was under assault.)

Frank Ramey, Northwe Oil Man, Dies Unexpectedly

Frank Ramey, well known filling station operator, died unexpectedly today at the St. Louis hospital. His daughter, Mrs. Marie Stephens, was with him, on the way to a St. Louis hospital. A Null & Son ambulance went to the scene as soon as the report of Mr. Ramey's death reached here.

First reports indicated he was able to stop the car before succumbing to the sudden attack. His daughter, Mrs. Marie Stephens, was with him, on the way to a St. Louis hospital. A Null & Son ambulance went to the scene as soon as the report of Mr. Ramey's death reached here.

Mrs. Ramey was under a physician's care this morning as a result of the shock from her husband's unexpected death.

Mr. Ramey is a native of Lane's Prairie neighborhood north of here. He owned a farm there. Mr. and Mrs. Ramey purchased the old Leland place at the intersection of Highways 66 and 63 north of here in 1930, and built the large Phillips 66 service station. They also put up the tall neon sign atop the Ozark knoll. It can be seen for many miles in all directions.

They leased the station in 1940, moving to the farm, but returned to active management of it again last year when help became short. Before building the station at Northwey, Mr. Ramey was in the feed business here on Seventh street & Frisco tracks.

ROLLA CHILDREN "GET IN THE SCRAP"

A group of neighborhood children here, between the ages of 4 and 9, have formed themselves into a "secret" society, called the J. M. C. O. A. They are too young to be Boy or Girl Scouts, but wanted to be able to do something helpful, so the club's first project was a miniature waste paper collection. It proved to be not so miniature, though, because the seven children collected over one hundred pounds of waste paper from the immediate neighborhood in a little more than two hours, using their toy wagons and any other means of transportation available to convey the paper to the place of collection, the back yard of the Conrad home at 1106 Rolla Street.

The seven young patriots, who are responding to Donald M. Nelson's appeal for more and more waste paper, include: Max Cornell, Richard and Milton Magidson, Bobby and Jimmy Eshbaugh, Vincent Homan, and David and Ruth Conrad.

Yank Aim At Heart Of France

BULLETIN!

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Aug. 1. — American forces raced into Brittany toward the heart of France today, spearheading across the Seltene River in gains of 4½ miles below Avranches, while Canadian troops opened a new attack south of Caen at the other end of the swaying French front.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Aug. 1. — American armored forces pushed four and a half miles south from Avranches across the Seltene River into Brittany against only sporadic resistance today, rupturing another possible German defense line in a drive aimed squarely at the heart of France.

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley sent one armored column rumbling across the Seltene River, separating Normandy from Brittany, at Pontaubault, three and a half miles south of Avranches, and another spearhead across at Ducey, four and a half miles southeast of Avranches, United Press War Correspondent reported.

The speed of the advance and the chaotic state of the enemy's retreat indicated the Americans may have captured bridges across the Seltene at the two points intact. Gorrell said the Americans were rolling south and southeast virtually without opposition except for occasional shelling.

Urges Families Not Quiz Veterans on War Deeds

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (UP)—When your son or daughter, father or uncle returns from serving overseas, it is best to let memories alone, Dr. George E. Simpson, Pennsylvania State College's sociology professor, has suggested.

The returning serviceman is not interested in what has been, but what lies ahead, the sociologist said. Instead of the "tell me all about it" attitude, families should persuade veterans to use their war experiences toward civilian activities. He should be fully informed on community, political, and technological developments.

Veterans want to forget, that is why, Dr. Simpson stresses, they should be taken into the communities' immediate problems instead of thrusting them into a "special" class because they have served in war.

DEWEY CARRIES CAMPAIGN INTO MIDWEST TODAY

EN ROUTE WITH GOV. DEWEY, Aug. 1. —(UP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York carried into the rich Mississippi Valley today his Republican presidential campaign based on charges that the Roosevelt administration was unable to cope with pre-war depression and has no plans to prevent post war employment and economic disorder.

Dewey arrives in Springfield, Ill., at 10:48 a. m. for conferences with labor, political, negro, industrial, business and agricultural representatives. It was the second stop of his first campaign wing. He spent yesterday in Pittsburgh where Republican politicians assured him that he and Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, vice-presidential nominee, would carry Pennsylvania. Dewey said he was pleased by their optimism and confidence.

Next stop for the Dewey train which runs as the second section of a regularly scheduled train will be in St. Louis tomorrow for a two-day conference with the 25 other Republican governors on domestic issues. His train is made up of nine cars. The governor is accompanied by a considerable party, including Mrs. Dewey, various aides, New York State and New York City policemen and upward of 40 newspapermen and photographers.

Election Returns At NEW ERA This Evening

Since the polls will not close until 8:13 p. m., election returns of any consequence will not be available much before 10 p. m. Scattered returns will start coming in about 9 o'clock—but it would be best to start calling the New Era for returns around 10 o'clock or later. Those who prefer may join the group which will be watching the large chart in our office, 810-R Pine street. We will also receive bulletins here on the state-wide election.

Washington U. Geologist To Speak at C of C Wed.

Dr. Norman Hinchey, professor of Geology at Washington University in St. Louis, will be the guest speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the Rolla Chamber of Commerce at the Pennant Wednesday noon. Dr. Hinchey's subject will be "Big Spring in Missouri," one of a series of talks to acquaint Missourians with their State's natural resources and beauty spots.

Ponies Here for Veterans' Carnival, August 3 to 5

A number of Rolla children have been enjoying a "preview" of the Veterans' Carnival, by getting to go for rides on the real, live ponies at the Pony Ride concession. Other amusement stands are taking form, and all will be in readiness in time for the formal opening Thursday. The Veterans' Carnival will last until Saturday night, August 5.

Proceeds of the carnival, which is being sponsored jointly by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion, will be placed in a fund to be used in the interests of Veterans' welfare. The program will operate in the interests of the returning soldiers of this war as well as veterans of World War I.

Rolla Truck Lines Expands; Buys Richland Firm

The Rolla Truck Lines expanded its services in this area today with announcement of the purchase of the Standard Motor Service trucking firm of Richland, Mo. The Rolla firm bought out Raymond L. Powers' Standard Motor Service which served the area west of Rolla, including Richland, Waynesville, Dixon, Crocker, and all intermediate points.

The equipment included a Springfield semitrailer which will be used with a new International tractor just purchased from the Ozark Equipment Company. This gives the firm 32 units for use by its 25 employees.

Only 546 Ballots Cast Here, 2.30 P. M.

A light primary vote was in prospect here unless a decided pick-up in the voters' parade to the polls developed later today. It was obvious at noon that many, many voters had not cast ballots in the important primary. The showers perhaps slowed up the voting some. However, the tempo was expected to increase sharply in the late afternoon.

At 2:30 p. m. the vote by Rolla precincts was:

No. 1 (Old City Hall) 188
No. 2 (Southern Hotel) 236
No. 3 (New City Hall) 122

Total 546

Election officials made ballot preparations for some 6,000 or 7,000 votes in the county.

The election was "quiet", with several of the candidates and their champions working near the polls, and among the voters, "driving home" every possible vote. Some congestion was evident at No. 2 precinct here, because of the crowded voting quarters in the Southern Hotel.

The polls will close at 8:13 p. m. (sundown). The primary election notice stated that 7 p. m. as the closing time but this was in error, as the polls are not supposed to close until sundown, county authorities pointed out today.

Join the vote parade and ballot your choice for the candidates to be in the general election this November.
