First Housing Unit For MSM Finally Arrives

Doctor Guest, English Dept. Head, Resigns; To End Duty Here Sept. 1

Monday afternoon, July 29, Doctor Boyd Guest, Chairman of the English Department gave his official resignation to Dean Curtis L. Wilson. Dean Wilson announced that the resignation was effective as of September 1st. Prof. Guest had no statement.

Doctor Guest has accepted a position at Iowa State Teachers College as Professor of English, the same rank he holds at the present with MSM. He assumes his new duties on September 1st.

The promoter and teacher of the humanities, Doc. Guest, came to MSM in 1940 as Assistant Professor of English. In 1943 he became Chairman of that department and in 1944 he was promoted to Associate Professor of English.

During his tenure here he has published numerous papers and at present is engaged in the writing of a manuscript, "American Civilization." He intends to continue work on the manuscript at Iowa where he will assume his new teaching duties.

On the afternoon of Doctor Guest's resignation, Dean Wilson expressed his solemn regret in losing him but wished to extend best wishes to him and his associates.

Students Receive Aid from Nine Loan Funds On Campus

"At the present time there are nine loan funds under the jurisdiction of the school's loan fund committee," president of that committee, Rex Williams, stated. In the school year of 1946-47 the committee approved 59 loans that totaled almost $3,900. This summer semester the committee has met at least ten times to approve loans.

The nine loan funds, all having different restrictions as to the recipients of the loans, are (1) Jacking Loan Fund, (2) Alumni Assoc. loan fund, (3) Phi Kappa Phi loan fund, (4) Woman's Auxiliary of A.I.M.E. loan fund, (5) The Fred Fisher loan fund, (6) Lions Club loan fund, (7) Missouri Eastern Star revolving fund, and (8) Knights Templar education fund.

"Of the nine loan funds the Missouri Eastern Star revolving fund is probably of most interest to students at the present time," Prof. Williams pointed out. It is a loan fund limited to veterans of World War II. It provides the veteran (without security, interest free) with enough money to cover that period of time before the individual subsistence pay check arrives.

Any student contemplating a loan should see Prof. Rex Williams enough ahead of the time in order for the loan fund committee to take action in time. The committee is composed of Prof. K. K. Kershner, Prof. C. H. Black, Business Manager Howard Katz, and Registrar Noel Hubbard.

MINER To Publish Large Size Student Paper Next Fall

The Miner Board met last Thursday afternoon with one hundred percent attendance. They elected six new members to the board, made plans for a larger paper this fall and discussed the operation of an office on the campus.

Large Paper This Fall

There was a unanimous vote, by the staff, to enlarge the paper this fall. The new size will be four full pages instead of the past four half-page size. This enlarged edition will give the Miner a chance to give complete news coverage of the campus and still leave space for the jokes, pictures of pretty girls, and cartoons. On cartoons—there is a big space on the staff waiting for a "Bill Mauldin the second" who can capture the spirit of the times with each drawing.

Six To Board Membership

New additions to the Miner Staff and Board are AuBuchon, feature writer of new fame; Farroll, faithful writer of "Off the Campus"; Ratcliff, God's gift to the sportsmen where publicity is desired; Fennerty, the fighting Irishman (the pen is mightier than the sword); Enfield, who's patience has produced the recently printed linoleum cuts; and Mit-tino, sharp-eyed proof reader. These men, too, have won a years free subscription to the Miner for each year they are on the board.

With these new additions, the Miner will build a nucleus to direct the large staff of new writers expected next fall.

Funds Approved For Completion Of New Power Plant

Governor Phil M. Donnelly signed the appropriation bill for Missouri colleges and universities, July 25. $746,525.00 is for the School of Mines appropriation.

The School of Mines portion of the bill includes additional money for the completion of the new and improved power plant, now under construction, and the purchase of badly needed electrical generators.

The MSM appropriation also includes funds for teachers' salaries and $37,500.00 for a special program of education and training for discharged veterans on the campus.

The total University and College appropriation bill signed by the Governor totaled $6,997,380. It is for all colleges and institutions of higher learning in the state.

Fall Semester Pre-Registration To Start Monday For Summer Students

Pre-registration for next fall will start on Monday, August 5, and all schedules are to be in the Registrar's office by noon on Saturday, August 10.

Upper Class Students

Blank schedules for all students who will classify as sophomores or above this fall have been sent to the faculty advisers for the curricula shown on the current registration cards. Any student who wishes to change his curriculum must notify the Registrar's office, and he will be told where to report for pre-registration.

Freshmen

All students classifying as freshmen this fall, either first or second semester, will pre-register through the Registrar's office. This is necessary to keep sections balanced.

Advisers are as follows:

Could It Be True?

FOR RENT—A 6-room house furnished or unfurnished, will be let in single rooms, flat or all together; also 3 downstairs rooms in a cottage, all one block north of Norwood Hall.

Miss Amanda Livesay

(This ad appeared in a Rolla paper on October 23, 1911.)

Dormitory To House 63 Men Is Now Under Construction; Others To Come

Actual work began last week on a 63-man dormitory on the campos of the School of Mines. The temporary dormitory is being constructed by the upper football field and will be ready for use by the fall semester.

President of Koss Construction Co. To Speak At Next A.S.C.E. Meeting

Mr. George C. Koss President of Koss Construction Company of Des Moines, Iowa, will be the second speaker of a series of three to speak to the Missouri School of Mines chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers. Mr. Koss will talk on "What a Contractor's Superintendent Ought to Know."

Mr. Koss is a college graduate who was just elected president of his company a month ago, the company was formed by his father in 1914. The company has been engaged exclusively in paving operations, both concrete and asphalt paving. During the war they completed about $8,000,000 worth of paving in a period of fifteen months and now have three or four paving outfits operating in five or six states.

After serving a sort of apprenticeship in the field for several years, Mr. Koss became the executive head of the company and takes care principally the business transactions, in which he has been very successful.

According to Paul Carlton, President of A. S. C. E., all members are urged to attend and a cordial invitation is extended to the student body. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m., Friday, August 2, in room 100, Harris Hall.

Inter-Frat All-Star Team Chosen By Campus Frats.

An inter fraternity all-star softball team was selected last week by the Interfraternity council. This team was selected among the fraternities for the purpose of challenging the Independents' all-star men to a championship game soon.

The fraternity softball team as it now stands is as listed below:

1. Krath—Kappa Sigma, ss.
2. Rasmussen—Triangle, 3rd b.
3. Alvarez—Kappa Sigma—cf.
4. Ferry—Sigma Pi—1st b.
5. LaPere—Sigma Pi—lf.
6. Rankin—Sigma Nu—2nd b.
7. Hill—Pi K. A.—rf.
8. Howell—Sigma Nu—2nd b.
9. Fink—Triangle and Hequenberg—Sigma Pi—p.

Utility—L. Hechinger — Theta Kappa Phi.

The list if the men on the Independents' team has not yet been released.

The zipper is the undoing of the modern girl, and yet on the other hand, it opens up great opportunities.

This dormitory is the first building MSM has received from the F.P.H.A. to help alleviate the drastic housing situation in Rolla that will be caused by the influx of veterans and teen-agers this fall. Already more than 2100 students have requested to enroll in MSM for the fall semester.

More Dorms Coming

A "proceed" order is reported on the way here from Chicago for the second group of construction. This group includes 13 CCC-type bolted construction buildings to house 32 men each, making a possible total capacity of 416 single students. Hence, this group and the first unit under construction would house some 500 single students. While the first unit may be completed soon, it is emphasized by school authorities that the 13 other units may not proceed so fast.

Water and sewage lines are well under way on the upper football field for the new temporary housing. The installations are being made ready so that as soon as some wage rate and preliminary problems are worked out the construction can be done quickly.

Also in the housing program is another unit of seven two-story buildings to be divided into eight apartments each, which will house 56 married students and their families. This construction is scheduled to go up in the vicinity of 14th and Pine Streets.

Ten two-bedroom demountable houses for faculty and staff members are being made available here as needed, it was stated.

Quonset huts, that may help greatly to solve the emergency housing situation at MSM, were discussed by the C. V. A. at their last meeting. Secretary of the C. V. A., Dave Wisdom, pointed out to the people of Rolla through an article in the Rolla Daily News that the Quonset huts would cost in the neighborhood of $2,000. He further tried to interest local merchants to buy and erect the huts for students in Rolla.

Cafeteria In Warehouse

A cafeteria has been assured on the campus by the school officials. A warehouse has been purchased at Ft. Wood, and is to be moved here. The new building will be used to store materials now in the MSM garage, making that building available for the cafeteria. The cafeteria equipment has already been purchased in Kansas City and is now ready for installation here.

Irate parent (shaking stick): "I'll teach you to make love to my daughter, young man."

Suitor: I wish you would, sir, I don't seem to be making much headway."

Miner: I'm feeling a little frail tonight.
Girl: Will you stop calling me that!

Still No Student Union

Enrollment is steadily increasing. Inexpensive entertainment in and near Rolla is at its usual minimum. Inside two months the 2,100 students, who have already enrolled, will be here. Those who are coming for the first time will be amazed at the lack of a student union similar to the ones in other schools.

The same old cries are raised whenever the subject is brought up. The school cries "where will we get the money?" Some of the local business men cry, "We'll be ruined by the competition," and the Miners cry in their milk.

There is little doubt that most of those attending school would like to see a non-profit Student Union where they could drop in for a coke between classes, take a date after the show and have informal dancing every Friday and Saturday night. Not all of the USO jugglers have quit the show business.

Dean Wilson has always advocated having a Student Union on the campus. The money for the project has never been available. Now the school needs all of it's appropriation for remodeling and expansion of teaching facilities and housing. It is those who are being housed, taught and teaching who could use the entertainment. They are the ones who should plan for more and better recreation during leisure hours.

If no one else wants to take action, the Campus Veterans Association may take an interest in promoting entertainment for students at a lower cost.

There is a three story white building just off Pine Street toward the Frisco Depot. It is not in use, apparently. IS ANYONE GOING TO HAVE THE DRIVE TO CONVERT THAT INTO A NON-PROFIT STUDENT UNION?

Letters to The Editor . .

THEY RUINED ME

In last week's edition of the Miner, I wrote a piece on VETERAN relations, centering on the theme that we vets are not better than others. The punch line was: "We do have to forget that we are 'betteruns' — not a bad one at that, you will agree."

However, as I am checking over that line in actual print, it read: "We do not have to forget, etc." They ruined it! I can feel already that people are staring at me, saying, "There he goes; he's the one who thinks he's better than others." Now I will have to start tripping old ladies and hitting little kids, all because I am misunderstood.

J. F. McCarthy

Dear J. F.

It shouldn't happen to a dog. We're sorry. It was a misprint. Ed.

Dear Cecil:

It seems to me that we should all feel sorry for Mr. Harry E. Cunningham. Apparently his recent "letter to the editor" was for the purpose of arousing our sympathy. He is certainly welcome to mine. You should be ashamed of yourself for printing his letter as it was received, thereby making him vulnerable to the ridicule and embarrassment it must undoubtedly have provoked.

The ever-present "problem" of veteran representation on the Student Council has evidently left Mr. Cunningham considerably befuddled—as his letter conclusively illustrated. Perhaps it should be explained to him that the trouble lies not in the fact that the veteran has been unjustly refused the "right to select the men that we want to govern us", but in the fact that the veteran apparently refuses to accept the self-governing privileges that have been offered him!

A certain percentage of the veterans who have come to M.S.M. have been absorbed into fraternities. These men have ceased to think of themselves as "veterans" and have begun to consider themselves as Sigma Pi's, Kappa Sig's, Lambda Chi's, etc. As members of these fraternities, they receive their just representation on the Student Council. All the veterans who have not joined fraternities automatically become eligible for membership in the Independents organization. It is lamentable that these veterans refuse to take advantage of the voting privileges offered them through this organization. The Independents have been allotted more Student Council representatives than any other campus organization. This is justifiable since their association includes a majority of the students. Yet the independent veterans insist on segregating themselves from the Independent organization as a whole, and then indignantly protest that they are not being given their just rights.

I suggest that these "mistreated" veterans spend less time at CVA meetings and more time at Independent meetings. Through their inevitable superiority in numbers they will find themselves in complete control of the Independents. In this way they can command the Student Council representation they so hungrily desire.

An Independent.

Wm. W. Bishop

Scientists Are Able to Measure To 1-100,000,000 Of An Inch

SCHENECTADY, July 31—Recently developed scientific precision instruments are "splitting hairs" so minute these days that it's now possible to measure vacuum pressures as low as 1/100 billionth of a bound per square inch, to record weights within 100,000ths of an ounce, and to measure thicknesses down to 1/100 millionth of an inch.

However, it seems, such sensitive instruments are none too precise for the scientist and engineer in their continued research for industrial progress.

Development of more refined measuring instruments and newer and better methods of controlling scientific, engineering and industrial processes is the demand today, Dr. Saul Dushman, assistant director of General Electric's Research Laboratory, declared in an interview here today.

"Industrial applications of electronic devices and the development of such research tools as the atom-smashing cyclotron and betatron for the study of nuclear phenomena are creating a demand for very sensitive instruments by which a better understanding of these phenomena may be gained," he said.

Practically the entire electronics industry depends upon "high vacuum" to produce sealed off devices, whether they be the smallest radio receiving tubes or 100 kilowatt tubes used in broadcasting.

With the vacuum "measuring stick," technically known as the ion gage, scientists and engineers are able to tell by direct reading if a vacuum is "high" enough to assure more efficient operation and longer-life radio and electronic tubes, Dr. Dushman said.

The pressure-measuring instrument, constructed similar to an ordinary receiving tube, makes possible the measurement of the "highest vacuum" ordinarily encountered in factory and laboratory. It plays a vital role in the manufacture of any tube where vacuum is produced.

Sophomores Lead Softball Contest

The Sophomores continued their domination over the rest of the league by stretching their winning streak to six games. As yet they are undefeated.

A full schedule was played this week, with most games played as contests of slugging.

Sigma Nu resumed its winning ways by trouncing Kappa Sigma 11-7. This game proved to be exciting all the way, with Sigma Nu outlasting Kappa Sigma.

Triangle, a rejuvenated team, won its third straight game, as Fink let down Kappa Alpha with a lone run. Triangle came out on top 13-1.

Theta Kappa Phi came from behind to win from the Engineer's Club 12-5. The Engineers assumed a 5 run lead in their half of the first inning. Theta Kap came back in the last half of the first inning. The Engineer's Club held their lead until the last half of the fourth when Theta Kap put the game on ice with a six run rally. John Mittino's double with the bases loaded proved to be the winning blow.

The Freshmen defeated Pi K A 11-7, however the Pikers lent one of their men to the frosh and no decision on the legality of the game has been made.

The Sophomores mighty bats sunk Kappa Sigma to a 13-4 defeat to give them their sixth victory.

The Junior-Senior squad overcame Kappa Alpha, 6-1.

Sigma Pi humbled the Engineers Club, 6-1, for their third victory of the season against one defeat.

The Freshmen outscored Lambda Chi, 13-1, in a runaway. It was the Freshmen's all the way.

Sigma Nu began to close in on

"No Prof, I'm not St. Pat's. I'm just A returning vet"

the leading Sophomores by taking two victories, giving them a record of 6 and 1. The Sophomores meanwhile remained idle, and now cling to first place by a half game margin.

Triangle, continuing their victorious march, grabbing their 4th consecutive victory, whitewashing the Engineer's Club 7-0. Fink of Triangle established himself more firmly as undoubtedly the best pitcher in the league in leading Triangle to this easy victory.

Kappa Sigma took their game from Lambda Chi on forfeit.

Sigma Nu won their fifth game of the year, easily winning from the Freshmen, 9-1.

Lambda Chi fell before the mighty bats of Sigma Pi, 16-6. This game turned out to be a slugfest all the way with Sigma's bats being too much for Lambda Chi to overcome.

In the best game of the week, Triangle again came out on top, defeating the freshmen, 2-1. In two games, Fink of Triangle allowed but one run, which is really pitching good ball.

Kappa Sigma overcame Sigma Pi in another close game, to the tune of 16-5.

Sigma Nu won from the Engineer's Club 9-2.

The first six teams are as follows:

Team	W	L
Sophomores	6	0
Sigma Nu	6	1
Theta Kap	4	1
Sigma Pi	4	2
Jr.-Sr.	2	1
Triangle	5	3

PEACE IN PARIS

By F. E. Fennerty

At this very moment, a most important conference is taking place, which may well determine the fate of mankind and the destiny of the world. The decisions reached will effect the lives of all human beings wherever they abide.

The delegates of the twenty-one nations represented at the parley should be aware of the responsibility that is theirs during these crucial hours in that most beautiful of cities. If they would imagine the horror and destruction that could fall on Paris, should they use the wrong word in negotiations, it is hard to realize how they could lose their heads and cause a similar fate to befall their own cities.

This is a time for men to reach above themselves and be selfless individuals. The cry of idealism is always belittled, and yet, if followed to the letter, idealism is the one answer to the problems of the world. Everything else has been tried, so in justice's name, the practical dreamer should be given a chance.

The petty squabbling and stubborn refusals on the part of many of the delegates in Paris has cast a pall on the proceedings underway. If the people of the world are to have full faith in the peace decided upon, this cloud must be brushed away and honesty and sincerity be emphasized. That is the only way.

"This is it," and it is up to these men in Paris to decide what "it" is. If they succeed in negotiating a lasting peace, history will remember them as great men, but if they return to the path of "dog eat dog," they will go down in the memory of men as traitors to themselves, their country and all mankind.

Evening In October, '46

By AuBuchon

I raised my eyes from my book, looked at the fading October sun, and reached for the carbide lamp. A fill from the canteen and carbide can and a swirl of the spark-wheel filled the pup-tent with such a brilliant light I blinked for a minute until my eyes got used to the change from the dim red of the horizon. I rearranged the blankets to get rid of the crease that was irritating me, leaned back against the reinforced tent-pole again, and continued with the calculus assignment.

Slapping at a persistent mosquito, a few minutes later, I succumbed to the temptation of the sounds coming from the next tent. Stretching my cramped legs and tossing book and clipboard on the blanket, I wandered over and found a poker game in full swing. Five were playing already, on a blanket in front of the tent.

"Wanta sit in?" asked Nick from his elbow-supported position under the left shelter-half. "It's just a two-bit limit."

Being broke, as usual, I had to decline. I watched the game for a few minutes and went up to the latrine in the gym. Taking my toilet articles out of my locker, I shaved and exchanged a little chit-chat with a fellow-inhabitant of the bivouac about the coming midterm quizzes and the snail-like pace of the emergency housing program.

"They're breaking ground over on the other side of the highway," stated a newcomer. "And there's enough stuff piled around to build a dozen barracks. Wonder if that's for us."

"Naw," said my shaving-companion disgustedly. "That's for the new birdseed agency. They're going to have a warehouse there for the birdseed sold in this district." "This building materials shortage is really rough. They can get stuff for everything but housing. Aren't you finished with that mirror yet?"

I stepped back to give the new comer room and finished drying my face and hands.

"I wonder when the military department is going to start giving us revile and a butt-tour every morning. That's all we lack," cracked my companion. "I'm thinking of going back in the Army. At least you get barracks, clothes, and chow, free."

I headed back to the tent. It was now quite dark, and the old sunken garden was freckled with the lights of the campers. I tripped over a rope, hidden in the shadow of a bush, bringing maledictions from the owner on my head. Apologizing, I went on.

"Looks like rain, Aubie, better check your trench."

"Yeah, guess so." Finding the trench clear, and being sleepier than usual, I kicked off my shoes, took off my shirt and pants, and stretched out. The conversation in the latrine came to my mind.

Aren't those guys EVER going to get on the ball?

Atomic Influence

Florida and Bikini have beaches and palm trees, but there similarity ends. Bikini has atomic bomb. Florida will go right on having pretty girls like Pat Fairbrother execute bomb dives, such as this one at Cypress Garden.

C.V.A. Discusses The Miner's Right To Vote In Coming Local Elections

In an issue last week of the Rolla Daily News, it was pointed out that the veteran student attending the School of Mines had no vote in the coming election.

Unless the student owns property and intends to make Rolla his permanent home, under the statute laws of the State of Missouri he not entitled to vote in local elections on local issues. This was brought out by Feinburg at the last meeting of the Campus Veterans Association, Tuesday, July 23, with a short, but fiery speech, Feinburg wanted to know if anything could be done about it, and if so, what the veterans would do. An equally fiery debate followed Feinburg's opening address. "What about the fellow whose family is here, and has no other permanent address?" asked Bob Neuman. Harold Stauffer was placed in charge of a committee organized to study the question, with Feinburg, Ken Vaughan and the place for the dance that night. About a hundred and fifty couples were at the brawl which featured Charlie Faulkner's Band and a revival of the punch bowl of former years.

The guest list included: From Jefferson City, Mo.—Harold Butzer, Phil Dampf, Charles Edmundson, Jim Holscher, Miss Betty Jean Moore, Miss Opal Baker, Miss Jean Dogget. From St. Louis, Mo.: James McGrath, Miss Lorraine Dhooge, Miss Helen Berry, Miss Gloria Madden, Miss Betty Stauder, Miss Rose Marie Birk, Miss Mary Ellen O'Laughlin, Miss Audrey Esswein, Miss Lorraine Robke, and Miss Peggy Fennerty. From Rolla, Mo.: Mr. and Mrs. Marty Leonard, and Miss Eunice Mitchell.

Chaperones for the dance were Prof. and Mrs. Goodhue, and Dr. Marsh.

Kappa Sigma

The Kappa Sigs will hold their dance this Saturday night at the Chapter House on State Street. A cool evening is promised to all Miners and their dates. Music will be on record.

Off the Campus

Theta Kappa Phi

The liveliest fraternity on the campus this past week end was Theta Kap, inasmuch as it was the scene of the Summer Dance.

Festivities were begun Friday night with a "drop-in" and hot dog roast. Saturday afternoon saw all the boys very busy decorating

Bob Neuman assisting.

City Council Representation? The guest speaker for the evening was Eddie Sowers, owner and editor of the DAILY NEWS, who mildly surprised everyone present by jumping right into the middle of the question and definitely declaring we should see to it that we have some sort of representation on the City Council. The idea was almost staggering—that an influential citizen of the town saying we should see to it that we have some sort of voice in the city government. Whatever the state voting laws are cannot be helped locally, Sowers said, "but it does seem right to me that no matter who is in office here in town, you students should have a representative to meet with the City Council. I'm telling this to you vets, because most of you are voters, and I believe you're the outfit to see that something be done about it." Well, Sowers threw down the challenge, the next move is up to vets.

Quonset Huts Wanted

Housing was also brought up at the meeting and in Mr. Sower's address. Mr. Joslyn, a local merchant, this week is receiving some Quonset huts, which he is selling for a reasonable price. The huts come in a width of 20 feet and sections in multiples of 12 feet. A pamphlet showing the different floor plan arrangements was shown to the members present, and were agreed to be highly attractive. The housing committee, headed by Ed Price, is now busy interesting some local investors and builders in building a number of these easily-assembled units to help ease some of the shortages of living space.
