St. Pat's Board Message Calls For Beard Cultivation

The first dispatch from Ireland was received today with great rejoicing from the St. Pat's Board. This communique is dated Jan. 14, and it assumed that the cold weather on the Atlantic coast forced the messenger to swim the Atlantic via the Azores and thus delay the message. The message translated into pure and simple English—simple for the simple students—reads as follows:

Ireland, Jan. 14, 1948. Tis colder than a well digger's helme in the Klondike as I grind out this dispatch to you—Ye simple souls of M.S.M., I have decided that tis a damn shame for me to be the one and only bearded behemoth on each and every sojourn to your isolated institute, so I hereby acclaim there to be, starting as of this date, a brush growing contest which will terminate at the Coronation Dance on March 19, 1948. I challenge each and every one of you to try your hand. I leave rules and regulations in the hands of your trusty St. Pat's Board. May the best man win.

With this message on their hands the St. Pat's Board hurriedly called a confab and came forth with a confounded, confusing conglomeration of contest stipulations.

Prexy Brehe, after hours of collaboration in Diehl's sub-sub basement, announced today the rules governing this contest are as follows:

1. Contest started Jan. 14, 1948. (No one shaves around here anyway!)
  2. Both male and female (This we've got to see) entrants will be eligible for the contest.
  3. Contestants must be between 16 and 85. (Profs. and their wives excepted.)
  4. No children will be accepted unless their siller is over 18 years of age.
  5. Contestants must be over 3'6" and under 9'7".
  6. Entries will not be accepted from other planets.
  7. Animals, especially goats, will not be accepted. (exception Pink Elephants!)
  8. Only these types of facial adornment will be considered.
    - a. The "Smith Brother" or brush type. (A shaggy ear to ear soup strainer).
    - b. The Van Dyke. (See a Sir Walter Raleigh tobacco can.)
    - c. Goatee and mustache.
    - d. Mustache and sideburns.
    - e. Goatee and sideburns.
    - f. Quaker beard (ie. a solid trimmed ring extendng from ear to ear).
    - g. Novelty beard. (Includes almost anything you can grow).
  9. No mustache wax or hair curlers can be used while the judges are making their decision.
  10. Weapons or "hooh" must not be hidden in full beard.
  11. Any beard contaminated with fleas, lice, ticks, or any other stray passengers cannot be accepted for consideration until doused with DDT at our de-lousing station at 10th and State.
  12. The contestant must be able to navigate to the throne under his, or her, own power on March 19th.
  13. All beards become the property of St. Pat at the conclusion of the contest.
  14. St. Pat's Board members are ineligible for the contest prizes.
  15. All contestants are warned not to smoke because of the fire hazard.
  16. Beard must belong to owner, no imitations accepted!
- These rules are to be adhered to and will be the means by which the contest will be conducted.
- Prizes will be awarded by St. Pat on the evening of March 19.

DESK BLOTTERS TO BE DISTRIBUTED DURING REGISTRATION DAY

The desk size blotters which Alpha Phi Omega presents to the student body each year are now at the printers and will be distributed during registration day of next semester. These blotters are of heavy blotter material and measure 24 by 18 inches, which makes them ideal for use on desk tops. The blotters are paid for by local merchants who purchase advertising space on the blotters.

The proceeds of this blotter are being used to purchase furniture for the lounge room that APO has been preparing on the second floor of the old power plant. Several lounge chairs and a davenport will be placed in the room in addition to several study desks. The grapette machine will be repaired and moved into the room, so that you can again visit APO for that lemon, orange, or grape.

May Open in Spring

It is hoped that the room will be ready by next semester, but if it is not in excellent condition by that time, it will only be a few weeks until it will be in perfect condition.

The room is also equipped with a sink and pantry so that, if conditions become favorable, a snack shop can be opened within a semester or two. So, don't forget the APO blotters and new study lounge.

MINER BOARD

There will be a short, but important meeting of the Miner Board on Thursday, Jan. 23, at 4 P.M.

Religious Emphasis Week Inaugurated At MSM

"Some months ago a group of scientists met together to evaluate certain fundamental physical quantities, and to define certain other quantities in terms of them. After a great deal of deliberation recommendations were made to the Bureau of Standards and the necessary adjustments were affected. It is likewise worthwhile to take time to re-evaluate our religious standards in the life of present day conditions to make adjustments where necessary. It is hoped that this may be an accomplishment of 'Religious Emphasis Week' here at Missouri School of Mines." These were the comments of Mr. Paul Russell who with Harvey Leaver, Student Council president, was elected co-chairman of the executive committee of Religious Emphasis Week, February 9th to 12th.

During the week local and out-of-town workers will meet with students informally and in open-forum meetings to discuss topics pertaining to religion and the theme of the week. Dr. Amos Thornburg of Grace Methodist Church in St. Louis will be the key speaker and launch the program Monday morning, February 9th at 10:00 o'clock. Dr. Thornburg, who last year appeared before more than two dozen schools as well as other youth gatherings, preaches to a large body of students from Washington University each Sunday morning. He is the father of twin sons and a daughter, all of whom attend DePauw University. Dr. Thornburg will also be the leader of meetings held Tuesday and Wednesday at 11:00 A. M. as well as the climax of the week Thursday night at 7:30.

Rabbi Robert Jacobs will be another worker of the week. Rabbi Jacobs is director of Jewish activities on the campus of

MSM TO HAVE STUDENT CHAPTER OF AMERICAN FOUNDRYMAN'S ASS'N.

Metals casting up to this time has largely remained an untouched field in the curricula of MSM, but with the arrival of a cupola furnace and other casting equipment in the metallurgy laboratories, a sudden interest has been aroused which recently voiced itself in a demand to organize a local chapter of the American Foundryman's Association. Only one other such chapter now exists in the United States, and it is located at the University of Minnesota.

In answer to a petition submitted by Dr. Daniel Eppelsheimer, Associate Professor of Metallurgy, a unanimous approval was handed down granting a charter into this national society.

Plans for organization have already progressed rapidly, and several informal meetings have been held to outline future policies and choose officers from a fast-growing group of interested students. The following officers were elected:

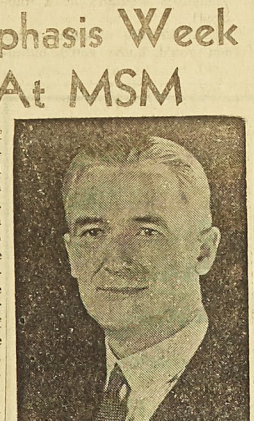

Chairman, Jim Reynolds; vice-chairman, Gordon Moline; program chairman, Ed Cornelius; secretary, John Reilly; treasurer, Stan Zirinsky; and publicity chairman, John Mitchell.

In a few weeks an inaugural charter meeting is to be held at MSM at which many prominent men of the metal casting industry will be present.

If Veteran students fail to receive their subsistence checks, they should see the VA representative at the school immediately.

Regardless of date of discharge veterans may apply for compensation or pensions at any time.

Veterans who desire specific information about benefits should contact their nearest Veterans Administration Office.

Washington University through the Hillel House which sponsors social and religious functions.

An outstanding theologian, listed in Who's Who, will appear Thursday morning at 11:00 o'clock when Dr. William J. Hutchins will address the morning meeting. Dr. Hutchins is the possessor of six college degrees including one in law as well as an honorary from the University of Chicago presented by his son. He is an ordained Presbyterian minister and was president of Berea College, Kentucky, for nineteen years. The author of two books, Dr. Hutchins has served as advisor to the Danforth Foundation which was founded by the president of Ralston-Purina Company to provide fellowships for students who attend school part-time and the remainder spent in church work.

Tuesday and Wednesday nights have been made available for fraternities to extend invitations to these and other men to visit with them. Each night at 7:30 open-forum meetings will be held at school in which everyone may participate.

NATIONAL STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION SELECTS TEAM TO GO TO PRAGUE

During the recent Christmas holidays the National Executive Committee held one of its annual meetings at Chicago University. The committee consists of regional representatives, usually the regional presidents, and members of the Staff Committee. The Staff Committee, consisting of the national officers, has no voting power except for the national president who is the presiding officer of the committee and may vote only in the event of a tie vote.

The first order of business was to select a negotiating team to journey to Prague to discuss the possibility of the NSA affiliation with the International Union of Students. In the previous article explaining the organization and its purpose it was stated that the NSA would negotiate for one year and then decide upon affiliation with the IUS. The four members of this team are from Chicago University, Michigan University, University of Notre Dame, and Harvard respectively. The members have had considerable previous experience in this country and abroad concerning student problems so they should be qualified for the job.

A joint committee of the NSA and NCFUS (Canada) has been set up to arrange direct exchange of students between Canada and the United States. The presidents of the various colleges throughout the country have been written to create further interest.

The National office has contacted Russian delegates to IUS and have impressed upon them the fact that the NSA desires a direct student exchange with USSR. The Dept. of State has offered assistance if any successful replies are received but thus far no indications have been given.

The National office has also announced that a booklet on "Study and Travel Tours Abroad" has been prepared. Additional information on this point will be presented to the student body when made available. The committee on National Student Affairs has also prepared a booklet on "Student Government," but neither of the booklets have been received from the printer as yet.

The "Privileged Card Plan" was discussed and it was decided not to attempt it on a national scale at this time. It probably will receive a test on some individual campus prior to further discussion concerning a national plan.

It was also reported that Washington University in St. Louis has arranged to hold a seminar in Budapest. This seminar will be along the lines of the Harvard Student Council's Seminar on "American Civilization" held in Salzburg last summer and which is being repeated.

FOREIGN FELLOWSHIPS FOR GRADUATE STUDIES AVAILABLE TO WORTHY

Rotary International, a worldwide organization dedicated to Service and functioning in most countries, is sponsoring Fellowships for Advanced Studies.

The Fellowships will be awarded to worthy applicants for graduate study in foreign lands where Rotary Clubs exist. The stipend is not fixed, as expenses and fees are not similar in all cases, but it will be generally about $2000.00 a year and will be sufficient to defray complete costs.

To receive consideration for appointment to a fellowship, an applicant must be male; between 20 and 28 years old; have a bachelor's degree or a prospect of one by June 1948; and have a ready speaking knowledge of the language of the country in which he wishes to study. The field of study or specialization is not restricted.

Applications will be received in Rolla up to January 25. For further details, please contact Dr. J. D. Forrester at 101 Mining Building, M.S.M.

Spring Registration On Feb. 2; Contingent Slips For Vets Must Be Returned By Jan. 27

BALLOTS FOR ELECTION OF ASME OFFICERS DUE BEFORE NEXT MEETING

Members of the MSM student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers nominated officers for the Spring Term at their last meeting, Thursday at 7:15 P.M. in Parker Hall. Following the nominations the gathering witnessed a short demonstration of the oddities of sound waves by Mr. Alfred S. Chipley, Chief Research and Development Engineer of the Burgess-Manning Company.

The offices of the organization will be filled by men selected from the following nominations. Those nominated for Chairman are John Wallace, John Earls, Bill Foley and Chris Wunnenburg. The race for Vice Chairman is between two men, Chris Wunnenburg and George Ramsey. Nominated for Secretary were Bill Presley, Robert Day, Jack Babbet and Earl Weiburg. The office of Treasurer will be filled by one of the following: Ed Wunnenburg, Earl Weiburg or William Hyde.

BalLOTS with the names of the candidates will be mailed to all members of ASME and they will be asked to make their selections and deposit the ballots in a ballot box which will be in Mechanical Hall, up to and including the next meeting.

Mr. Chipley is now with the Burgess-Manning Company which formerly went under the name of the Ecoustics Division of the Burgess Battery Company. He began his demonstration by dropping a pin and explaining that the sound was not of the pin dropping but of the acceleration set up by it.

Mr. Chipley then demonstrated "gadgets" designed to show the phenomena of frequency and wave length and some of the oddities of air flow. One of the devices showed the air jet produced by a small vacuum cleaner motor repel a membrane held in it at a distance of about six inches from the nozzle, but would attract it when the membrane was held about two inches from it. He went on to say that this was only one of the many problems in the field for which no satisfactory answer could be found.

A question and answer period was then held during which Mr. Chipley answered questions by the members concerning the practical application of mufflers to exhaust jets, and the size of the mufflers required on various installations.

MILLER ELECTED TO ASCE PRESIDENT POST

At an election dominated entirely by Kappa Sigs, Jim Miller was elected president of the Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers. Other offices filled were, Charles Lloyd—Vice President, Gordon Raymer—Secretary, and Don Collar—Treasurer.

An urgent request was made to the group present to return all soda bottles to the cases provided for them near the Grapette Machine.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Peaches: I just can't understand it.
Maizie: You can't understand what?

Peaches: George never used to snore before we were married.

It is alright to tell a girl that she has pretty legs but don't compliment her too highly.

ALL CIVILS NOTE

Mr. Mace H. Bell, through courtesy of the American Institute of Steel Construction, will present, "Construction of the Golden Gate Bridge," a sound film, at Harris Hall, Wed. Jan. 21, 1948. Rm. 300.

A Short Business meeting will precede the program.

Refreshments will be served.

EPPELSHEIMER TALKS ON METEORITES AT ASM MONTHLY MEETING

"Literally, they're out of this world," said Dr. Eppelsheimer last Wednesday night at the regular monthly meeting of the American Society for Metals. He wasn't speaking of some new super-duper alloy, nor was he talking about the women running around with the "new look." He was speaking of the pieces of "flying gravel" which hit the earth, meteorites.

Dr. Eppelsheimer is, at present, engaged in the meteoritic study of these fugitives of other worlds. Working in conjunction with the astronomical department of Harvard University, he is trying to deduce from the analysis and structure of available samples possible clues to the structure of other members of our solar system and the process by which meteorites become meteorites. Details of his work to date were the subject of his very interesting talk.

After Dr. Eppelsheimer's talk those present viewed a movie, "Golden Horizon," produced under the sponsorship of Ampco Metals, Inc. The movie traced the art of metals up through the years from the stone age to today, when it has become a science.

At the next meeting, sometime in February, an attendance prize of one of the ASM Technical Series will be given.

STUDENTS NOT CALLING FOR SCHEDULES BY NOON FEB. 2 TO LOSE SECTIONS

Registration for the Spring semester will take place on February 2. Registration clerks will complete their own registration on January 19, 20 and 21, in order to be available at 8 o'clock on February 2 when the doors to the registration rooms will open.

Students will register in four groups. Students who pre-registered and failed nothing, will go to the following buildings:

Names A to G inclusive — Rolla Building.

Names H to O inclusive — Mechanical Hall.

Names P to Z inclusive — Experiment Station.

Students, except freshmen, who pre-registered and failed a required course will have to go to the gym to start their registration. The advisers for upper classmen will be in the gym. Students who wish to change their pre-registration schedules should get their cards in the proper building and take them to the gym for the approval of advisers.

Freshmen who pre-registered through the Registrar's Office and failed a required course, will have the necessary corrections made on their schedules in the Registrar's Office and should proceed to the proper building to complete their registration without seeing advisers. Freshmen who wish to change their schedules for any reason should see the Freshman Registration Committee in the gym.

New students and old students returning will complete their registration in the gym.

Important Notice

Students who pre-registered and who fail to call for their schedules by noon on February 2, will be regarded by the Registrar as not intending to register and their cards will be de-registered and the places retained.

Second Annual 'Beauty and Beast' Dance to be Presented by APO

The second annual "Beauty and the Beast Dance" of Alpha Phi Omega will be presented Friday night, February sixth, in Jacking Gym from nine until one. The dance, more widely known by the call letters B & B, is being held at the end of the first week of next semester in order to avoid the usual number of exams which present themselves later in the term. Music will be provided by a small orchestra or combo and admission has been set at $1.25, either stag or drag.

Beauty Contest

As is the usual custom, a beauty contest is being held in conjunction with the dance. Any campus organization may enter a candidate in this contest by paying an entrance fee of five dollars, which is used to cover the cost of photographing the candidate. These photographs will be placed in Parker Hall and Tuckers Soda Bar so that every student will have a chance to see them. Voting for the candidates will be carried out at the dance. Anyone holding a ticket may vote for a contestant by merely writing her name on it and placing it in the ballot box at the dance. The votes will be counted at intermission, and the winner will be announced at that time. The organization sponsoring the winning candidate will receive a free keg of beer.

Cash Elects "Beast"

In addition to the beauty contest, Alpha Phi Omega is also sponsoring a beast contest, the purpose of which is to select one Minner as "The Beast." Any campus organization may enter a candidate in the beast contest. If the organization has an entry in the beauty contest, no entrance fee will be charged for the beast; however, if no entry was made in the beauty contest, a small entry fee will be charged. For each contestant, two coin jars will be decorated with his name and photograph, and these will be placed in Parker Hall and Tuckers. These will be the official polling place for the beast, voting being done by dropping coins in the jar belonging to the candidate being voted for. The Minner having the most number of dimes or the most money in his jar will be crowned as "The Beast."

Benefit March of Dimes

All money donated in the Beast contest will be given to the March of Dimes. As a result, by voting you are also helping one of the best causes in the U. S., the March of Dimes. The organization sponsoring the winning "beast" will also receive a keg of beer. This prize will be purchased from admission prices, as nothing will be deducted from the March of Dimes fund.

Last year's "Beauty" was Micki Beverage and was sponsored by the Lambda Chi Fraternity. The "Beast" was Ken Franks of the Kappa Alpha House.

Student Council Representation

During the past few months, the Student Council has been going through the arduous stages of re-organization. The process is not an easy one, and is necessarily an extended project. The task, however, has already paid dividends, and the Council is now a sounder organization than it has been for several years. But before the Student Council, the governing power of the Student Body, can exact optimum improvement, it must be insured that it will be representative of student enrollment.

The issue of Student Council representation is not new. On occasion, letters from students have appeared in the MINER either condemning or upholding the present system, and the issue is a subject of debate in the Council itself. Under the present set-up, the Council is made up of twenty-two men, one each from the Campus' eleven fraternities, and the other eleven from the Independent student organizations: the Independents and the Engineers' Club. Fifty per cent of the Council seats, therefore, are under the control of approximately five-hundred fraternity men, with the other eleven seats allocated to the remaining students. At first glance, there would appear to be a large over-balance on the Council, in favor of the fraternities. However, an approximate total of eighty men are enrolled in the Independent organizations, so that their fifty per cent control of the Council represents about three per cent of the Student Body, a much poorer proportion than for fraternities.

Past experience on this campus has shown that the major amount of student co-operation originates in organizations such as the fraternities and the Engineers' Club. The lack of individual co-operation has been too well displayed in the turn-outs for class elections. The Independent organizations should be entitled to maximum representation only on the basis of their membership, not simply because their organizations are open to the major part of our student enrollment. Their representation on the Council should be in proportion to the number of students that they represent. The following, then is a proposal for the distribution of Council representatives:

1. Each fraternity on the campus be represented by one man, the fraternity representation, therefore, totalling eleven men.
2. The Independents would be allowed one representative on the Council for every fifty men enrolled in the Independent organizations: the Independents and the Engineers' Club.

The issue of cooperation would thus be squarely placed on the shoulders of the Independents, from where the greatest cooperation must come. Their number on the Council would be a direct indication of their activity and cooperation. If the Independent organization membership should reach one thousand, they would, and rightly so, occupy a majority of the seats on the Council.

The goal of the Student Council is to be truly representative of a complete, actively participating Student Body. There can be no possible advantage for either the fraternities or the Independents in controlling the Council, since the character of the organization is immediately violated, and the organization is materially weakened. The system outlined is definitely not meant as a means for fraternities or Independents to control the Council, but rather as an incentive for complete student cooperation.

Off The Campus

Lambda Chi Alpha
Lambda Chi got the election year off to a start by voting the following men into office: Stan Hrach, High Alpha; Don Griesedieck, High Beta; Gene Tyrer, High Gamma; George Jamieson, High Tau; Sam Culmo, High Delta; Ronald Knueppel, High Epsilon; and Jerry Holmes, High Phi-lan. Other new chapter officers include Harry Chapman, Dick Younghaus, John Reilly, Don Gokenbach, Jack Stadelhofer, Don Dierenger, Dave Wisdom, and Tom Bourchier. The chapter extends its best wishes to these men in their new offices.

The next social event scheduled at Lambda Chi is the St. Valentine's Day dance on February 14. Best get your duds pressed and latched on to your Rolla Valentine right away, for this will be one affair no one will want to miss.

To the graduating seniors, Earl Loucks, Bill Bishop, Robert Niewoehner, Lee McClary, Alan Beverage, George Kableisch, R. H. Walker, Paul Fullop and Joe Billy, all Lambda Chi's bid a tearful farewell. Do your best, fellows, and let's see who makes the first million.

Kappa Alpha

Kappa Alpha celebrated their eighty-second anniversary last Saturday night in the College Inn of the Edwin Long Hotel. The banquet also paid tribute to the spiritual founder of the fraternity, Robert E. Lee of Virginia whose birthday was January nineteenth. Although Kappa Alpha was founded at Washington and Lee College in December of 1865 the fraternity's founders day was moved up to January 19 so that Lee's birthday could be celebrated at the same time. Due to the fact that Kappa Alpha has confined its chapters to the southern part of the United States, most of the chapters can celebrate on a state holiday as most of the southern states observe Robert E. Lee's birthday with the same reverence as they observe Washington's.

Several special guests were present at the banquet, among whom was Wm. Taggart, Vice-President of the chapter alumni association, who gave the main speech of the evening. One of the chapter actives, Fred Springer, gave a short talk about the meaning of celebrating the nineteenth of January.

Joe Ryan was toastmaster for the evening and introduced the speakers. Besides the regular speakers, the chapter heard from the faculty advisor, Karl Moulder; recent alumnus, Larry Lambelet; and several pledges, Hank Schweder and Billy Brownward. Guests of the chapter were Max Kime, Danny Beffa, Jack Winter, and Bill Fairchild.

Music Notes

The Music Club schedules for its final meeting of the semester, on Sunday, January 25 at 7:30 p.m., a program of Moussorgsky, Mozart, Caruso, and Wagner. "Pictures at an Exhibition" by Moussorgsky, "Piano Concerto No. 21" by Mozart, and two operatic arias sung by Enrico Caruso, are the pieces to be played. The club will meet as usual at the home of J. C. Forbes, 808 State Street.

To the music lovers this meeting will be a cool oasis in the midst of that vast hot desert called "exam week." For about two hours he will have the opportunity to consume great draughts of a most delicious nectar, a most celestial nectar, a nectar with power to refresh the mind and renew the body. Never was there a wine more heady, nor a water more pure. All interested arabs are cordially invited to partake.

Following this Sunday's meeting the club will meet again the first Sunday evening after the beginning of the Spring Semester.

The Marriage Ring

by Virginia Van Kirk

Winter has clapped a grim fist about the miners' campus. Final exams and reports keep the precious and scarce midnight oil burning for hard-pressed husbands. Wives are beginning to wonder whether they will recognize their spouses when the week's grind is over and they reappear, with a sigh of relief, from behind that three feet high stack of books.

Social life has been reduced to the barest minimum, but a few items of interest are duly recorded here, nevertheless.

Becky Giltner celebrated her fifth birthday yesterday with a party for her young friends. Those who happily plastered themselves with birthday cake and ice cream were: Mary Beth Murney, Tommy Austin, Peggy Giltner, Carol Schoate, Jody Allen, Susan Schenck, Toni Raines, Janet Smith, Joey Wade, Genna Lee Hequemore, Sharon Van Amburg, and Ginny Van Kirk.

A farewell bridge party was given for Peg Austin at Jeanne Southwick's on Thursday evening.

Peg, Ruth Allen, Frances Col-lum, Emily Westmoreland, Pauline Smith, Kathleen Carr and Helen May were the Culbertson players who enjoyed Jean's after-game angelfood cake and coffee.

The cold weather seldom keeps Brothe Stork from making his rounds. . . . Jim and Pat Chaffin announce the arrival of a baby girl on Jan. 13. She was named Victoria Ann. Professor Samuel Lloyd, head of M.S.M.'s Humanities Dept., gave an interesting lecture to the convened Dames meeting last Thursday. Wives went home impressed with the necessity of teaching their offspring as much as possible of the American heritage, so that no makeshift of shoddy way of life can be palmed off on them as being more ideal than the American ideal of liberty, when they become adults. A thought which gives each of us parents a very grave responsibility.

Election of officers will be the large item on the program for the next meeting of the Dames' Workbasket group on Jan. 27, which will be held at Mary Soja's, 205 W. 11th. If you plan to attend call Grace Straub, 1097-J.

As I look back on what I have written here, I am convinced that a large part of the campus married population have been having bridge games, babies and what-not, and refusing to let the rest of the student population have access to some informative reading matter. I have thereby come to the conclusion that many of you must have "I-hate-to-talk-on-the-telephone" complexes and therefore respectfully suggest a penny postcard addressed to me, M.S.M. Apt. T-3, or even carrier pigeon, any method of communication which might strike your fancy, but please, as your press representative let me know of your activities.

Miners Take First League Loss Of Year From Mules

The Warrensburg Mules kicked the Miners into the losing bricks last Tuesday, giving the engineers their first league loss of the year. Warrensburg stepped off to an early lead and held it throughout the entire contest, being pressed only in the final period when the engineers came within two points of tying the score. The Miner rally failed, however, and the Mules bombarded the Rolla hoop with a volley of field goals in the last four minutes of the game, making the final score 59-47 in favor of the Warrensburg team.

Play throughout the game was rough, being marked by a total of thirty-three fouls; nineteen by the Miners, and fourteen by the Mules. The engineers were having difficulty in hitting the basket and defensively were under their usual standards, especially on pilfering or rebounds.

Bob Perry led the scoring for the evening, adding 19 points to his credit for the season, making a total of 111 points in eight games. Salmon and Branson shared honors for Warrensburg, sinking 15 points each.

Miner hopes suffered another blow this week when Bill Roark dropped from the cage squad. Bill, who has contributed much to Miner play this season, is transferring to Oklahoma and left the squad a few weeks early to concentrate on finals.

The cards for all those who have not turned in these charges on the 27th will be de-sectioned and they will have to take their chances on their schedules after that date. It is, therefore, important that all veterans, all state rehabilitation trainees and all V-5 students get these charges into the Business Office by January 27. This is not required of the civilian students. Forms for this purpose have been mailed to the students concerned as listed above. Several have been returned for lack of proper address, however. Those who have not received their forms should call for them at once at the Registrar's Office.

The large blanket forms for registration are available in the lobby of Parker Hall. Students may secure these and fill them out in advance which will materially speed their registration procedure.

PETE PERINO

The Miners split their opening conference games, losing one and winning one. There is still a good possibility that they may come out on top or very near the top. This column predicted several weeks ago 11 wins and 7 losses for the Miner quintet. To date they have won six and lost three. This still keeps me on good terms with my predictions.

The outstanding player of the week is "Poison" Pete Perino. This is Pete's second year on the varsity. To date he has shown himself thoroughly capable of handling the job. For his height which is 5'8" he has outjumped the tallest of them on the rebounds and jump balls. Pete's home town is Bend, Illinois. While attending High school there he lettered three years, being the captain of the team in his last year on the squad. Only nineteen years old, Pete is a sophomore here at MSM in the Electrical Engineering department.

He claims his favorite sport to be baseball. This past summer vacation he played for an independent semi-pro team in his hometown. Pete has two more years here and we are hoping to see him lead the Miners to a MIAA championship in the future.

STUDENT COUNCIL MINUTES

The regular meeting of the Student Council was called to order at 7:15 PM by President Harvey Leaver with 20 of the 22 members in attendance.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. W. Wundrack gave a report on the request for school financing of the Rollama pictures which resulted in a suggestion by the Dean to obtain funds by assessing various student organizations. No action was taken by the Council on this issue.

President Leaver gave a report on the loss of student housing by students leaving school for the summer and reported that the matter is being investigated by the school authorities.

Joe Hepp presented members of the Council with a condensed version of the Roberts' Rules of Order to facilitate correct conduct of Council meetings.

Bob Kahtz was elected to the St. Pat's Board of Control as representative of the Student Council.

President Leaver presented the program of a Religious Observance Week sponsored by the churches and ministers of Rolla who requested the Council's cooperation in the matter.

Jack Stadelhofer gave a report on the Dance Dates Committee. Provisions will henceforth be made to present a list of dance dates which will be published in the MISSOURI MINER.

INTRAMURAL Sports

The handball tournament got off to a slow start last week as pairings brought few of the old war horses of the handball courts together, and the same old warriors made short work of their opponents in the week's play. Most games played were extremely one-sided, giving promise of violent competition in the second round of competition when the winners meet.

Teams that will bear watching are the Jr-Sr. doubles (Berry and Stallman); Terrace doubles (Williams and Gollen); PIKA doubles (Wolfarth and Gollub); and the Sig Ep doubles (Roemer and Stone). In the singles Reiert of Sig Ep, Rhinehart of PIKA, and Doll of Chi Sigma promise to furnish most of the competition.

BASKETBALL

During the past week in the Cardinal league, there were several upsets which has made the race for first place a thing to be watched. The Triangles pulled two upsets over Jackling Terrace and Sigma Nu which currently were the teams to beat. The Jr-Sr. squad still holds the lead with five wins and no losses. All the other teams in this league have suffered defeats. On Monday of last week the Jr-Sr. ram-paged over the AEP's by a 39 to 11 score. Tuesday saw the Triangles upset Jackling Terrace 22 to 21. On the next night the Freshmen shaded the Triangles by a score of 29 to 28. The Frosh came through again tromping AEP for a 51 to 26 decision. On Thursday, the Triangles outplayed Sigma Nu to win by a score of 27 to 22. In a rough and tumble game on Friday the KA's pulled out of the bottom slot by defeating AEP 40 to 32.

Parks Air Bows To Miner Cagers Last Saturday

The Miners got their sixth win in nine tries by defeating the aggregation from Parks Air College 60 to 26. For the first ten minutes it was a nip and tuck affair with Parks leading 13 to 10 when they called their second time-out. A quick basket and free throw by Roark tied the game at 13 all. Two more free throws by Roark and Hughes set the Miners ahead 15 to 13. Breeze and Voiles came through after 16 minutes of play with two more baskets and the Miners surged ahead 20 to 14. Unnecessary fouls by the Miners gave Parks several charity points and Parks came within five points of the Miners. This was the closest they would be for the rest of the game. Two free throws just before halftime by Voiles and Perry put the Miners ahead 24 to 16.

A halftime rest is all the Miners needed. Coming out the second half the Miners quintet started to click like pros. Successive baskets by Perry, Jenkins and Breeze sent the Miners way ahead by a 34 to 18 score after seven minutes of play. Coach Hafeli sent in the substitutes and they settled down to neatly trounce the boys from Parks Air College. Neiderstadt, Henson and Baker stole the show dumping in 20 points in the remaining time. During ten minutes of play in the second half the Miners accounted for 23 points to Parks' 2. In the final three minutes of the game, Parks connected for three baskets making the final score 60 to 26, a decisive victory for M. S. M.

New Alloy, Mulholland Metal, Displayed At MSM Monday Night

"They were rolling in the aisles." "They were hanging from the rafters," are quotes that have been used in theatrical advertising since Shakespeare's first play was staged. If there were rafters to hang from in Parker Auditorium, or had been room in the humanity-packed aisles for rolling in the approved manner to take place, both could have been literally true last Monday night as MSM filled the place to overflowing and more to witness John Mulholland's performance in the field of illusion.

Mr. Mulholland's program opened with a few expertly-done but relatively simple handkerchief-sleights, proceeded through a number of card tricks, two of which were in defiance of any laws of logic, and wound up with the two-thousand-year-old ring trick with the original Oriental slant and the "Disappearing Bird Cage."

"Of course it's all a trick," said Mr. Mulholland in his opening remarks. "I talk a lot, being careful to explain everything I do in detail. When you see me do something that I have not mentioned that's where the trick comes in." In an interview after the show, Mr. Mulholland mentioned that his career had covered thirty-five years and forty-three countries. "That's really nothing, though," he added, "Look at Bob Ripley. He's been in a hundred and eight countries."

"However," he continued, "There was a slight difference. Ripley did the traveling and then worked after he got back home. I was working as I went, giving shows and studying other peoples' magic."

"You know," he said, "Magic is the one theatrical field that is the same in any country. Oh, there are different approaches, in the East it's presented on a mystical basis, quite different from the Occident. But all over, the same tricks get the same laughs in the same places."

"Language difficulties? Yes. I whip that by having an interpreter write words I need in my act phonetically and then memorizing them." About the ring-trick he recounted an anecdote about a stag dinner at which he performed it. "The dinner was attended by a number of scientists and industrialists who had been quite active in co-ordinating war production, quite a hard-headed bunch of men. I had tossed the rings around a bit when one of them spoke up, 'Mulholland take off your coat.' I removed my coat and performed the trick as I had before. 'Let's see them again.' He did everything to those rings but dissolve them in acid. His final remark, and I'll always remember it, was 'Steel just don't act that way.'"

No, steel don't act that way, except when Mulholland is holding the steel.

The first thing needed to make a dream come true is to wake up.

That's a pretty dress you have on. Yes. I wear it to teas. Whom?

She: I nearly fainted when the guy I was out with last night asked for a kiss.

He: Baby, you're going to die when you hear what I have to say.

A young wife was antagonized by her husband's going out at night. His departing words which especially angered her were always, "Good night, mother of two." She endured this until her nerves gave out and then one night he took his hat and coat and started for the door. He called back per usual, "Good night, mother of two." She cheerfully answered him, "Good night, father of one." Now he stays home.
