Independents Gala Hayride Plans Nearing Completion

At the Independents meeting Monday night, it was learned that the plans for the annual hayride were in the advanced stages.

If the plans made thus far are any indication of the final product, this year's hayride promises to be an affair that no Miner can afford to miss.

The schedule calls for a hayride which will terminate at a barn where a barn dance will be held. An appropriate form of refreshment will be served at the dance.

In order to provide for Miners whose dates will not arrive before the starting time of the hayride, the hay racks will return to the starting place to carry any late comers to the dance site.

So all you Miners watch for the posters that will appear on the campus, announcing in more detail this year's hayride which will top all previous ones.

Also at the meeting the minutes of the Student Council were discussed in order to provide the Independent body with information as to what is being done by the council.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

WELL FED THETA XI'S PLAN SPRINGFIELD TRIP

If anyone had walked into the Theta Xi house this past Saturday and saw all the boys walking around with their fingers crossed, they would have been quite puzzled. Their puzzled look would have turned to one of amazement when they found out that Dom Verive and John Salvaggi had taken on the task of cooking dinner for the boys, which was the cause of their worry. As it turned out, we had no reason for worry as all enjoyed a very fine Italian dinner. We most certainly congratulate John and Dom for a job well done. Maybe sometime in the near future we can induce them to prepare for us again a fine dinner of Italian meatballs and spaghetti.

The boys really got that eager beaver drive in them Saturday and began repairing the driveway near the house. Even Tom (big mouse) Walsh was in there pitching with the boys. A few extra lab periods and it will soon be in good shape.

The roaming casanovas, Jim Blank and Wally Ferguson, attended a dance at Washington University Saturday and a good time was had by all, even their dates.

There has been a mighty big question going around the house for the last month and as yet no one has been able to answer it. The big question is "Who polishes Hugh Saviolas' ring?" That is still a 64 dollar question.

Paula Fite, the St. Pat's queen of 1948, who was sponsored by Theta Xi, was recently a candidate for the Homecoming queen for the Springfield-Miner football game. We are sorry that you didn't get the title Paula. It would have been nice having our St. Pat's queen as homecoming queen. Now Paula has opened a date bureau and is attempting to get as many of the fellows at Theta Xi dates for the game and the dance.

The boys from the house are planning to go down to the game en masse and sure hope to

AIEE-IRE INITIATES LITERARY COMPETITION

The joint AIEE and IRE members were honored at their last meeting to have Mr. O. L. Luft, an Executive Assistant of the Union Electric Company of Missouri, as guest speaker. Mr. Luft spoke on the development of the Union Electric Company from its beginning in 1881 when an electric system consisted of individual generating stations serving 2 to 4 city blocks, to the present system consisting of 16 plants with a capacity output of 900,000 KW, serving 475,000 customers in an area covering 3,700 square miles. The system includes a variety of generating plants, from the hydro-electric plants at Keokuk, Iowa and Bagnell Dam at the Lake of the Ozarks, to the Cahokia plant which consumes 90 car loads of coal a day to operate its steam turbogenerators.

Two years ago, the Union Electric Company started on a $400,000,000 expansion program. Due to this expansion which will extend to 1962, Mr. Luft stated that job possibilities with the Union Electric Company were good at the present.

At the business meeting which followed Mr. Luft's talk, professor Skitek and Professor Skitek were elected faculty advisors for the current year. Bob Strain announced the student paper program for this coming year. Anyone writing a paper will have the assistance of the faculty and the school at his disposal. A contest will be held to choose the best paper. The winner will go to the District Convention of AIEE at Norman, Okla., in April with all expenses paid. Anyone interested should see Bob Strain. The meeting closed with the distribution of door prizes.

HUGH BERRY, MSM '25 ADDRESSES ACS MEETING

Alpha Chi Sigma had as their guest speaker Mr. Hugh Berry, BS ChE, MSM '25. Mr. Berry is now Sales Manager of the Asiatic Petroleum Corporation, a subsidiary of Shell Oil Company. His office is in New York City.

Mr. Berry gave a very interesting talk on analysis of crude oils. He stressed the fact that there are many different types of crude oil. Some of them are good for paving streets and at the other extreme you have those "crudes" that can be used "as is" for gasoline without any processing. Just put it in the tank of your car and drive off. Mr. Berry then told the group of some of his experiences in the oil industry and stressed the use of common sense in attacking your engineering problems.

Following the talk a business meeting was held. Final plans were made for our smoker November 15th. Sunday, November 6th, we will initiate our pledges into the deep, deep mysteries of the fraternity.

meet many more Miners at the game also. So this Saturday we journey with this thought in mind, "Beat Springfield and the conference is ours".

TOPOGRAPHY TOP TALK BY DR. DANIEL KENNEDY

The members of the American Society of Civil Engineers were honored at their meeting last Wednesday evening to have had as their speaker Dr. Daniel Kennedy, Regional Engineer of the U. S. Geological Survey. Dr. Kennedy received his B. S. in C. E. in 1926, and received his professional degree in C. E. in 1935, both from MSM. In 1949, MSM bestowed its highest honor and presented him with an honorary Doctor's Degree.

Dr. Kennedy gave a brief resume of the Organization of the Topographic Branch of the Geological Survey, also a brief inventory of the Survey's equipment was given in order that the members might grasp and understand the size of the organization.

Next Dr. Kennedy explained the preference of the title of Topographic Engineer which means that they are "Engineers," to the title of a Cartographer which includes geographers, etc.

He then emphasized the importance of the Topographic Map to construction. Listing and explaining each, he discussed their value, in highway location, flood control, the selection of dam sites, etc.

Dr. Kennedy was consulted as a Topographic Engineer by the National Research Committee to help select the site for the Atom Bomb Test.

In concluding this topic he stated that he believed that the importance of the Topographic Engineer was at last being realized in all fields of development and construction.

He next discussed the Kennedy Award of which he is the donor. He said that the purpose of this Award was to obtain better uses for the Topographic map and to obtain better methods of mapping. He stated that he was seeking new ideas no matter how fantastic they might be—within limits of course. He encouraged the members to enter and to try for this worthy award.

Next Dr. Kennedy discussed the obtaining of jobs and how one should measure a job. He stated that the most important factor in one's job is whether or not he likes the work. He stated that an adjustment could be made regarding hours, etc.—if the individual really liked the work that he was doing.

Dr. Kennedy voiced his opinion on the qualifications of the college graduate of today. He said that the most one can obtain by a four year education is that position of a ton journeyman. He emphasized the importance of the continuation of education after graduation. He stated that this could be done by reading and by maintaining active membership in Technical Societies, etc. He said that a man who gets ahead is not necessarily lucky; because this is not an adequate qualification for advancement. The man who gets ahead is the man who tries to improve himself and the man who tries to improve his job.

The meeting was then thrown open to questions and a general discussion period. In answer to the question of available jobs Dr. Kennedy stated that there are now 29 openings for Engineers in the U. S. Geological Survey—and he is hoping that these positions will be filled by Civil Graduates.

The meeting was adjourned and the discussion was continued, over the usual refreshments of pop and cookies.

The master of the keyboard, Alec Templeton, who will appear at Parker Hall tonight under the auspices of the Special Lectures Program.

B. S. U. HOLD STUDENT BREAKFAST THIS SUNDAY

Ten members of the Mo. School of Mines Baptist Student Union journeyed to Nevada, Missouri, last Friday afternoon to attend the Twenty-fifth annual B.S.U. Convention. More than three hundred Baptist students from all over the state were in attendance.

Convention personalities included Dr. Plunket Martin, Dr. Lofton Hudson, Dr. E. W. King, Dr. Frank Leavell, Warren Hultgren, Rev. Lee Sheppard, Rev. Ralph M. G. Smith, Claude Rhea, student missionaries, and many others.

Feature sessions were the keynote address given by Rev. M. G. Smith; conference periods; the Saturday night Youth Evangelistic service; and the Sunday morning dedication service, with the message being given by Dr. W. W. King.

The officers of the MSM student Union would like to introduce to the students the calendar of events for the coming month.

Oct. 30—Student Breakfast.
Nov. 4—Regular monthly meeting.

Nov. 18—Fall Banquet. Emphasis is placed upon the student breakfast which will be served this coming Sunday morning at 7:45, First Baptist Church. All Baptist students and their friends are cordially invited to attend.

"Colonel Drake"

Miss Marilee Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Drake of Rolla, who was named Honorary Cadet Colonel at the Military Ball held in Jackling Gym last Saturday night.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Come on Miners, let's practice up on those yells before the big jaunt to Springfield tomorrow. We'll meet right outside Parker Hall tonight—right after the Alec Templeton show. Then on to the bonfire and a little vocal spirit. Let's send the boys off right.

Let's Get Dramatic

Rehearsals are coming along fine and the Dramatics Club's earnest practice will result in the production of two plays this year.

"Yes, My Darling Daughter," is to be given the 17th, 18th, and 19th of November, while the second play, "January Thaw," has been scheduled for the 8th, 9th, and 10th of December.

Both plays are being directed by Mr. Carl E. Miles of the M. S. M. faculty.

At the last business meeting, held on October 19th, the reports of the Stage crew and treasurer were heard, and the cast for "Yes, My Darling Daughter" rehearsed. A motion picture was shown and the business meeting was suspended until after the plays were given.

The meeting was then adjourned for an enjoyable program. Refreshments of "Cokes" and home-made cookies were served, and records of Henry The V were played.

Townpeople, miners, and high-school students interested in dramatics and stage craft, are cordially invited to join the Dramatics Club.

STUDENTS SHUN BUSES FOR SPRINGFIELD TRIP

There will not be any special buses to Springfield because of the lack of a sufficient number of registrants; however, about 500 students are expected to attend the game. Most of this number will be traveling by car, with the remaining number "hitch-hiking."

Those students traveling by car will be carrying Miner banners and other appropriate material for a victory parade through Springfield.

The "student activity" card will be honored at Springfield. However, no seats have been reserved for the Miners.

It is hoped that the students attending the game will have a good time, but that they will conduct themselves in such a manner as to prevent the necessity of letters of apology, to the Springfield students.

General Lecture Series Presents Renowned Pianist

Tonight, October 28, at 8:30 p. m., in the auditorium of Parker Hall, Alec Templeton will present the first of the general Lecture Series for the 1949-50 school year. To anyone who has heard Mr. Templeton play, nothing more need be said. To those of you who have not heard Mr. Templeton play—come and be your own judge.

Alec Templeton (Alec is his full name and not an abbreviation), pianist, composer, and improviser extraordinary, was born in Cardiff, Wales. There he began his musical studies at an early age with Margaret Humphrey and, later, continued them at the London Academy of Music and the Royal College of Music.

A familiar figure on the American scene since he accompanied Jack Hylton, British bandleader and impresario, to this country in 1935 for a series of broadcasts for the Standard Oil Company, Templeton's concert career dates from his debut in Chicago's Orchestra Hall in 1936. In fact, he is more than a familiar figure, for on the day that Harvard's organist, E. Power Biggs, broadcast Templeton's Prelude, Variations, and Fugue on an old French hymn, a Gallup Poll survey of America's favorite people included Templeton among the only four entertainers in a list of fifty-odd notables.

What Is M.S.P.E.

Preamble

The Missouri School of Mines chapter of the Missouri Society of Professional Engineers, upon the recognition that service to the school, to the society and to the profession is the premise upon which individual opportunity must be built, does hereby dedicate itself to the promotion and protection of the student of the profession of engineering as a social influence vital to the affairs of the men and their community.

We are endeavoring to:

1. Encourage the unification of the engineering profession by:
- A. stimulating cooperation between student chapters of technical societies.
- B. affiliation with the M.S.P.E.
- C. promoting registration of graduate engineers.

2. Providing a medium through which the engineering student may voice his opinions on problems concerning the engineering profession as a whole.

MINER BOARD GETS NEW BLOOD IN NEW MEMBERS

Last Tuesday night, 14 tryouts were elected to the staff of the "Miner." These men served as tryouts during the spring semester of this year. It was necessary for those tryouts for the news staff to have twenty inches of copy printed per month. Tryouts for the Editorial Board, served as copy and proof readers for the semester; tryouts for the Business and Advertising Board were required to collect three advertisements per month; and finally, those tryouts for the Circulation Staff delivered the papers to the school, the fraternity houses, and mailed the "Miner" to the subscribing alumni.

The men elected to the News Staff are as follows: Dick Miller, Bob Schmidt, Charles Hewitt, Chan Smith, Harold Westover, and Bob Meyer. The other men elected, their respective boards will be announced at a later date, are as follows: Donald McCormack, Charles Hooker, Harry Fitzgibbons, William Shaw, Ivan Bounds, John Bruskotter, Harold Fidler, and Schlesing.

A young woman walking through the zoo was surprised to find the monkey house empty. Of an attendant, she inquired how come.

"Well, miss, this is the season when the monkeys remain in their little huts over there for several days."

"Will they come out if I offer them a peanut?"

"Well, now, I don't know about that. Would you?"

The Templeton programs—divided equally between performances of his beloved Debussy, Ravel, Rachmaninoff, his idol, and other standard composers, and informal improvisations, many of which have been recorded, such as "Mr. Bach Goes to Town"—have become familiar to millions of music lovers, and his concerts are much sought after attractions.

Composer-improviser Templeton has a more serious side, too. His absolute sincerity in both classic and popular forms has had interesting results. It has put Mr. Templeton into the unique position of gratifying every listening taste, which has its advantages. More important, it has had significant influence on the taste he gratifies. Purists who resent the mutilation of good music accept Templeton's impressions with enthusiasm, opening their hearts to the fact that music need not be ponderous to be "good." And swing fans who normally flee Mozart, find themselves absorbing authentic Mozart style as painless fun, and discovering that music need not be croony to be enjoyable.

Templeton's mission, it would seem, has been to wave the flag of truce between the two camps, thus facilitating the free flow of music. Commenting on this unique musical service, Dr. James Francis Cooke, editor of ETUDE and one of America's foremost musicologists says: "If ever an artist treated music as a human being, it is Templeton. His humor is never of the wise-cracking sort; entirely dignified, even scholarly, he simply realizes that music is one of the ingredients of living that make men rejoice. In demonstrating this belief, Mr. Templeton has done a great work in America."

Numerous works for piano, orchestra, and string quartets have already enriched our American musical field, and there are more to be published and performed. Versatility best describes Alec Templeton—versatility tempered with a thorough musical knowledge and training in all the varied aspects of the field, coupled with a singularly astute ear, has produced an incomparable and sincere artist.

In his comfortable Connecticut home, he indulges in his hobby—gardening—and plays endlessly for personal enjoyment his huge collection of records which runs the gamut from Sir Harry Lauder to Caruso. Or, as Mr. Templeton explains, "Everything from Bach to Be-Bop."

Students will be admitted by their activity cards. Non-students will be admitted for $1.00.

EDITORIAL

Those few who attended the Military Ball last Saturday enjoyed, for once, enough room in which to dance. In fact, they had more than enough room.

As convenient as this may be to the dancers, it detracts from the atmosphere of the affair, and moreso from the pockets of the S. A. M. E. Truly, this may be called nonco-operation of the student body, but it would seem that the soldier boys have only themselves to blame.

The dance, an annual affair, showed poor planning from start to finish. The advertising was little and late, and when it did come, no serious attempt was made to push sales. The main part of the program, the presentation of Miss Drake, seemed to the onlooker to be just a spur of the moment affair. The Army which has always thrived on pomp and ceremony certainly slipped up on that one. Miss Drake's entrance was accompanied by all the heraldry of a draftee's conscription into the AUS.

Experience is a tough teacher, but the boys now have a fair share of the best—the kind that cuts into the pocketbook. Next Year's affair should be an improvement.

SPRINGFIELD GAME
It was extremely kind of the faculty not to hand out negative hours to those students skipping class to attend the Springfield Football game.

The age-old question of school spirit is completely explained in this simple action. The letter published last week showed the pride held by a student who couldn't quite make the grade here. There remained no room for question of his loyalty. At the same time, the faculty gave its ruling that school spirit is all right if it doesn't interfere with the set pattern of their programs.

Well, that's all right. We came here to learn or else we'd have gone to some other school—such as Springfield, but let no man question Miner spirit again. The students just don't have the opportunity.

I'll have to say up 'til dawn every day next week, but I'll see you in Springfield—by the goal post.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

October 24, 1949

Dear Editor:

The purpose of this letter is to deny a rumor which originated last week concerning our breaking of a contract with the Military Department for the Military Ball last Saturday, October 22. The situation is this: As most of you know, last year our band played for the Military Ball as well as several other gym dances and numerous fraternity dances; however, this year the size of our band was reduced considerably for many reasons and the policy was adopted to reject all offers of dances to be held in the gym simply because we feel that the present size of the band would be unsuitable for dances in such a large ballroom. One of our aims in reducing the size of the band is to supply at a moderate expense adequate music for the house dances in particular. It should be understandable that a rumor such as the one mentioned above would be detrimental to any organization on the campus.

It is our sincere hope that those people planning relatively small dances will not hesitate to contact us in the future and that they may rest assured that our band will give as dependable service as it has for the past several years.

Sincerely yours,

The Marriage Ring

By Elsie Farrow

There's a flurry of activity around town and campus these days and MSM student couples are right in the thick of it. In addition to such routine business as attending classes, holding down jobs and keeping house and baby, most couples find time for some extra curricular doings and a little social life. Everyone talked to reported they had a fine time Saturday night at the Military Ball. Some of the couples seen there were Mr. and Mrs. David James, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Griesbaum, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eggenman, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schwab, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Heller . . . It would be wonderful if a lot of us could drive down to Springfield for the big game this week end with Springfield State. The Miners deserve a large crowd of home folks to cheer them on in this all important game. . . . A branch of the League of Women Voters which is now in the process of being organized in Rolla is certainly an interesting and worth while organization and no doubt many student wives would find it well worth looking in to. The League is a non political group which makes a study of good government. Tentative date set for the next meeting is Nov. 10 . . .

STORK STOPS

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Meuller, MSM Apartments, have announced the arrival of their third son and child, Jeffrey David, who made his appearance on Oct. 10. Jeffrey weighed seven pounds and seven ounces . . . It's a boy for Curtis and Kathleen Webster of Hugman Trailer Courts. He was born on Monday, Oct. 17 . . . Naomi and Richi McGee are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter on Wednesday, Oct. 12. The young lady weighed seven pounds and 11 ounces.

WORK BASKET

University Dames Work Basket meetings are growing bigger and better all the time. Mrs. Gilbert Crowell, MSM Apartments, was hostess for the last get together on Tuesday evening, Oct. 18, attended by 25 girls. After a bit of mending, crocheting, knitting and what have you, a brief business session ensued and delightful refreshments were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Madge Hollenbach, Highway 66, and any students wives wishing to attend should notify the president, Mrs. Betty Farrer, phone 349W.

BRIDGE 'N BANTER

Many bridge groups are in full swing now, the majority of them meeting every other week. Mrs. "Swede" Johnston, 202 West 10th Street, entertained her two table club last Thursday evening. A Halloween motif was carried out in the refreshments and colorful table coverings . . . Mrs. Dave Robinson was hostess to her Club

Tuesday. She served a luscious dessert of peaches and cream on angel cake with hot chocolate . . . Mrs. Irwin Schuene-meyer had the Sig Ep Club meeting at her apartment Monday evening. First prize was won by Mrs. Ethel Rausch.

WEEK END FLASHBACKS
Eloise and Tony Edgington, 906 Rolla Street, entertained George Day as a Sunday dinner guest. George's wife, Dot, and daughter, Cynthia, are visiting her parents, in Lebanon, Mo. . . . Jimmy and Dorothy Hall and daughter, Judy, spent the week end in East St. Louis . . . Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hay enjoyed some of Mrs. Joe Kallbrier's good cooking Saturday night at dinner . . . Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith and baby daughter, Edythe, visited their parents in Illinois over the week end.

University Dames

Chris Wagner and Georgia Robin of the University Dames exchange salutations at a recent tea held by that group.

Playing bridge together over at Mrs. Gene Warren's apartment Wednesday evening were Mrs. Joyce King, Mrs. Dolores Schuene-meyer, Mrs. Louise Clarke, Mrs. Bob Tindall, Mrs. Ollie Jorcke, Mrs. Betty Farrer, Mrs. Madge Evans, and the hostess. Last week Dottie had a dessert bridge for another club group. Her guests were Mrs. Bob Doelling, Mrs. Jerry Collbaugh, Miss Betty Morrison, Miss Mary Holmes, Miss Betty Boorman, Mrs. Eleanor Hart and Mrs. Charlotte O'Brien . . . The Warrens will spend the week end in Springfield, Mo., and of course will be on hand for the Miner football game. . . . Peggy and Bill Wenneborg were host to Pat and Roy Shourd Wednesday evening for dinner and pinochle afterwards. . . . Please telephone your news for the Marriage Ring to Elsie Farrow, 739J.

FRATERNITY WEEK HELD AT TRIANGLE HOWLING SUCCESS

Greetings people! No doubt everyone in town this past week, or from Wednesday to Saturday at least, saw a group of nine happy individuals who obviously didn't care how they looked when seen in public. In case you didn't know, that sadly attired aggregation was the latest pledge class to go through that "pledges" nightmare known as "Fraternity Week." By Saturday the boys were all in the best of spirits and could be heard uttering phrases of love and gratitude to all the activities for their part in making the week a howling success. In an interview with these "happy individuals" on Saturday morning, most of them were too overcome with emotion to voice their opinions. However, we are able to get a few choice words from Mr. Gene Edwards. With a lump in his throat he said, and I quote, "$%*X&'()!" As the quotes were also being very emotional that "happy" morning, many eager hands were available to steady poor Gene. Wooden "supports" were used in this "steadying process." Mr. Robert Stuecken, on the other hand, was not so emotional as was his unfortunate pledge brother. He merely stated, "You 34567890 — '$%*X&'()' gentlemen have indeed been kind to us, and it is my sincere hope that if I shall ever reign as a king that I can do as much to you (he meant "for" you)." At first he didn't appear shaky enough to need "supports," but it was pointed out by "the pledges' friend" Bob Merkle that his jaw was twitching and everyone knows that that is a sign of complete and utter fatigue and it was for this reason that Bob was "steadied" by the sure hands of the nearest 10 men.

Since "Fraternity Week" was the main item on the docket for this week's issue of "The News," I'll be saying so long again 'till next time. See ya.

A TIP TO THE AIRWICK SALESMEN, SIG EP, BILL ROEMMERMAN IN NEED

The Sig Ep football team, under the coaching of Al Hudson, has been doing very well this season. Al has really been doing a fine job and it's appreciated by all of us. We are also proud of the fine turnout we've been having at our games, everyone seems to come out and support the team.

Gene Lang from Arnold, Missouri, may be a good bar-keeper back home but Saturday night he seemed to lose touch with the spirits and also with his equilibrium.

Jack Stephens, who is graduating in January, is going to be missed by all of us. Jack has been doing a swell job as comptroller and has been one of the leading men in the fraternity as well as on the campus.

Harold Taylor and Bill Roemmerman have the most odorous room in the house. Harold was painting the room the other day and just a little too late he discovered that the paint had soured. The room now smells like a bunch of dirty socks have been deteriorating in the corner for the past year.

"He said that you were a sculptor but that you should wash more often." "Give his exact words." "Well, he said you were a dirty chiseler."

LAMBDA CHI STORY: ACTIVES WHIP PLEDGES

According to tradition here at the "Little Red Playhouse", the pledges of the fall class challenge the active chapter to a beer bust football game. Also, according to tradition, the actives accept and (naturally) beat the pledges. Thirdly, the tradition has it that this game is played in mud.

Far be it for the present members to defy tradition, so last Saturday, the active chapter walloped the pledges 15-0 as both teams wallowed in mud up to (in some cases) their ears. Of course for those who remained on their feet, the mud didn't get that high.

Afterwards, we returned to the house for some well earned refreshments. All in all, a fine time was had by all—at least until everyone woke up Sunday, stiff, bruised and sore.

THE ONLY BOLDNESS IS ON THE PART OF THE MAN WHO WEARS THEM

Syracuse, N. Y. (ACP)—One, two, three: CHEER. With arched eyebrows, which really make for a sophisticated Bronx cheer, women are turning the tables on the fashion-ridiculous males of 1949. Given their chance at last, femmes are getting their mockery in while the mocking is good.

She who laughs last—is probably she who had just read of the facts printed therein, the well-groomed man has degenerated into something you should only feed oats to.

A progressive haberdashers' movement decrees that the keynote of clothing purchases should be "rugged masculinity." This is further designated as the "lusty look." Step one in achieving a stylish lust is the introduction of large patch pockets. There ought to be four, at least, on coats, suits and jackets. Sex appeal now comes in tweeds, serges and gabardines.

Handstitched Sewing

The pocket fad is accentuated by the optional addition of handstitched sewing on coats and cuffs. This theme, say the fashion guilders, can be carried through with sewn gloves. This appears to be an inconsistency, in that it's about as rugged as a snuff box.

Cravats are to be crazier yet, and socks must have a bold design. Ankle-area embroidery is not frowned upon in the least. The man about town comes to look more and more like a needle-point mannequin.

A matter of great concern to the male fashion dictators is the fear that, in attempting to masculinize their clientele, they should not in any way make them uncomfortable. Perish forbid. The sultans of style, with emphatically thumping take measures, insist that rugged may be synonymous with comfortable. For instance, the materials selected for spring fashions are to be of softer texture. All the less to scrape against

Cigar's the Thing

Then, there is to be a marked prevalence of widespread collars. This might well be corrupted into plunging neckline for the hairy-chested. Summer shoes are going to be of even lighter weight than the lattice-work sandals of yesteryear.

But best of all is the final touch to this bizarre swing of '49. Absolutely indispensable in creating the all-out rugged "lusty look" is—a cigar. "It's the ultimate indication of the man who truly enjoys living," goes the justification.

If this is a preview of the Flushing Fifties, it looks as though the era to come will revolve about an anti-joe movement which has as its basic platform the abolition of white birds and pipes.

PERSHING RIFLES CRACK DRILL SQUAD ORGANIZED

The new drill squad of the Pershing Rifles took shape last Wednesday night and should take to the field any day. A drill instructor has been designated and plans are complete.

The program for next Wednesday, Nov. 2nd, includes a combat movie and a short resume of the results of the National Convention by our representative, Warren Johnson, with special emphasis placed on the matter of the reduction of inflation fees.

The Mining Engineer

I wish I had a barrel of rum and sugar three hundred pounds
The college bell to mix it in and clapper to stir it 'round.
Like every honest fellow, I take my whisky clear,
I'm a rambling wreck from Rolla Tech., a hell of an engineer.

Chorus:

A hell of a, hell of a hell of a, hell of an engineer,
A hell of a, hell of a hell of a, hell of a, hell of an engineer,
Like every honest fellow, I take my whisky clear,
I'm a rambling wreck from Rolla Tech., and a hell of an engineer.

And if I had a daughter, I'd dress her up in green,
I'd send her up to Springfield to coach the Drury team.
But if I had a son, sir, I'd tell what he'd do,
He would yell to hell with Drury like his daddy used to do.

Chorus:

He'd yell to hell with Drury like his daddy used to do,
He'd yell to hell with Drury like his daddy used to do,
But if I had a son, sir, I'd tell what he'd do,
He would yell to hell with Drury like his daddy used to do.

3.

Now here we have a mining man, in either hand a gun,
He is not afraid of anything, and he's never known to run,
He dearly loves his whisky, and he dearly loves his beer.
He's a shooting, fighting, dynamiting, mining engineer.

Chorus:

A shooting, fighting, dynamiting, mining engineer,
A shooting, fighting, dynamiting, mining engineer,
He dearly loves his whisky, and he dearly loves his beer.
He's a shooting, fighting, dynamiting, mining engineer.

If you want to gear the planets that revolve about the sun,
We'll do the job up nicely, and we'll only call it fun.
And if you want a bridge to Mars, or a ten-foot shaft to hell,
We're the engineers of a thousands years and we'll do the job right well.

Chorus:

The engineers of a thousand years, and we'll do the job right well.
The engineers of a thousand years, and we'll do the job right well.
And if you want a bridge to Mars, or a ten-foot shaft to hell,
We're the engineers of a thousand years and we'll do the job right well.

Seven New Words In Latest Webster Undergo Initiation

By Bob Shaughnessy

Students! Doing a term paper? Want to impress your professor? Why be half safe? Use Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary, out April 29. The G. and C. Merriam Company informs us that such words as athodyd, gammexane, hypertonic, napalm, sofar, and trifocal are now at your disposal. Of course, I don't know why you'd ever want to use such ridiculous words, but wouldn't it be super-peachy to embarrass your English teacher? Who knows? Some day they might be household words, then you'll wish you'd been the first to hold them in your house. Your friends will be impressed! You'll become popular. No cocktail party will be complete without you. Why Henry Morgan will be satirizing you in no time!

Parents! Want your children to grow up ignorant, like you? Get a copy of Webster's new dictionary and make them read a page a night. Of course, it really doesn't make very interesting reading, what with all the subplots, but it'll keep the little savages busy. And don't forget, they make valuable door stops, the dictionaries that is, not the children. But enough of this. Let us look at the practical angle of learning all the new words. Suppose you're having lunch with a cute little thing and she asks whether your gammexane is as thodyd or hypertonic? Won't you feel like a goon if you don't know? Why man, this might ruin your whole life! And haven't you ever been just a little embarrassed when ordering lobster crouton at your favorite bistro and not knowing whether you prefer napalm or viral in the sauce? It's a problem!

And now, the definitions of these strange new words:

gammexane—a sorority sister of Gamma Gamma Gamma.

hypertonic—a tonic with a kick. napalm—a palm tree with a "na." sofar—a popular song by Rogers and Hammerstein.

trifocal—a slogan of the Focal Tooth Paste company that originated in their singing commercial, "Try Focal, it's dandy for your dentures."

viral—a combination of virile and vital, meaning listless.

athodyd—a dead athode.

Putting all these in one sentence we get: When a viral gammexane meets a hypertonic athodyd under a napalm you can bet they have heard of trifocal and sofar.

ODE TO A BORROWER

I think that I shall never see
The dollar that I loaned to thee,
A dollar that I could have spent,
For varied forms of merriment,
The one I loaned to you so gladly,
The one that I now need so badly,
For whose return I had great hope,
Just like an optimistic dope;
For dollars loaned to folks like thee,
Are not returned to fools like me.
