MRHA Places First Ugly Men Aid Underprivileged Children

Because of the efforts of about 4,000 University of Missouri-Rolla students, underprivileged children in Phelps County now have at least $8,106.23 to use for medical operations which they could not ordinarily afford.

UMR volunteers from campus organizations have been working since December to collect money to go for operations for underprivileged children in Phelps County. Students from various campus groups, working under the coordination of the Theta Tau professional engineering fraternity, competed to make the most money for the project. They held out cans on street corners for donations, raffled off giant stuffed animals in the Student Union, sold candy bars to students in the dorms, washed cars and held chili suppers. Student groups nominated representatives to compete in the Ugly Man Contest—a for-fun competition with the winners being determined by the group obtaining the most money overall and the group obtaining the most money per man for the project. Winners are Ron Gaus of the Men's Residence Halls Association from Kirkwood, and Rich Herbst of Tau Kappa Epsilon, from Jennings. In short, students fairly outdid themselves to get the public to give to the project. Which it did.

The Men's Residence Halls Association came out on top with the most money collected. The group turned in $3,112.26 for the project. Next in most money collected came the Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity with $1,167.40 and then the Kappa Sigma social fraternity with $1,042.47.

The group which collected the most money per man was Tau Kappa Epsilon with $15.50. Next in this category came Kappa Sigma with $12.14 per man and the Sigma Tau Gamma social fraternity with $8.25 each.

All money is now in the UMR Ugly Man Fund. Students are asking county health authorities and public school officials to refer underprivileged children who need medical attention and who can't afford it, to this fund. Coordinating the entire program is Theta Tau.

Student Council Voices Opinion On Campus Violence

RESOLUTION
PASSED MAY 5, 1970
BY UMR STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council of the University of Missouri-Rolla would like to go on record as opposing any and all acts of violence in connection with the activities at Kent State University and the expression of opinion concerning President Nixon's actions in Southeast Asia. We feel that acts of violence do nothing to create good will and settle differences which is what we feel is most needed in these extremely troubled times.

Furthermore, we wholeheartedly oppose the acts of both students and National Guardsmen which we have witnessed this past week. We would hope that students would non-violently air their opinions, and that all police and National Guard troops would exercise extreme restraint in all matters connected with student dissent.

We will not resolve to support either student dissenters or the National Guardsmen or defend or attack President Nixon's policies in Southeast Asia in our role as a student government. But we do publicly announce our support of the expression of opinions either popular or unpopular, as long as these opinions are expressed in a nonviolent manner on the National Day of Dissent, Friday, May 8th.

Tentative Plans Are Released For Centennial Party Weekend

The Centennial Party Weekend Committee has released some of the tentative plans for next year's "colossal" Centennial Party Weekend.

The weekend, September 18-19, is being fashioned around UMR's 100th year of existence, and because this weekend concerns all, the various activities and functions of the weekend will be handled and organized by the various organizations. It is because of this that student participation during the weekend is encouraged and any student may help with ideas, suggestions or man-power by going through any one of a number of organizations.

There will be the election of a Centennial Queen and Court which will be handled by the Student Union Board. Besides organizational candidates, Rolla co-eds will be eligible for the title. The Student Union Board will also plan pre-game and half-time activities of the UMR-Washington University football game to be played on September to kickoff the Miners season.

There will also be the selection of Father Time and Ten Decades which is to be

13 UMR Organizations Honored For Efforts In Inner Cities

A total of 13 University of Missouri-Rolla student organizations were honored for their work in the St. Louis inner city Tuesday, May 12 when Richard Fulton of the St. Louis Junior Chamber of Commerce presented plaques to the organizations at the spring banquet meeting of the Gamma Alpha Delta service fraternity.

Nine social fraternities received plaques for their work in creating three vest pocket parks in St. Louis. The mini-parks are all located near St. Louis Avenue, south of Easton, and will be used this summer by residents of the Tandy area. Students planned the parks, helped demolish old buildings, were involved in all stages of construction, set out trees and shrubs and installed equipment. The project was funded by the Office of Economic Opportunity and was coordinated by the Neighborhood Corporation.

Four organizations received plaques for continuing their award winning home rehabilitation project. "Operation Assist," the St. Louis project, received recognition from the Junior Chamber of Commerce on local, state and national levels last fall. The project had as its goal bringing all homes in a St. Louis city block up to city building code standards and involving students in urban problems. The project was sponsored this year by the St. Louis Jaycees, the Danforth Foundation and People, Inc. Students helped in electrical wiring, painting, carpentry work plumbing and general cleanup.

Fulton and Elmer Hammonds, president of the Pruitt-Igoe Neighborhood Advisory Council, presented awards to UMR students early in January who participated in the Pruitt-Igoe emergency relief project.

Student organizations that were honored are: Lambda Chi

Alpha, Triangle, Pi Kappa Alpha, Beta Sigma Psi, Alpha Epsilon Pi, Phi Kappa Theta, Acacia, Theta Xi, Pi Kappa Phi and Kappa Alpha social fraternities, the Wesley Foundation, the Thomas Jef-erson Hall, and the Men's Residence Halls Association.

Coordinating the banquet was the Rev. Fred Lamar of the United Ministries in Higher Education at UMR.

Leone-"Independent" Man Of The Year"

Jack Leone was named by a board of eleven advisors as the "Independent Man of the Year." The recipient of this award, one of the highest awards of recognition at UMR, is chosen by the eleven advisors of the six eating clubs, GDI, MRHA, and Thomas Jefferson Residence Hall. It is awarded to the Independent who has done the most for the Independents and for the university during the past year.

Jack, whose list of activities, offices and organizations would fill forty stone tablets, has been perhaps the most active man on this campus. Highlights of his past year include his role as President of the Student Council; the reactivation of the Student Publications Board; the Final Exam Referendum; the rewriting of the Student Council constitution; the initiation of a "student-voted" fee increase to finance the upcoming University Center; and being named to Who's Who in American Colleges. Without a doubt, Jack has served UMR very well.

Jack, known to many of his friends as "Cadillac Jack", is much more than a list of accomplishments. He is a true Miner as evidenced by his goatee, jeans and sweatshirt; and he believes that along with his list of organizations should be included the Johnson Stud House (now the Heller Home) and the 200 Club.

Any Independent is eligible for the award upon application, and this year's recipient has, by far, outclassed the others. Congratulations Jack for being the Independent Man of the Year. The Miner need not cite any more of your accomplishments among your years at UMR. You, those who worked with you, the faculty and the student body know what you have done, and... "much obliged."

Need For UMR Blood Bank

One of the world's greatest medical achievements is the use of the blood of one human being to save the life of another. The American Red Cross supplies over half the blood needed in the United States. The students at UMR are in the Rolla Red Cross Blood Chapter, and their access to blood in an emergency is dependent upon the blood drives in Rolla. For all UMR students to have access to blood whenever and wherever they need it, the campus must make sure the Rolla Red Cross Blood Chapter donates its quota of blood.

The city of Rolla in the past has not participated actively in the giving of blood. To protect the interests of the Miners, the Miners must give, and give in quantity. Organizations such as A.P.O. and the I.C.C. have had blood drives in the past and have had good results. Their drives covered parts of the school; now the whole school must be included in the blood donation program.

Plans are now being laid to sponsor two school blood drives, one each semester. The drives will be two day events with scheduled blood donations by students. The Red Cross will have enough equipment, nurses, and helpers on hand to take every unit of blood our campus can donate.

To coordinate the two blood drives, representatives from the organizations that have had blood drives in the past, plus representatives of all living and eating organizations have formed the UMR Red Cross Blood Committee. This committee will unite all campus organizations by centralizing direction through interested representatives to conduct campus wide blood drives.

PUBLICITY AND COORDINATION FOR THE BLOOD DRIVES WILL BE CHanneled THROUGH EXISTING ORGANIZATIONS.

"Harper"

As Lew Harper, Paul Newman stages a one-man campaign to bring legitimate melodrama back to films by playing a private-eye straight and with believability. Lew Harper is just an ordinary Joe whose success is based on brain power not trickery. His deductions are logical which permits audience identification. He's a man not superman. Movie Daily cited "Harper" one of the ten best pictures of the year with Paul Newman taking top honors for a performance by a male star and Julie Harris being picked as top actress in a supporting role.

Blue Key Men Of The Month

Terry Ward has been honored by Blue Key Fraternity as the Man of the Month for April. Terry, a Physics major from North Kansas City High School in Kansas City, Missouri, is a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity here at UMR. He has served Delta Sigma Phi as Vice-President and Rush Chairman.

Terry's campus leadership experience includes Vice-President and Editor of Blue Key, President of Sigma Pi Sigma, Treasurer and Secretary of Intercollegiate Knights, Sgt.-at-Arms of Alpha Phi Omega, Vice-President of Phi Eta Sigma, and Vice-President of the Society of Physics Students. In addition, Terry is a member of Tau Beta Pi, Student Union Special Events Committee, and Phi Kappa Phi.

Scholarship has not been neglected in Terry's career at UMR; has maintained a 3.25 grade average. He is a University Scholar, has received the Delta Sigma Phi Pledge Scholarship, and has been on the Dean's List six times.

Blue Key is honored to announce May's Man-of-the-Month, Carm Moehle from Tau Kappa Epsilon. Carm, who is graduating this semester, has indeed been one of UMR's outstanding leaders for the past four years. He is a Civil Engineering major from St. Louis County, where he attended Maplewood High School.

Terry Ward

Carm has served Tau Kappa Epsilon as Pledge Trainer, Rush Chairman, Secretary, and Chaplin; he finished third in Intramural Man of the Year balloting and has been a key to TKE's recent rise in intramurals. His work on the Interfraternity Council has resulted in a new summer rush system for UMR, and he served the past spring semester as IFC President. He was the UMR delegate to the National IFC Convention, and was elected to serve as one of the Gods for Greek Week 1970.

Carm has been active in several organizations; he has been a member of Alpha Phi Omega, AIAA, Theta Tau, ASCE, the Rugby Club, and served Blue Key as Alumni Secretary. He has also been on the Dean's List several times, received a Missouri Curator's Award and finished his college career with the dubious honor of St. Pat's Knighthood.

Final Exam Policies

The faculty met and voted on the final exam policies which appeared in an early referendum of the students. The verdict was that A and B students could be exempt from finals on the instructor's discretion. Also, it was passed that a student would not have to take more than two finals in one day.

The idea of having the week before final exam week as a week free of tests, did not pass. The policy of a student being exempt from having to take more than three finals in two days did not pass.

Missouri Association of Student Governments

A meeting of delegates from various schools in the Missouri-Kansas areas representing over 50,000 students was recently held. The purpose of this convention was to establish an organization of campuses to deal with crises which may arise on them. To the dismay of the UMR delegates, the convention had "too much politicking" and many small schools felt the pinch from the larger UMC, UMKC and CMSC. It is the feeling of the UMR Student Council that unless there are some drastic changes, UMR will withdraw from the Missouri Association of Student Governments.

ETCETERA
The Student Council selected its advisors for the 1970-71 school year. The advisors are Dr. Carlile, Dr. Atchley and Dr. Wixson.

The Missouri legislature approved up to $4.5 million for a new Chemistry and Chemical Engineering building for UMR.

Centennial Weekend

handled through Blue Key. Because the method of selection has not been decided, suggestions and ideas are welcome from any student.

An outing is to be held Friday, September 18, at Lyon's Club Park for UMR students, alumni, faculty and dates with activities and food being planned. This will be taken care of through the IFC and the ICC.

The gala Centennial Parade is to be organized by the experts of such affairs -- the St. Pat's Board.

One of the highlights of the weekend will be an outdoor Rock Festival. Though the site of the fest is yet to be decided, the group to appear will be along the lines of the Three Dog Night, Fifth Dimension, Sly and the Family Stone, etc. This will be handled by the General Lectures Committee and GDI.

Centennial Weekend has been planned to be the "party weekend of all party weekends." However, this is one time in which its success depends entirely upon the whole of the campus. This weekend is to honor no particular individual or holiday, but to honor the University--and the University is the students. Most of the work thus far has been in planning phases and the bulk of the work needs to be done upon the beginning of the next school year. Any and all interested people are urged to help and can be going through any one of the aforementioned organizations. This will be up to the students, and though it is late in the year, it is not too late to help. Next year will be the critical period though.

UMR Day

UMR Bands Delight Crowds At Zoo

Members of the UMR bands demonstrated Saturday and Sunday how they could delight hundreds of young and old alike with the music they so excellently presented at the Saint Louis zoo. Selections of both lively and soothing music were played as zoo-goers stood around, keeping time to the music.

The bands presented their selections confidently and smoothly. The response from the audience throughout both days was warm and friendly.

The casual atmosphere that these UMR students demonstrated was well received.

One could not help but wander over to the central area of the zoo where the bands were playing. Gathered around were people of all ages enjoying the music. Especially gratifying was to see how the older people reacted. Many were sitting around, listening intently, with broad smiles. After the concerts, applause and congratulations flowed. One felt proud to be a student at UMR.

Miners See Cubs Slip Past Cards

More than 1000 Miners, UMR faculty members and alumnae watched the Chicago Cubs slip by the Cardinals 3 to 2 in an afternoon game last Saturday. The event was UMR day, and the Cardinals were helping to celebrate UMR's 100th anniversary.

Prior to the game a brief history and introduction of UMR was read aloud to the crowd. Dr. Baker presented an award to the Saint Louis Baseball Cardinals Organization and, in turn, was presented a plaque from the club. He accepted the award, which praised UMR for its contributions to the Saint Louis area, for the university.

To get the game underway,

Dr. Baker delivered the first two pitches to the President of the UMR Student Body. Acting as catcher was Cardinals' manager Red Schoenings.

This Year And Next

With the school year drawing rapidly to a close and everyone looking forward to the summer, the Miner staff would like to express their sincere thanks to all those who have helped in producing the Miner this year. We have enjoyed working with everyone and have tried to provide ample coverage of campus activities, but with this being the last issue of the Miner for this academic year, we will have to wait until the fall to continue in our endeavors.

The Miner has had several problems this past year and at times we were unable to produce a paper. Our main problem was trying to overcome a financial deficit left from the year before. We have solved this problem, however, and look forward to a great fall semester.

Several new undergrads have joined the staff for the 1970-71 school year, and we hope that their new ideas, along with the ideas of the experienced members of the staff will bring you a better newspaper next year. We are looking forward to a year with better coverage of activities on and off campus, a greater response to our editorials and letters to the editor, better circulation, and much more regularity in the size and quality of your campus newspaper.

Retraction . . .

The Missouri Miner staff would like to apologize to the College Young Democrats of UMR for a slight oversight printed in the previous issue of the Miner. In the May 13, 1970 issue of the Miner it was stated that the lunch-hour protest carried on at UMR was organized by the College Young Democrats. We have been informed by the president of that organization that they were not officially involved in the demonstration. We are sorry for our mistake, but we like to know if they weren't involved in the demonstration, just what do they do?

Democrats Change Budget

While the Democrats like to talk about "national priorities" as a smokescreen to cover the fact that they switched our economy from peaceful pursuits to war spending, the Nixon Administration has taken direct steps to move our Federal finances into solving the problems involving people here at home. A look at the Fiscal 1970 and 1971 budgets shows how President Nixon is trimming military spending and putting more emphasis on domestic programs. The data below shows how the two budgets compare (figures exclude $45 billion in Social Security and highway funds which do not come from income taxes). Per $100 of income tax funds, expenditures will be:

	1970	1971
National Defense	$48.90	$45.67
International affairs and finance	2.53	2.24
Space research and technology	2.39	2.12
Agriculture and rural development	3.93	3.32
Natural resources	1.53	1.55
Commerce and transportation	3.08	2.72
Community development and housing	1.87	2.34
Education and manpower	4.64	5.05
Health	8.16	9.28

Our Man Hoppe Odds Favor Uncle Sam

Great news! New York City, which can't make ends meet on its cut from the new State lottery, is going to open a string of bookie joints.

Mayor Lindsay figures the city's take from the now-legal off-track betting will run $200 million a year.

Here's another giant stride toward the only conceivable solution to the Nation's fiscal crises--nationalizing organized crime.

Once Mayor Lindsay gets a taste of the fat profits flowing in from his bookie joints, there's no question but he'll take over the numbers racket. And why not? Playing the numbers is no more sinful than playing the numbers.

Naturally there have been protests from such organizations as the churches and the Mafia.

"The Mayor's muscling in on our territory," growls Three-Fingers Jack Daniels, chairman of The Wednesday Evening Christian Fellowship & Bingo Social.

But, as the well-known mobster stoolie, Chicken Cacciatore, puts it with a shrug, "You can't fight City Hall."

The next step, of course, is taking over the millions of dollars that now go to disreputable types from prostitution. This may require Federal Aid.

Envision, if you will, a vast Sexicare program. A Bordello Construction Program, funded by loans from the Department of Health, Education & Welfare, would do wonders for impacted areas. They could well be staffed by conscripts from VISTA through a draft lottery.

Objections will be raised. But if the Government can conscript the bodies of young men for the welfare of the taxpayers, it can certainly peddle the bodies of young ladies for the same purpose.

Dope peddling poses problems. But in Britain, the Government's been doing it for years. All that needs be done to make a tidy profit is to hike the price to what the traffic will bear. And seeing that many states now peddle the drug called alcohol through State liquor stores, there's no reason they can't peddle the drug called marijuana, too. It would double revenues.

Purse-snatching and stickups by Government men are more easily justified. Some would call this robbery. I think of it as taxation. After all, the definition of robbery is taking your money by force or the threat of force. You know, like the IRS does.

Personally, though, I'd draw the line at having paid Government agents rub out innocent people. There just isn't enough money in an operation like that to justify the costs. Look at Vietnam.

So hats off to Mayor Lindsay. It's a small step for the taxpayer, but a giant step toward nationalizing organized crime. And there's enough billions in that to balance every governmental budget in the land. And cut taxes, too.

True, the outcries will mount. "We can't have our Government engaged in organized gambling, pandering, dope peddling, robbery and murder," the foes of progress will shout.

Nonsense. It's solely because these long-established functions of government are so disorganized that we taxpayers are losing our shirts.

Student Forum

Dear Sir:

I am a loyal, patriotic American citizen who happens to feel that the wars in Southeast Asia and IndoChina are both morally and politically wrong. Last Friday I LET PEOPLE KNOW MY OPINION BY PARTICIPATING IN THE PROTEST MARCH. This is what I saw: most of the students at UMR were rather amused, may I say I don't see anything funny in either war or repression. I did expect opposition and we certainly did get it. Our aim was not to tear down the flag as was inferred by the people sitting around it. We made a written request that it be lowered to halfmast, which was denied.

I think what lowered the esteem of my opponents was their plentiful use of profanities. By calling us queers, faggots, and comunists, they revealed their ignorance of the real issues. If I may site an example of this: A friend and I were walking down the center sidewalk with our signs after the march had ended, when a student snatched my friend's sign, and tore it up. He answered our questions of "why" with nothing but profanities. We picked up the litter from the ground. I would like to publicly challenge that student to explain his motives.

threats and obscenities did not come from any of the marchers.

My congratulations to the UMR students in the effective and dignified manner that they handled the demonstration Fri. May 8th.

Sir:

I would like to publicly thank all those who took part in Friday's Anti-War Demonstration in a peaceful way. Restraint was shown on both sides, despite a few "ungentlemanly" remarks from some observers. It is regrettable, however, that some people misconstrued the purpose and intents of the demonstrators. I refer to the persistent rumor that some of the marchers had planned on forcibly lowering the flag to half-mast. There was no such move planned, nor was there sentiment for such confrontation. Had the flag been "unguarded" it would have remained untouched. The petition presented in the Chancellor's Office requested that the flag be lowered to half-mast "in honor of the dead and dying of Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos, and Kent State." There was no distinction made as to friend or foe. Dead people are dead people -- not capitalists or communists. The petition is now going through "channels" and we hope that the administration will deal in good faith with the demonstrators, as the demonstrators have dealt in good faith with the administration.

Peace,
Bill Murphy

Good Times, Bad Times

By Dick Stanley

Once upon a time, back in the old country, there lived a group of peasants called Whozits. Now these Whozits were at the same time big and powerful, yet kind and democratic. At least that's what they said. And, as all Whozits knew, one Whozit alone may lie, but 200,000,000 Whozits couldn't.

The Whozits were opposed in the world by another large group called the Wezits. The Whatzits being divided into two distinct groups known as the Wezits and the Theyzits. The Theyzits looked much like the Whozits, but they had a somewhat different outlook on life. The Whozits viewed these Theyzits as possible friends and often attempted to bargain with them at various points around the world. Nothing ever seemed to come of these meetings, but everyone was happy due to the fact that at least the Theyzits were willing to bargain even if nothing ever came of it. However, the Wezits were another story.

In the first place, the Wezits were smaller than the Whozits. Add this to the fact that the Wezits were of a different color, plus there being three or four times as many of them as Whozits, and you have 200,000,000 confused Whozits. And, as every Whozit knew, you couldn't trust anything you couldn't understand. Thus every time the Wezits would move into some area which didn't belong to them, the Whozits would be infuriated and would send in great armies to put the Wezits down. This worked well the first time as the Whozits pushed the Wezits back where they belonged within three years. But the second time, oh that second time, the Whozits just couldn't seem to push the Wezits back, and the fight dragged on for eight years. After this long period of time the Whozits naturally became perturbed because, as every Whozit knew, if you couldn't get what you wanted within eight years, it just wasn't worth getting. Therefore, all the Whozits were for forgetting the little skirmish and letting the Wezits have that little bit of land. So within two more years, the Wezits controlled that area.

During this time the Theyzits had been secretly planning and had been moving troops into another area of the world where there had been a clash going on between two minor groups. In these two years the Theyzits had helped one group to conquer the other. But this didn't worry the Whozits a bit as they knew the Theyzits were basically good. And even when the Theyzits took control of that entire continent, the Whozits were not worried.

Shortly after this, the Wezits began taking another parcel of land, and then another, and soon they too controlled a new continent. But, the Whozits didn't want another ten years of fighting and therefore decided to leave the Wezits alone.

After another fifty years had elapsed, the Wezits and Theyzits controlled all but one group of peoples, they being the Whozits. Now the Whozits began worrying. But, it was too late as the Theyzits fooled them and conquered them when they weren't looking. This relieved many Whozits because, as every Whozit knew, it was better to be killed by a Theyzit than a Wezit, as they were nicer.

We need not be worried however, because, as every American knows, history never repeats itself.

Chuck LaJeunesse Letter to the Students

May 7, 1970

Dear fellow students,

What do you need? (other than more women in Rolla, of course!) Is there any thing that's really bothering you in respect to your studies, the faculty or the administration? If so, perhaps we, your Student Council, can assist you. And, I might add, if your gripes are sensible and well established, there is probably something we can do about it.

As I look over this past year, I can see well that it has been a year of progress. A new constitution, which allows fairer representation, a revision of final exam policies, and a very successful series of general lectures are just a few of the many constructive activities of the 1969-70 Student Council.

Looking ahead, the year to come shows even more promise, particularly because during it will be the heart of our Centennial activity. Our plans include a Centennial Party Weekend (Sept. 18-19), a Centennial Free University to take place over semester break, a proposed change in traffic safety regulations, an investigation into our health services, proposed changes in many academic regulations (for example: doing away with the 6 week drop rule), and many others. Of course, our input is limited, and any suggested activities will be appreciated. Either contact your Student Council Representative or visit the Council's office (201 Student Union).

In closing, allow me to encourage your participation in our upcoming Centennial Activities. Our Centennial Party Weekend will be only as successful as you make it. We'll have the biggest-named rock group UMR's ever seen; we'll have a Centennial Parade and a Centennial Queen; and we'll have an outing that will surpass any outing to this date. I sincerely hope you can be there!

Sincerely,
Chuck LaJeunesse
President-UMR Student Council

ICC Elects Officers

At their April 28th meeting, the Inter Co-op Council elected the following people to office for the 1970-71 school year: President, Neil Book-Campus Club; Vice-president, Rick Overturf-Engineer's Club; Secretary, Charlie Alkemeyer-59ers; Treasurer, Herb Schnyder-Prospector's Club; Executive Committeeman, Dean Park-Shamrock Club. Mr. Lou Moss will serve as advisor.

ICC sponsored two track meets for mentally retarded children, one on May 12th at Jefferson City and one May 14th at Jackling Field, Rolla. Fifty-one children from Fulton, Eldon, Montgomery City, Jefferson City and Linn attended the Jefferson City meet and forty-two from Salem, Rolla, and Fort Leonard Wood were present at the Jackling Field meet. Events were held in the 5-yard dash, softball throw and standing broad jump. Ribbons were presented to every child and each school received a trophy.

State school officials were present at the Jefferson City meet and commented on finding UMR students doing the work instead of the teachers--a pleasant surprise since they expected a different type of protest from college students. Members of the Council and Engineer's Club, Shamrock Club, Tech Club, 59er's Club, Campus Club, and Prospector's Club helped in making these events a big success.

Pershing Rifles Win Match At Columbia

Pershing Rifles CO-7 Exhibition Drill Platoon left Saturday, May 9, for Columbia, Missouri to participate in the annual University of Missouri Invitational Drill Meet. Competition was held at Brewer Field.

The Marching Mizzou began the ceremonies by playing the national anthem at the unfurling of the colors preceding the competition. Units from large high schools, small colleges and the Universities performed in their respective divisions.

Once again the UMR Pershing Rifle team dominated competition and won first place with their crowning moment being the fact that they received a standing ovation for their "March of Death."

Drill units also performed standard drill in addition to their exhibition sequences. Joe Borchardt accepted the first place trophy as drill master, in the ceremonies following the competition.
